This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

To the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese of New-York, now assembled in Convention:

My advancing age, and the present urgent necessity for devoting myself to other fields of useful labors, from which I cannot conscientiously retire, compel me now and hereby to resign my seat and duties as one of your Lay Deputies in the General Convention of the Church.

I need hardly add, that the long continued and often repeated proofs of your confidence and regard in electing me successively for the six last terms of office of three years each, will ever be gratefully remembered.

I shall cheerfully unite with you in electing any successor, able and willing, while maintaining, unimpaired and undivided, the paramount authority of the General Convention, to fully preserve the constitutional safeguards for keeping "pure and undefiled," and free from foreign admixture or interpolation, the ever-precious Book of Common Prayer, inherited from our ancestral land, and consecrated by the piety and wisdom of our fathers.

SAMUEL B. RUGGLES.

NEW-YORK, September 26, 1877.

On motion of S. P. Nash, Esq., it was then

Resolved, That this Convention cannot receive the declinature just offered as implying any doubt as to the right of this Convention to proceed to elect Deputies to the places which the last Convention failed to fill; but, viewing it as an announcement that the Hon. Mr. Ruggles declines to be a candidate for re-election, the Convention receives it with regret, bearing in mind the long and faithful services of their Deputy, and the ability with which he has represented this Diocese in the General Council of the Church.

On motion of the Hon. Hamilton Fish, it was Resolved, That when the Order of Business for the election of the Standing Committee and other elections be reached, the Convention will proceed to elect Deputies to the General Convention, to the places which were not filled at the last Convention.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That this Convention has heard, with sorrow, of the death yesterday of Hamilton Bruce, Esq., for many years a member of the Missionary Committee of this Diocese, and records its esteem for his character, and its appreciation of his long and faithful services in that office.

The Convention proceeded to the election of the Standing Committee, the Missionary Committee of the Diocese, two Clerical Deputies and one Lay Deputy to the General Convention.

The names of the Clergy were called by the Secretary, and of the Churches by the Assistant Secretary. The members having deposited their ballots, the Tellers retired to count the votes.

The Bishop of the Diocese then delivered his

ANNUAL ADDRESS.

On motion of the Secretary, it was Ordered, That this Convention, feeling, with the Bishop, what he has just said respecting the death of the Rev. Wm. A. McVickar, D. D., directs a copy of that part of the Episcopal Address to be sent to the congregation of Christ Church, New-York, and to the family of the departed, as a mark of our respect for his memory and our sympathy in their bereavement.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That the Clergy of the Diocese in charge of Parishes be and hereby are requested by this Convention to read to their congregations, on the next annual Thanksgiving Day, or on the Sunday preceding, so much of the Bishop's Address as relates to the Fund of the Diocese of New-York for the Relief of Aged and Infirm Clergymen.

Ordered, That a copy of this Resolution and such portion of the Bishop's Address be transmitted, prior to that period, to the Parochial Clergy of the Diocese.

On motion of the Rev. Alfred B. Beach, D. D., the Convention proceeded to the consideration of the report made last year, (Journal, 1876, pp. 54, 55,) by a Special Committee appointed in 1875, upon the proposed changes in the Constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States.

Whereupon, on motion of the same, the Resolution recommended by the Committee was adopted, as follows:

Resolved, That, in the opinion of this Convention, the change proposed to be made in Article VIII. of the Constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, giving power to the General Convention, from time to time, to amend the Lectionary, is inexpedient.

On motion of the same from said Committee, it was Resolved, That, in the opinion of this Convention, the change proposed to be made in Article V. of the Constitution, and providing for setting off a portion of the territory of an organized Diocese for a Missionary jurisdiction, is inexpedient.

The Rev. Dr. Beach, from the same Committee, offered the following Resolution:

Resolved, That, in the opinion of this Convention, the change proposed to be made in Article VIII. of the Constitution, by adding to it the Proviso, "that the General Convention may, by Canon, arrange and set forth a shortened form of Morning and Evening Prayer, to be compiled wholly from the Book of Common Prayer," is inexpedient.

The Rev. Henry C. Potter, D. D., moved as an amendment, to insert after the word "Resolved," the following:

"That while this Convention is not insensible to the demand for a shortened form of Morning and Evening Prayer, 'the proposed change,' etc."

This amendment was adopted.

The resolution was then passed, as follows:

Resolved, That, while this Convention is not insensible to the demand for a shortened form of Morning and Evening Prayer, in its opinion the proposed change to be made in Article VIII. of the Constitution, by Providing, "that the General Convention may, by Canon, arrange and set forth a shortened form of Morning and Evening Prayer, to be compiled wholly from the Book of Common Prayer," is inexpedient.

The Convention proceeded to the election of the Trustees of the Fund for the Relief of Aged and Infirm Clergymen.

TRUSTEES OF THE AGED AND INFIRM CLERGY FUND.

CYRUS CURTISS, Esq.,
WILLIAM BETTS, Esq.,
EDWARD F. DE LANCEY, Esq.

The Secretary of the Convention presented the following Report:

Report

OF THE SECRETARY OF THE CONVENTION.

The Secretary of the Convention begs leave respectfully to report

That he has complied with the order of the last Convention respecting the printing and distribution of the Journal of its Proceedings. In obedience to the Canon, he has recorded in the proper Register the certificates of the reception of Clergymen into the Diocese by the Bishop, and of the settlement of Clergymen in cures within it, as these Papers have been sent to him during the past year.

He begs leave to inform the Convention that the edition of the Constitution and Canons of the Church in this Diocese, printed in 1872, and placed for distribution in his care, is almost exhausted; and that there are frequent demands for a supply from those who find copies important to the proper discharge of their duties. Some order for a new edition appears, therefore, to be important.

The Collection of Journals from other Dioceses and belonging to this Convention has, during the year, been further enlarged. Together with the several series of the Journals of the Proceedings of the Convention of this Diocese, it remains, by kind permission, in the Library of the General Theological Seminary. Since the last appropriation, made for the purpose of binding such Journals into volumes, their number, together with that of the copies of our own Journal reserved for files, has so increased as to make another order for binding desirable, in order to their preservation. He ventures respectfully to suggest that an appropriation for this purpose be made by the Convention.

From the Convention of the Diocese of Long Island he has received a copy of a Resolution, passed by that body, respecting attempts to alter the Acts of Incorporation of the Churches in this State without approval of the majority of the Dioceses in the State of New-York. He presents it, together with this Report, to the Convention.

All which is respectfully submitted.

WILLIAM E. EIGENBRODT,
Secretary of the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New-York.

NEW-YORK, September 25, 1877.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That the Committee on Canons be directed to publish a new edition of the Constitution and Canons of this Diocese, together with such Forms of Procedure and parts of State Laws as may be deemed expedient; and that the cost be paid out of moneys in the Diocesan Fund by the Treasurer of the Convention.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Swope, it was Resolved, That the Secretary be authorized to take order for binding the Journals belonging to this Convention, which have accumulated since the last appropriation made for this purpose, and that the expenses be paid out of the Diocesan Fund by the Treasurer of the Convention.

The Communication from the Diocese of Long Island, to which reference was made in the Secretary's Report, was received, read, and ordered to be placed upon the Journal.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE DIOCESE OF LONG ISLAND.

BROOKLYN, May 16th, 1877.

To the Rev. WILLIAM E. EIGENBRODT, D. D.,
Secretary of the Diocese of New-York:

This is to certify, that at a meeting of the Convention of the Diocese of Long Island, held on the sixteenth of May, 1877, the following Resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Legislature of the State be requested not to pass any bill amending the General Religious Incorporation Acts, so far as they specially affect the Protestant Episcopal Church, which has not previously received the approval of the Conventions of at least a majority of the five Dioceses in this State.

Resolved, That the Secretary of this body transmit a copy of the Resolution just adopted to the Secretaries of the several Dioceses in the State of New-York.

Attest: T. STAFFORD DROWNE,
Secretary of the Diocese of Long Island.

Whereupon, on motion of Charles Tracy, Esq., it was Resolved, That the Convention of the Diocese of New-York concurs in the request made to the Legislature of the State by the Convention of the Diocese of Long Island, not to pass any bill amending the General Religious Incorporation Acts, so far as they specially affect the Protestant Episcopal Church, if it has not the approval of the Conventions of at least a majority of the five Dioceses in this State.

The Report of the Missionary Committee of the Diocese was presented and read by the Rev. Cornelius E. Swope, D. D.:

Report

OF THE MISSIONARY COMMITTEE OF THE DIOCESE OF NEW-YORK.

The Missionary Committee of the Diocese begs leave to report, that the number of Missionary Stations at the present time is 39. The number of Missionaries employed is 34.

It will be seen from the Report of the Treasurer, that at the beginning of the current year, there was a small balance in the Treasury, amounting to $67 89.

Since that time the receipts from all sources have been $6,550 32, making the gross amount available for the uses of the Committee, $6,618 21.

The expenditures of the past year have been $6,194 71, leaving, on the 1st of October next ensuing, a deficit in the Treasury of $1,200.

It is with regret, not unmingled with surprise, that your Committee is obliged to present so unfavorable a report of its financial condition. In the present depressed state of affairs in the business interests of the community, and at a time when all the various organizations of the Church, for Missionary and Charitable purposes, are more or less embarrassed by a want of means for the proper prosecution of their work, it might be supposed that your Committee should expect nothing less than a falling off in its available resources. But a careful examination of the Parochial list of the Diocese, and a candid admission of the fact, that out of nearly two hundred Parishes, more than one-half contribute absolutely nothing for the cause of Diocesan Missions, compel the reluctant conviction, that the cause of the present unsatisfactory condition of the Treasury of your Committee is to be found in something other than the general depression of affairs in the business world. That cause, we are unwillingly forced to believe, lies almost wholly in the inadequate appreciation of the importance of the work of Diocesan Missions, which so largely prevails among the Clergy and people of the Diocese, and in the apathy and want of interest to which that mistaken notion naturally gives rise.

If the Rectors of the various Parishes would only manifest an interest in the work of Missions in the Diocese, such as that work requires and deserves, and if the people generally would second the efforts of the Clergy by making even moderate offerings in its behalf, in accordance with the requirements of the Canon, your Committee is confident that the funds necessary for the successful prosecution of its labors would be amply supplied.

In all other respects, the Committee is happy to report, that the interests entrusted to its hands are in a most encouraging condition. The Missionaries now employed are earnest, faithful and successful men, and the work they are doing in a quiet, unobtrusive way, is, in every respect, thoroughly satisfactory. We trust, therefore, that in the coming year an increased interest may be manifested in this important branch of Church work, and that at the next Convention, instead of a deficiency, we may be able to report a balance in the hands of the Treasurer.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The Report of the Education Committee was presented and read by the Rev. George F. Seymour, D. D.:

Report

OF THE SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING RELIGION AND LEARNING IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

The Superintendent of the Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New-York, as the Canonical agent of the Diocese of New-York for distributing all funds for Theological Education, respectfully submits the following report:

That during the Convention year, from October 1, 1876, to October 1, 1877, in discharging the duty which it has been commissioned to perform by the Canons, the Society has received and distributed the following sums:

Received by the Treasurer from the Diocese of New-York, from October 1, 1876, to October 1, 1877,.....	$845 32
Received from other Dioceses during the same time,.....	379 78
Total amounts received,.....	$1,225 10

This entire amount has been devoted to the objects for which it was bestowed.

The work of the Society is done when it has received and judiciously distributed the money placed in its hands in aid of Theological Education. It is no part of its business to urge the people to give, or to move the Rectors of Parishes to make collections within their cures. A Canon of the Diocese was doubtless passed with a view to cover this ground; it enjoins all the Clergy, who have charge of congregations, to present an annual offering in behalf of candidates for Holy Orders. Inasmuch as every one, when ordained, binds himself by solemn promise to obey the Canons, it was reasonably supposed that nothing further would be necessary than the enacting such a law. Strict compliance with its provisions would follow, as a matter of course, because it rested as a moral obligation upon the consciences of those who are, of all others, presumably the most keenly sensitive to the claims of duty. Naught remained but to arrange for a wise and economical distribution of the funds thus gathered, from year to year, among those for whom the bounty was designed. The Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New-York, an independent organization, incorporated by Charter so long ago as 1802, was asked to assume the responsibility, and discharge, in behalf of the Convention, this important trust. The Trustees readily and gladly consented, and, since 1842, (thirty-five years,) they have sustained this interesting and useful relation to the Diocese. The advantages resulting are manifold, and all, as they should be, in favor of the cause which the Society lives and labors to sustain. In the first place, the expense of collection and distribution is entirely borne by the Society. This is a consideration of grave importance; there is not an outlay of thirty or forty per cent. in conveying the offerings from the hands of the cheerful givers to those of the grateful recipients; when it is clearly understood, it must produce a very discouraging effect upon the liberality of the people, if it be true that perhaps full half of all that they contribute goes, not to those for whose benefit it is bestowed, but to pay the salaries and commissions of officers and agents; on the other hand, it must operate as a strong incentive to generosity in giving, if it be known that the entire amount which is gathered for an object is scrupulously applied to it without the diminution of a single farthing. This is the first of many advantages which the Diocese of New-York reaps from its connection with the Society for Promoting Religion and Learning. Another is the great care and judgment which are exercised in the distribution of the funds entrusted to its treasury. The character and claims of all applicants for aid are thoroughly investigated before appropriations are made. And the consequence has been, that scarcely an instance has occurred wherein the beneficiary, who has been assisted by the contributions of the Diocese, has disappointed the expectations of his friends, and proved unworthy of confidence. Still another advantage is the entire freedom from all low, narrow and partisan considerations with which the fund is administered. No distinction has ever been allowed even to suggest itself in bestowing a scholarship, other than that which is implied by the questions, Is the applicant deserving? does he really stand in need of help? Still another advantage which accrues to the Diocese by this Association, and the last which will be mentioned, is the absence of all undue publicity in the management of the fund. The quiet way in which the Society pursues its round of duty obviates, to a great degree, the objection which, in the minds of many, may be justly urged against attempts from without to aid with money those who are looking forward to Holy Orders. The fear is entertained, that such inducements become a sort of bribe to draw to the ministry persons who otherwise would find their place in secular pursuits, and who, therefore, are not primarily influenced by that motive, which alone should decide the question whether a man is called to the sacred vocation or not, namely, the glory of God and the edification of His Church. Such are a few of the advantages which accrue to the Diocese of New-York from the co-operation of the Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the management of the fund for Theological Education. The duty of the Society, as was said before, begins and ends with the distribution of the money placed in its hands. To exceed this is clearly a work of supererogation, and yet the reports of the Superintendent in past years have, it is to be apprehended, with scarcely an exception, gone beyond their province, and attempted to urge the claims of the Theological Education Fund upon the sympathies and liberality of churchmen. The Canon manifestly does not accomplish the purpose for which it was enacted, since, out of 194 Churches and Chapels in the Diocese of New-York, during the Convention year 1875-76, contributions for the Theological Education Fund were received from only 27. This surprising fact is simply stated; it is left for the Convention, if it deem it worth while, to seek to suggest a remedy for such apparent apathy and neglect.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEORGE F. SEYMOUR,
Superintendent of the Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New-York.

The Trustees have not been able to sell the premises on Madison-street, and on Broadway, Brooklyn, bought in a foreclosure of mortgages, owing to the existing stagnation in real estate.

They have, however, been successful in renting them, and all have been occupied since the first of May by paying tenants. It is hoped that they may be disposed of during the coming year.

The number of stipendiaries has been decreased during the past year by two deaths.

Two other Clergymen have been added to the list. The present number is eleven.

Special appropriations have also been made in six cases.

The Report of the Standing Committee on the General Theological Seminary was presented and read:

Report

OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

The Standing Committee on the General Theological Seminary respectfully report:

That during the past year the Seminary has continued to enjoy peace and internal prosperity, and has carried on with efficiency the work of training candidates for the Sacred Ministry, while, at the same time, it has suffered severe losses in consequence of the general depression of finances and trade, so that its income is seriously diminished, and a heavy deficit may be looked for during the current year. This must be supplied by drawing on the capital of the Institution, unless it be made up by the contributions of the Alumni and other friends of the Seminary, and by the liberal offerings of Parishes throughout the Church.

At the last annual meeting of the Board of Trustees, important amendments to the Constitution of the Seminary were considered and agreed to by that Body. These must be submitted to the General Convention for its approval, upon receiving which, they will become law. Your Committee respectfully suggests, that the Delegates to the General Convention from this Diocese be requested to give special attention to this subject, and to do all in their power to see that the action of the Board receive the careful and deliberate consideration of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, in view of the importance of securing a more efficient administration of the Seminary through its Governing Board, and of the value of that Institution to the Church.

In compliance with the terms of the resolution adopted yesterday by this Convention, your Committee report as follows, upon the subject of Trustees:

The number of Trustees to which, by the Constitution of the Seminary, this Diocese is entitled, appears to be 68.

The Diocese, as such, is entitled to	1
The number of Clergy is 309; the ratio of one Trustee to every eight Clergymen gives	38
The whole amount of money contributed by the Diocese is $259,864 74; the ratio of one Trustee for every $2,000 up to $10,000, gives .	5
One Trustee for every $10,000 above that sum gives	24
Total of Trustees, ...	68

Of the present Board of Trustees, thirty-five Clergymen have served during the last three years, and are believed to be willing to serve; one, though he has served, is not resident in the Diocese. Your Committee, accordingly, report the following names as those of persons suitable to be nominated to the General Convention, as Trustees of the Diocese of New-York, viz.:

Rev. John Brown, D. D.

The Rev. Henry C. Duncan, although heretofore an efficient and interested member of the Board, is believed to be ineligible, as he is not a resident of this Diocese.

Two of the Clerical Trustees have not attended any meeting of the Board for three years past, and are believed to be unwilling to serve.

Your Committee therefore recommend for nomination, in addition to the names already reported, the following, viz.:

The Rev. William J. Seabury, D. D., Charles and Elizabeth Ludlow Professor of Ecclesiastical Polity and Law in the General Theological Seminary.
The Rev. John N. Galleher, D. D., rector of Zion Church, in the City of New-York.

Resolved, That the Rectors of Parishes throughout this Diocese be requested to make a collection at some time during the current year, in aid of the Seminary.

All which is respectfully submitted.

The Standing Committee on the Diocesan Fund respectfully recommend to the Convention the adoption of the following Resolutions, viz.:

Resolved, That there be paid to the Clergy attending the Convention, who reside more than twenty miles from the place of meeting, and whose Parishes have contributed to the Fund, as required by the Canon, ten cents for every mile of the distance from their respective Parishes; and that the remainder be appropriated to paying for the printing of the Journal of the Convention, the Canonical, customary and prescribed expenses of the Diocese, and the extra assessments of the General Convention.

NEW-YORK, September 27, 1877.

The Resolutions recommended in this Report were adopted.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That the Committee on the Diocesan Fund is hereby directed to appropriate, from moneys in said Fund, to each Clergyman, who shall act as Deputy from this Diocese to the next General Convention, a sum sufficient to defray his necessary and actual expenses; the amount in any one case not to exceed one hundred and fifty dollars.

The Rev. Dr. Potter, from the Committee on Canons, called up the Resolution recommended by the Committee at the last Convention for amending Canon XIV., on the Diocesan Fund, and laid over for the action of this Convention, (see pp. 56 and 57, Journal, 1876,) and proposing to add, after the words "two per cent. on the amount of the salary of the Clergyman," these words, "unless it shall be otherwise ordered by a preceding Convention."

The Rev. Dr. Potter moved that the Resolution be adopted.

The vote was taken by orders, viva voce.

Whereupon it was declared, That the Resolution was adopted by a concurrent vote, and that the Section 1, of Canon XIV., was and is altered accordingly, so as to read:

CANON XIV.

Of the Diocesan Fund.

Sec. 1. Whereas, it is indispensable to provide a fund for defraying the necessary expenses of the Convention, and particularly the expenses of those of the Clergy who may have to travel from a distance to the Convention; it is hereby required of every congregation in this Diocese to pay to the Treasurer of the Convention, on or before the day of its annual meeting, a contribution of not less than two per cent. on the amount of the salary of its Clergyman; unless it shall be otherwise ordered by a preceding Convention. Which fund shall, &c.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Galleher, it was Ordered, That the contribution to be required for the Conventional year 1877–78, to be made by every congregation to the Diocesan Fund, be an amount not less than one per cent. on the amount of the salary of its Clergyman.

The Report of the Trustees of the Sands' Fund was presented and read:

The Trustees of the Sands' Fund respectfully report:

And there has been paid, during the same period, to the Bishop, for the purposes of the Fund,..... $90 00

The principal has not been invested on bond and mortgage, owing to the fact that no property heretofore offered has seemed to the Trustees to meet the requirements of the trust under which they act.

The Report of the Special Committee, appointed by the last Convention, (see pp. 109, 110, Journal, 1876,) on the expediency of incorporation of Trustees of the Estate and Property of the Diocese, was presented and read by the Secretary, as follows:

Report

OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON INCORPORATING TRUSTEES FOR THE ESTATE AND PROPERTY OF THE DIOCESE.

To the Convention of the Diocese of New-York:

The Special Committee, appointed at the last Convention to consider and report on the expediency of forming a Body Corporate, under the Act of the Legislature of the State of New-York, passed April 11, 1876, being Chapter 110 of the Laws of 1876, and supplemental to the Act for the Incorporation of Religious Societies, as printed on pages 109 and 110 of the last Journal of the Convention, respectfully report:

That, having considered this new act, they think that the interests of religion in this Diocese may be promoted by the Convention if it will avail itself of the provisions of that law. It seems to meet a want that has sometimes confronted persons desiring to do good in certain ways, but unable to find the hands, convenient and responsible, into which they might place their benefactions safely in trust for the intended objects. For example: In the beginning of a Parish in a sparse population, it is hard, from lack of Churchmen in the place, to form a vestry that can take and hold land, buildings and movables which may be provided, with any prospect of a sure preservation of the property in the future for the purpose for which it would be given. Moreover, vestries, when formed under the general law for incorporating churches, are not legally capable of being Trustees of funds for all religious, educational and charitable objects; and when made recipients of gifts for some of those ends, they cannot be practically held responsible for their administration, and may sometimes yield to the temptation to borrow, incumber, mortgage or sell, and thus occasion the loss or perversion of the trust fund. This new law, however, provides a way whereby what is given for churches, schools, mission houses, sisterhoods, hospitals and other benevolent institutions and endowments, can be so taken and held that the donor may have confidence that his gift may be preserved safely for the use for which it was bestowed. Whatever may be placed according to this law, will become the property of the Trustees of the whole Diocese, holding their offices at the pleasure of the Convention, and be held in trust so as not to be diverted from its specific object, and will be protected and managed by a corporate Board, created by and responsible to the Convention. With such care and management as may be expected to result from this plan, Christian beneficence, instead of being apprehensive of a frustration of its efforts, may find inducement and encouragement to action.

By special Acts of the Legislature, this Convention, it is true, already has, for special purposes, several corporations which are responsible to it; such as the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, the Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, the Missionary Committee of the Diocese and the Trustees of the Sands' Fund. With no one of these would a Body incorporated under this new law necessarily interfere. It would not impair the powers of those existing bodies, nor trench upon the property or duties belonging to them. There are important objects for which property may be given that none of those existing bodies can take in charge, according to the particular acts by which they are incorporated. Any such property, however, bestowed for a religious, educational, benevolent or charitable purpose connected with the Convention, or any part of the Church in the Diocese over which it has jurisdiction, can be taken and held under this law, in corporate form, by Trustees chosen by the Convention, and thus constitute a trust fund for parish or institution, as destined by the donors, without danger of incumbrances being imposed upon it by careless, reckless, negligent or unwise internal management, and subject to the eye of the whole Diocese through its annual Convention.

Your Committee, therefore, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Convention will proceed to elect nine Trustees to take charge of the estate and property belonging thereto, and to transact all affairs relating to the temporalities thereof, in pursuance of the Act of the Legislature of the State of New-York, passed April 11, 1876, and known as Chapter 110 of the Laws of 1876; and that the Bishop of this Diocese be and he hereby is elected one of said Trustees, to hold office so long as he shall continue to be such Bishop; and that the residue of said Trustees shall hold their offices as follows: two for one year, two for two years, two for three years and two for four years; and that at each future annual Diocesan Convention there shall be elected successors to the outgoing Trustees for a term of four years, and also a Trustee to fill any existing vacancy for the residue of an unexpired term; but all the Trustees shall hold their offices subject to such power and authority of the Convention as is provided for by said act; and that every Trustee shall continue in office until his successor is elected; and that the name and style by which the said Trustees and their successors shall be known, shall be "The Trustees of the Estate and Property of the Diocesan Convention of New-York;" and that said Trustees shall not assume or exercise any of the powers or duties, or take any estate or property now or hereafter pertaining or belonging to, or vested in or held by any other incorporated body legally connected with the Convention, or charged with the care of any fund connected therewith; and that all elections of Trustees, other than the Bishop of the Diocese, shall be by ballot, unless balloting be dispensed with by unanimous consent.

The Report of the New-York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society was presented and read by the Rev. Curtiss T. Woodruff:

Report

OF THE NEW-YORK PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CITY MISSION SOCIETY.

The Executive Committee of the New-York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society respectfully report:

That while the work in which they are engaged has been steadily increasing, the means to carry it on successfully have not increased in the same proportion. The Committee regret to be compelled to say, that the reasonable expectations raised by the success of the previous year, have not been realized.

Attention was specially called to the great fact, that the Society had for once paid its expenses from the annual income, and your Committee endeavored to give significance to this fact by inviting the people to join with them in a public Thanksgiving to Almighty God for this marked benefit, and in united prayer that He would open the eyes of His people to see, and their hearts to feel, their personal responsibility, and their purses, to make this success permanent, and thus place the Society in a position of assured means to meet the demands of the present and of an enlarging work.

Your Committee, however, did not think it prudent to take up any new work, nor to restore things to the condition before the reduction last year. No; not even to make up the ten per cent. taken from the salaries of the Missionaries; they simply tried to make the present year like the last, so as to be able to say to this Convention and to the public, "we have, by God's blessing, and the thoughtful liberality of the Church, paid our expenses from the annual income a second year." But all the prudence and sagacity of our Treasurer and of the best business men among us, could make a much lessened income meet the same current expenses.

The success of last year in which every one rejoiced, instead of being a powerful stimulus to contribute the same amount, or more, for this year, seemed to lead people to feel that because the Society, so long afflicted with chronic debt, had become convalescent, it needed no further care and treatment, and would get sound and vigorous as a matter of course. The receipts fell off about $4,000 as a consequence, and the Summer found your Committee, with the patrons of the Society, away, with suffering and destitution increasing, and a treasury almost empty.

Determined, if possible, to keep the expenses within the income, your Committee cut down the work at St. Barnabas' by largely reducing the force of workers, and diminishing the free meals at the rate of 5,000 per month.

The deficiency was so large, however, that in spite of all their efforts, they come before you with a small floating debt, and with hearts any thing but jubilant.

And yet the work which your Committee have in charge, when you think of its direct and indirect influences for varied good, is greater and wider and more potential than any other in the city—the special work of seeking out and ministering to the neglected and the lost, where the Master sought them—in the by-ways, the Bethesdas, the huts of the poor, and in the great eddy of poverty, that swirls its murky tide of woe beside the strong current of human life, surging on, and on, unmindful of the suffering and want that cries unceasingly for help.

But this Society can never be what it was designed to be, and fitted to do, till it is taken up and conscientiously sustained by the Church as the great work of the Church.

The record for the past year is a glorious one, as the following summary will show:

1,935 public and 152 private services, with an aggregate attendance of 118,400 persons; 27 persons confirmed; Holy Communion administered to an aggregate of 3,207 individuals; 261 children and 12 adults baptised; 136 bodies received for burial; an average of 104 children and 12 teachers in St. Barnabas' Sunday School, and 55 children and 3 teachers in Bethlehem Chapel; an average of 37 children in the Day School in St. Barnabas' House and Day Nursery; an average of 190 girls in the Industrial School held in St. Barnabas' Chapel and Free Reading Room; an average of 60 women supplied with sewing, weekly, by the St. Barnabas' Industrial Association; a nightly average of 23 boys and young men in St. Barnabas' Free Reading Room; 2,314 families and 29,202 individuals visited, and more or less assisted and instructed by the Missionaries and Sisters in tenement houses and institutions; books drawn from the libraries on Blackwell's Island, 14,461 times and 20,803 papers and magazines distributed; from the "Gilbert Library" in the Tombs, 4,013 times, and 2,107 magazines distributed; in the other institutions papers are distributed irregularly by different individuals, and no record is made. The demand for reading matter has been increasing through the year, and its excellent influence is more and more manifest. Our people are only just beginning to appreciate the good that can be done in this quiet way, and we hope that books and magazines and papers will continue to be sent, so that the supply may equal the demand.

St. Barnabas' House has been over-crowded the whole year. Many women have been refused admittance because the beds were all full, and as many lying on the floor as the Sisters dared put into the rooms. 1,681 women and children were admitted and cared for in St. Barnabas' House, and 178 children admitted to the Day Nursery, making a total of 1,859. Notwithstanding the reduction, 22,147 free lodgings, and 172,815 free meals were furnished, being an increase of 875 lodgings and 32,746 meals over last year. This is an average of over 60 lodgings and 473 meals every day of the year. Many institutions would think they were doing a noble work if they only equaled the yearly increase of St. Barnabas' House.

During the last eleven years, since it was opened, the House has received and assisted 20,618 women and children, furnished 203,849 free lodgings and 973,026 free meals, which is a yearly average, for the whole time, of 1,874 women and children, 18,500 lodgings and 88,457 meals.

This is the Christian work that is suffered to languish and be curtailed for the want of money, which is cramped for room to accomplish what is done, and prohibited from enlarging to meet the necessities of the poor! May God help us! and give us such favor in the eyes of His people that we may be able to "succor, help and comfort" all whom we find in prison, "in danger, necessity and tribulation," and to "provide for the fatherless children and widows," and those who are "desolate and oppressed," to the glory of His great name, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

OF

THE BISHOP OF NEW-YORK.

My Brethren of the Clergy and of the Laity:

After another year of earnest labor and care in the service of our Lord, we are met once more in our annual Convention, to make our reports of work in the Church, to present, as far as we may, a faithful representation of life, of progress, of present blessings and trials, and to consider what we can do, with the divine assistance, to maintain our spiritual Household in a healthy condition, and to promote its efficiency in ministering to the souls of men. God most merciful be with us and bless us, and help us with grace and wisdom to see our responsibility and our duty, and to do all things needful in a Christian spirit.

My dear Brethren, on looking back through the varied and complex labors of the year, my visits to parishes in the city and to parishes in the country, my conferences with the Clergy and with the faithful Laity also, with reference to new and trying aspects of their work, my journey through strange scenes, my often sorrowing with those whom I found in trouble, and my many happy occasions for rejoicing with those who were in joy over domestic comforts or over unlooked-for spiritual blessing,—I say, when I look back over all these scenes of labor and care, the first thought that strikes me is the utter impossibility of presenting to you any adequate picture, either of my own Episcopal experience, or of the actual life, experience and status of the Diocese. Statistics may be given, and they ought to be, for they are required by the law of the Church, and are essential as lights and helps in carrying on the Church's work. General statements may be made in respect to Episcopal visitations and other portions of the Bishop's duty; but they convey only a dim and lifeless photograph of most affecting realities, which cannot be called up to unveil themselves before us.

And, dear Brethren, however it may be with the past, whatever may be the state of things around us in the Church, there is one observation in which we must all concur: In the very occasion which calls us together, there is something impressive and suggestive. Life, with all its opportunities, privileges, responsibilities, duties, is rapidly passing away. It is twenty-three years—nearly a quarter of a century—since the voice of the Diocese called me to Episcopal duty in the largest city, and probably the largest Diocese, on this continent. When I think of the responsibility of the position, it seems to me almost too great for any mortal man to bear. And is it not true of all of us, dear Brethren, young and old, Bishop, Clergy, Laity, since we all have our duties and responsibilities in the Church, and are all hastening on to a final scrutiny as to our zeal and fidelity in the service of God in His Church on earth, is not this annual coming together to report our labors, with the fruits thereof, and to consult,—is it not a good time to examine ourselves whether we have been and are faithful, each in his place and appointed duty, faithful to each other, faithful to the flock of Christ, to the souls of men, faithful to the Lord and Saviour who died for us? God grant that, as the end cannot be far from any of us, and must be very near to many of us, we may be moved to judge ourselves strictly in the light of Heavenly Truth, and to strive with new earnestness to bring our hearts, our ministry in God's Church, our loving devotion to Him into that state in which we shall wish them to be found at His great appearing!

Turning at once, then, to the duties which are immediately before us, I beg to refer to an appeal which I have recently found it necessary to put forth in behalf of an object which, as you know from my repeated representations. stands first, or among the very first branches of Church work, in my estimate of things supremely important to the Diocese and to the Church at large; I mean the Mission work within the limits of this Diocese. It has not been enlarged with reckless extravagance. It has been conducted with prudence, yet with energy; and during all the main portions of the year it has been well sustained by the contributions of the parishes. The summer months are always the most trying to the treasury; and a fortnight since I learned that there was danger that means would be wanting to pay the stipends due on the first day of October, now near at hand. Should there be still a deficiency, I hope that the members of the Convention, before adjourning, will adopt measures for enabling the Treasurer to meet all claims upon him.

My Brethren, if there be any Clergyman in the Diocese who is pre-eminently entitled to sympathy, to encouragement, to unfailing support, it is the Missionary in our rural districts. I have seen enough of his work to know how hard and how important it is, and how precious are the fruits which often spring from it.

In the course of the proceedings of this body the condition and struggles of our City Mission among the poor will be presented to you in the report of the superintendent. Owing to the difficulty of obtaining adequate means to carry on the work, the Executive Committee, charged with the direction and support of that agency, have had an anxious and laborious year. In the prisons and Homes for the aged and indigent, in the institutions on the Islands, in the Bethlehem German Chapel, and especially in that priceless Institution, St. Barnabas' House, with its Chapel, and with the ministrations, day and night, of the devoted Sisters of the Good Shepherd, an amount of good has been done, temporal and spiritual, an amount of suffering has been relieved which no arithmetic can adequately represent. You may have thought the repeated appeals of that association for help in its great work importunate and extravagant; but if you could have seen only an hundredth part of the sin and misery arrested, cured,—the little children saved from horrid deaths, the mothers rescued from something worse than death, you would have said of your largest gifts to such a cause, "Oh, it is little to give for such boundless blessings and mercies!" You would say to your servants, your almoners in that Executive Committee of the City Mission Society, "O, go on in your great healing work, your work of mercy! We will support you and bless you for your labors of love. We know your prudence as well as your zeal. The barrel of meat shall not waste, the cruse of oil shall not fail, if only God will be gracious to us; and before this great city comes to be much older, it shall be provided with a St. Barnabas' House more adequate to its great work of love and mercy! more expressive of the love and piety of its founders!"

In glancing at Church work within the limits of this city, or in parts adjacent to it, it would be wrong not to mention with warmest thankfulness the remarkable progress made in providing religious instruction for our German fellow-citizens, and the equally remarkable cordiality and earnestness with which those religious privileges have been embraced and used by that interesting portion of our foreign population. Several of our city rectors have opened their churches or chapels for the use of German congregations in their own language, and the attendance upon those services, and the numbers confirmed and admitted to the Holy Communion, afford abundant evidence that they are not indifferent to the services of the Church, and that they are not insensible to the loving care bestowed upon them. Nowhere in any of our congregations have I seen more interest, more grateful feeling shown for kind, ministerial labor and care than I have found among the crowded assemblies of that noble people. They receive much definite and thorough religious instruction, which will, I trust, be the means under God of preserving them and their children from dreary, delusive speculation, which more surely than almost any thing else keeps the soul a stranger to God, exposed to the worst devices of the great spiritual enemy.

I return most grateful acknowledgments to the city rectors who have so kindly afforded facilities in their churches or chapels for these well attended and most useful German services. The Rector of Trinity Parish has given one part of every Sunday to a German service in Trinity House, which, on many accounts, is to them a most convenient and acceptable place of worship. An up-town chapel of that parish, St. Chrysostom's, has been for a time liberally granted for their use during one part of the day, and thus has afforded facilities for worship to Germans residing in the more northern part of the city. The Rector of St. Peter's, also, has gladly given place, in his commodious Sunday-School building, one part of every Sunday, to a German service. Again: The Rector of Grace Church has kindly granted the use of a large part of their new Free Chapel for the benefit of the German work—one part being used as a German Clergy House, affording admirable conveniences as a headquarters for the German Clergy, and another part being allowed to be used for German services.

In that German* Clergy House, (shall I not say it? may I not for once speak out in honor of a much loved, much revered fellow-laborer?)—in that German Clergy House, in Grace Free Chapel, is to be found—when he and his faithful co-laborers are not abroad about their arduous duties, the real head of our German work in this city, I had almost said in this country: A man who knows more of the German people as they have been for ages at home, and as they are in this country—more of their religious and ecclesiastical history; more of their predilections, their sympathies, their religious needs and capabilities; more of the instruments that must be moulded and fitted for their use in this country, if they are to be made, as they are capable of being made, and as, for our own sakes as well as for theirs, they ought to be made, a really religious people; more—I do not hesitate to say it—than any other man on this continent: a man whose love for his people, and love for his Divine Master, is equal to his intelligence and discretion; whose zeal is, I fear, too great for his strength. Let us encourage and support him; let us pray for him; but for his work's sake, let us not allow him, if we can help it, to wear himself out prematurely.

The work of the Sisters of St. Mary, in the Diocese of New-York, consists of two Schools for Young Ladies—one located at No. 8 East Forty-sixth-street, in this city; the other at Peekskill, on the Hudson. The former numbers between one and two hundred, the latter forty. They have also a free Hospital for Children, No. 407 West Thirty-fourth-street, where relief is offered to twenty-six sufferers between the ages of two and fourteen. They are making arrangements for enlarging their buildings, to meet the pressing demands made upon them.

They have also charge of the House of Mercy, West Eighty-sixth-street, held under a Board of Trustees, where accommodation is afforded to ninety inmates, with the hope of reclaiming them from a life of sin to one of virtue and usefulness.

They are in charge of Trinity Infirmary, 50 Varick-street, held under the Trustees of Trinity Parish, where they provide for thirty patients, and visit the poor and sick in the neighborhood.

They are also working in a Home for Aged Couples and Old Men, and visit the prisoners on Blackwell's Island.

Besides these different works in the Diocese, they have also a School for Young Ladies and a Church Home in Memphis, Tenn.

The Community now numbers forty Sisters and Postulants, and sixty Associates.

The report of the Sisters of St. John Baptist is accidentally excluded from this place, but will be found among the reports in the Journal of the Convention of the Diocese; so, also, the report of the Sisters of the Holy Communion.

One of the most interesting German Confirmations of the past year, took place at the Church of the Nativity, immediately after Confirmation in an English congregation in the same church. The Rector of the Nativity had, as in the cases already mentioned, granted the use of his church for one part of the Sunday to the German congregation. On the evening to which I refer, when their turn came, the German people came in and filled the church to its utmost capacity; and in that case, as in all the others, I was much struck with the reverent air of the worshippers, and with the fervor of the responses. Of the German congregation I confirmed about eighty, and I was so much pleased and touched by the whole scene, that I sent for the minister, who had taken a leading part in preparing for that Confirmation, and for some of the Sisters of the Community of St. John Baptist, who had been most efficient helpers in the good work, to come to me in the vestry-room, where I warmly expressed my gratification, and thanked them for their well-directed and efficient ministrations.

As most of you know, the eastern part of the city, where the Church of the Nativity is situated, and not far from which the Sisters of the Community of St. John Baptist have their headquarters, is crowded with a German population. Among the families of that population the Sisters are most welcome and useful visitors. With their quiet but deep religious spirit, their warm sympathies, their gentle manners, their calm good sense, their clear practical instruction, it is easy to conceive the winning influence for good they must have exerted. They not only went among the families, but they brought the children and young girls into their House, to be protected and cared for, and trained up for comfort and usefulness in the spheres in life for which they were most likely to be fitted. In that House they would see images of sanctity, of charity, of love and devotion, which, once seen, could never be forgotten. They would learn lessons of order, of self-control, of self-denial, of diligence, which would go with them through life, creating a blessed influence in the families of which they became the centres—impressions reproduced and multiplied in a second generation, and running on through coming years, leading to an extent of good incapable of being estimated. The parents, when they received back their children from the Christian Home, where they had been tenderly and wisely nurtured, would see at a glance the beautiful and blessed change for the better which had been wrought in them.

No wonder that on the evening to which I have referred, those parents and their children seemed so deeply interested, so bright and happy, and so grateful for the blessing of their new religious privileges, and for the elevating associations into which they had been brought.

Will any one say that all this is a mere mechanical work, bringing into one communion a crowd of foreigners, who have no sympathy with our religious views and services, who would be as well or better off elsewhere—a mere adding of a certain number to swell our list of confirmations, without benefit to the confirmed or to the Church? Heaven forbid that any such idea should be entertained by any member of our communion! Every clergyman who has had any intimate connection with our German work and German people, when fairly brought under the influence of our pastoral care, would pronounce such a judgment most erroneous and most injurious. I believe they repay our religious care and our ministrations quite as richly as do any of our native population.

And, my dear Brethren, what are we, as a Christian people—what are we, as a Christian Church—to do with our rapidly-increasing foreign population? We all but invite them to our shores. We throw open to them the most exalted political privileges. In the hour of national peril we enroll them in our armies, and send them forth to fight our battles; and very bravely they have done it! Along the lines of our great railways, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, we appoint them to most important positions, entrusting to their faithful vigilance the lives and property of our people. By their vast numbers, and their natural proneness to union among themselves, they actually hold in their hands the balance of political power, and may at any time determine who shall be our rulers, legislators, magistrates, keepers of the peace—down from our Chief Magistrate to the humblest member of our police force! In the events of the last three or four months we have been favored with some rather palpable evidence that certain classes in this country, whether native or foreign, would not be the worse for that intelligent self-control, that conscientious regard for the feelings and interests of others, that spirit of moderation, that humane and beneficent temper, which the teaching and worship of our Church inculcate and tend to establish in her children.

It may be anticipated, I suppose, that the nations of the Old World will continue to pour out their surplus populations upon our shores in the future, as they have done in the past. The suffering, the discontented, the enterprising of other lands, will continue to come to us for relief, for more genial influences, for more favorable openings, for industry and enterprise. From these vast accessions of muscle and brain we shall doubtless derive a vast augmentation of material power and wealth. But, at the same time, with our rapidly increasing population, whether domestic or foreign, we shall probably find our political system continually subjected to heavier strain; and we shall be confronted by great social perils, by anxious social questions, which will severely tax the steady virtue and firmness of our people, the wisdom of our statesmen, and which will disclose to us what has been the power and efficacy of our Christian influence. Those of us who have any thought or conscience in such matters will be stirred up to anxious inquiry whether, as a great Christian Body, we have done all that we might have done and all that we ought to have done to leaven that great swelling mass of human energy, passion, suffering, affection, with the Heavenly Influence that transforms and saves, saves for time, saves for eternity! O, that divine Medicine which the love of God has provided, and sent down to us through the sacrifice of His only Son—medicine for sorrow, for sin, for weary and fainting souls. Something to sustain faith and hope and love; something to calm and ennoble the soul in the day of trial, in the hour of death. Will it not, in some future, serious day, be a solemn question with us, whether we have really tried to do all that God's Providence and Grace enabled us to do in administering far and wide among the feverish, excited thousands, that heaven-descended medicine which cools and purifies the blood, clarifies the reason, wakes up the conscience, in a word, transforms the almost maniac, prepared for any deed of madness, into a sober, considerate, patient, high-principled, Christian man, a blessing to his family and to all around him, and by his moral purity and firmness, capable of contributing to the "cheap defence" of the nation!

But I have detained you much too long in reference to disparagements of Church work among our foreign populations, which, I am quite sure, are rarely to be met with in our communion.

The observations just made have contained some allusions to the disorders in the country within the last few months. I may be allowed to express the hope that, for the present at least, we have seen the worst of such violent outbreaks, and that some lessons have been learned that will be useful to all parties. Experience and a little reflection will, perhaps, have taught the laboring classes, (so called, for, in our several ways, we are all laborers,) that to ruin the employer is not the most hopeful way to improve the condition of the employed. Capitalists, for their part, will have been admonished that their great security for permanent well-being is in the cordial respect and sympathy of those who labor for them, and that to be largely considerate and kind, as well as unfailingly just in their dealings with them, is, and ought to be, the only passport to their confidence and support.

It is, perhaps, safe to say, that labor has never, in any country, been so liberally, so extravagantly paid, as within the last few years in this country. But great and sudden reverses in the business of the country compelled a sudden reduction in wages—a reduction of income for which men, whether employers or employed, are never prepared, and to which they are never willing to submit, if they can help it. Hence disputes, quarrels, threats, combinations to compel the employer to continue to pay more than he has the ability to pay, and combinations to compel the laborer to abandon his work, and to array himself against his employer, whether he wishes to do so or not, whether the employer has been kind and liberal, or the reverse.

But, my Brethren, you know as well as I do, that if we attribute all the violence in the late disturbances, all the mad destruction of life and property, a destruction which made no distinction between the so-called "bloated capitalist" and the quiet, inoffensive shopkeeper,—if we attribute all that violence and destruction to the class of "aggrieved laborers," or those who fancied themselves "aggrieved,"—we shall do very great injustice to a class of very worthy and meritorious, though, for the time, very misguided fellow-citizens.

Every nation, every society, holds unconsciously down in its lower depths, in its subterranean dens, untamed wretches, enemies of order, of property, of all civil government, thieves and murderers, always lying in wait, and ready to run out to any conflagration for plunder, ready to join in and help on any mad commotion which promises to defy the magistracy and police. We know how it was in Paris in the old French Revolution, and during the days of the Commune a few years since. During the Revolutionary movements in Europe in 1848, a popular commotion, as you remember, occurred in the City of Berlin, in Germany. The military, endeavoring to repress disorder, were fighting in the streets in the presence of the King, who, unwilling to be a witness of bloodshed, ordered them to withdraw from the city, thus giving it up to mob rule! Forthwith there rushed forth from their secret dens a violent, lawless rabble, whose appearance caused equal surprise and terror. The citizens had not had the least suspicion that any such population had been lurking in hiding-places so near to their peaceful homes, yea, beneath their very feet, as they had passed to and fro about their daily duties. When this fearful uproar and violence had continued a day or two, the King saw that the people had had enough of it, and he recalled the troops, who at once restored order and afforded protection; the people, whatever their political sentiments, welcoming the return of an orderly force, being only too happy to be delivered from mob violence and despotism, that they might, unmolested, pursue their ordinary avocations, and sleep quietly in their beds.

Having occasion to be in that city two or three years later, I saw buildings being restored at the public expense which had been torn down by the mob, and I heard of its being commonly said, among the reputable citizens, that it would probably be a long time before they would be persuaded to give occasion for another similar commotion!

And, my dear Brethren, you have not forgotten the scenes in this our own good city during the memorable riots of 1863. Innocent and unoffending persons hung up at the lamppost at a moment's warning; a torch applied to a Christian Home because it sheltered, or was intended to shelter, indigent and deserving colored persons. I must not venture to detain you with a picture of the state of the city, as I saw it on a hasty return from a visitation to look after the safety of my family, still in town, and one member of it confined by serious indisposition—the usual public conveyances nowhere to be seen, the streets deserted, sentinels moving to and fro near their posts, cannon so placed as to command streets, and all the tokens of a panic-stricken, besieged city! Would a few, or any number of mere political malcontents, have had the hardihood or the power to strike such terror into the city, to bring on such scenes of mad violence? No! By no means! The lawless crew in their hiding-places below, the thieves and plunderers, learned through their emissaries that the military had been sent to distant duty, that the police force left was insufficient to enforce order, and they rushed forth to swell the numbers of the insurgents, to inflame their passions, to suggest the more atrocious of the outrages, and to hurry the mob on to the worst excesses.

And last summer, at Pittsburgh and other centres of violence and disorder, it was well seen what a deplorable admixture there was in the raging crowd of tramps and vagabonds—wretches who cared nothing for the interests of the laborer, and who themselves never labored save in the cause of crime and ruin.

Without detaining you longer with these mere glimpses of a vast and anxious subject, it seems to me impossible to glance in the most superficial way at the position and possible influence of our foreign population as it is spread over the whole country, or to consider the social elements which we in common with every other great city have in dark places around our own homes, in the midst of our places of business, without being made to feel that in our German work in our City Missions we meet claims upon our Christian zeal too impressive, too urgent to be lightly put aside. Through the mysterious orderings of Divine Providence, we are entrusted with the stewardship of souls sent to us from abroad, souls for whom Christ died, and whom we ought to do what we can to save; and moreover, we have a city and a country both liable to be plagued, convulsed, ruined by untamed human wickedness, both capable of being blessed and ennobled by the power of Christian virtue, which we, under God, can do much to promote.

In speaking of Christian work in this city among adopted citizens from foreign countries, it would be a great injustice to omit to notice our interesting and prosperous Italian Mission. As the work of the faithful missionary has gone on, the congregation, always large when I have had the opportunity of seeing it, has become less changeable, the families more fixed and settled in their attachment to the minister in charge, and to the services conducted by him—services in which they unite with much fervor and heartiness. In one of my last visitations to that Mission, I confirmed upwards of sixty persons, in a service which, for tender earnestness and devotion, I have rarely seen equalled.

Of all the foreign peoples who come to us, perhaps the Italians are the most destitute and needy; but they are frugal and industrious, when appropriate forms of industry are open to them. When warmed into life by kindness, by providential blessings, they show the brightness, cheerfulness, energy, for which that famous nation, through a long tract of ages, has been so eminently distinguished. The financial interests of that Italian Mission, and its immediate supervision, I found it expedient to entrust to a committee of prudent and efficient clergymen. They have attended to the arduous duty confided to them with exemplary patience and fidelity. The funds necessary to be provided for the support of the Italian work were not large. But the committee, with every aid I could render them, have found it difficult, sometimes almost impossible, to find the means of supporting that most interesting, most Christian ministry, and saving it from utter ruin and extinction.

Dear Brethren, these things ought not so to be. I speak tenderly, with a full knowledge of the urgent claims continually pressing upon you. But we owe something to the faithful Brethren who, in the midst of other heavy duties, have consented to take upon them this anxious charge and responsibility. We owe something to the devoted Italian missionary. He sees destitution and suffering which day by day wrings his heart, and he often finds it impossible not only to put a crust of bread into the mouth of the starving, but to find the means of meeting his own little expenses, and those of his Chapel. We have been so happy as to find a Christian gentleman who was glad to charge himself with the entire support of one of the missionaries to the seamen. Would that Providence would send us another able and warm-hearted layman, who would know how to rejoice in the privilege of sustaining this heroic and devoted Italian missionary. Let us pray for it! Yea! And let us beseech our dear Lord that He will not allow the faithful Brethren of the Italian committee to lose heart, or through teasing disappointments and trials from lack of support, to lose sympathy with one of the noblest Christian works which this or any other Diocese has the privilege of numbering among its offerings of love to Christ. An occasional offering of a few hundred dollars would save them from sleepless nights, and from a grievous loss of time in searching for help, they know not where.

I have great pleasure in reporting that a very useful work among the class of deaf mutes has been organized in this city, not confined to this neighborhood, but extending its operations through most of our chief cities, and largely throughout the whole country. You are well aware that a church for deaf mutes has been maintained in this city in much efficiency for upwards of twenty years. A considerable debt was incurred in the purchase of the church edifice now occupied by the Parish, but it has been gradually reduced, and may now be said to be entirely paid off. In that church there being, along with the deaf mutes, a congregation of the ordinary character, I have confirmed annually, on an average, forty or fifty persons, showing the practical vigor and efficiency of the ministrations. Some mission work also in a Chapel is done in connection with the parent Church. But besides his strictly parochial work in this city, the energetic Rector, calling around him a few friends, has organized a general Church Mission to Deaf Mutes, intended to reach those residing in other cities, or in the neighborhood of them. Having the aid of an assistant or two in his Parish, he visits every few weeks some one of the distant cities, holding services for deaf mutes, communicating personally with those residing in the town visited, and those who, being in the vicinity, can come in to be present, administering baptism where needed, or the Holy Communion; solemnizing marriages, and doing something toward preparing candidates for Confirmation.

The Society has established some twenty-five missions for adult deaf mutes in different parts of the country, reaching directly upwards of one thousand persons. They are influencing the whole community of about 25,000 in the country in favor of the Church which uses the Book of Common Prayer, which they can read after their education. The Society also supports a Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf Mutes at No. 220 East 13th-street. My dear friend, the Rector of St. Ann's Church for Deaf Mutes, who is the prime mover of all this work, reminds me that on the Twelfth Sunday after Trinity, the Gospel for that day recites the miracle of our Lord healing the deaf and dumb man, and he suggests that it might be a great encouragement and help to them, if I would ask the Rectors to have their Society remembered on that Twelfth Sunday after Trinity.

My dear Brethren, you hear what has been said, and I will only add, that the Bishop will be very well pleased to hear that the Clergy, on the Twelfth Sunday after Trinity, have found it in their hearts to tell the people what great things God is doing for the Deaf and Dumb man, and to ask their co-operation! What a beautiful thing it is; what an infinite blessing to thank God for, that the way has been opened to so many hapless souls to receive the Sacraments and ordinances of Christ intelligently, comfortably; that the Word of God is unlocked to them; that they are put in possession of a Prayer Book which, "guiding them into all truth," remains ever near them, to comfort and help in time of sorrow and trial; in one word, that there is a minister of Christ to do for them what is so much like what the divine Master did for them—"making both the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak."

My dear Brethren, it will be remembered that in my Address of last year I made some earnest and somewhat extended observations on the importance of Reading Rooms for Young Men: modest and inexpensive, but comfortable apartments, where, especially in winter, young men, when released from labor, or from attendance in places of business, may find cheerful resting-places, profitable reading, a little pleasant companionship, and so be saved from the temptation offered by warm and brilliantly lighted drinking places, and at the same time be relieved from the necessity of repairing at once from the scene of daily labor to the often dark, cold and cheerless place of rest. I urged that such places for social refreshment and intellectual improvement, scattered largely through this great city, would be a priceless blessing to thousands of young men, and ultimately a great blessing to the city. It is not my intention to tax your patience with any further remarks upon that subject at present. I know very well that the past year has not been favorable to new undertakings, calling for considerable outlays. I only wish to say, that further reflection and the observations of thoughtful persons whose attention had been arrested by the remarks of last year, have only served to confirm me in the opinion, that hardly any Christian enterprise could be undertaken in this great city which would do so much to exclude intemperance and vice from the circles of young men, and to promote a healthy moral and intellectual tone, as would the agency now referred to, if earnestly and prudently conducted. I am not without hope, that in God's own good time this most benign agency will be brought into active and successful operation.

It will be remembered, that last year our Convention had before it the report of a committee on certain proposed changes in the Constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States. These proposed changes (three in number) had obtained favor on the last day of the General Convention—usually a very hurried day, and had been sent down, as is required in such cases, to our Convention for its judgment. The propositions were referred, in our Convention of 1875, to a very able and prudent committee; and last year the committee, having had a year for consideration, brought in a unanimous report adverse to all the three proposed changes. As the report was made at a late hour, when many of our members were becoming anxious for adjournment, a member of the committee moved and carried a vote to postpone the consideration of the report to the next, i. e., this present Convention. As the General Convention is very soon to assemble, it will be necessary for us to determine what opinion we wish to have returned to that body. As I have said, this careful committee, having had these proposed changes in the Constitution of the general Church, under consideration for a year, reported unanimously against them all! I must say, that I most heartily concur in their judgment upon all the points, and I confess I hope that, after such a report, which I trust will be read again, we may be able, without the trouble of much debate, to reach a tolerably unanimous decision in harmony with that of the committee.

Dear Brethren, each of these proposed changes in the Constitution of the Church is a critical change. They all have one and the same peculiar character. Each new or modified article provides a compendious method, i. e., a short and easy method for making very serious changes in the system, if not in the teaching of the Church. Thus proposition No. 1 provides, that if the Bishop and Convention of an organized Diocese find an outlying portion of their territorial jurisdiction burdensome, they may turn it over to the General Convention, which may erect it into a separate missionary jurisdiction, make a separate Missionary Bishop for it, and make his support a new charge upon the general Domestic Committee, an easy method of relief for the Bishop and for the Convention of the supposed overburdened Diocese. Proposition No. 2, instead of the present requirement of at least three years for any change in the Book of Common Prayer, provides that the General Convention may by Canon (i. e., in any one year) set forth a "shortened form of Morning and Evening Prayer!!" Proposition No. 3 provides that the General Convention (not two General Conventions—the one acting as a check upon the other—but any one General Convention) may change the Lectionary, change the lessons of Holy Scripture set down in the Calendar, and required to be read in our public worship! To change the lessons may be to change the teaching. But I won't detain you with such questions. I greatly mistake this Convention, the old, long-established principles of this Diocese, if the proposed constitutional changes in the Church, providing for compendious changes in the system, the worship and teaching of the Church, meet with much favor in this body.

Having referred to the approaching session of the General Convention, I may be allowed to express the hope that its deliberations will not be unduly protracted, that they will be conducted with the order, the gravity, and wisdom which have for the most part characterized the action of that Supreme Council of the Church, that its determinations will tend to promote truth, peace and good feeling, and a spirit of earnest devotion everywhere in the service of our dear Lord and Saviour.

It may be proper to mention, that immediately after the close of the General Convention, the fourth session of the Church Congress will be held in this city, and that according to the precedents which seem now to be pretty well established both here and in England, and in compliance with a very kind and considerate request some months since made to me, I have consented to take the presidency of it. I have every encouragement to hope that the discussions of the Congress, on all sides, will be creditable alike to the ability and good feeling of those who consent to favor us with addresses.

It is also due to the Diocese to state, that during the last few months I have been twice honored, I dare say in common with most of my Episcopal Brethren, with communications from His Grace the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury. In the first of these communications His Grace did me the honor to ask my opinion and feeling as to the expediency of summoning at no distant day another Lambeth Conference, say in the summer of 1878, asking me at the same time whether I would be inclined myself to attend. I think there can be nothing indelicate in my giving here briefly the substance of my reply. After a brief preface I said, "that my feelings and convictions were strongly in favor of another Lambeth Conference, and that at no distant day; that it seemed to me that the chief pastors of such a body as the great Anglican Communion ought to have something to say to each other, however separated by oceans and continents, and however independent of each other in their local organizations; that to say the contrary seemed to me to imply that the Anglican Communion was not a Catholic body, and that there must be something wrong in its views and spirit." Excusing myself for not suggesting subjects, as I was invited to do, I said, "Surely such chief pastors may speak together of the propagation of the Gospel at home and abroad, of helps and hindrances, of cautious and special efforts rendered needful by the peculiar religious tendencies of the age." I said, "Some persons seem to think there could be no use in such a conference unless they could proceed to great measures of organization, unless they could adopt high sounding resolutions, or enact canons of far-reaching significance;" that "I differed widely from all such views," believing that "the mere coming together in a cordial spirit must lead to great good, not indeed such definite and palpable good that in the next year or two we may put our finger upon it and measure it, but good in a better and loftier spirit, pervading the whole body and animating it to nobler efforts for the conversion and sanctification of the world." I said, "Of course it would be only a portion of our Bishops who could cross the ocean on such an errand; but I believe they would be good men, modest, loyal, large-minded, and that they would return more large-minded than they were when they went out." With regard to the probability of my own personal attendance, respecting which His Grace had kindly inquired, I frankly stated that with the best feelings and dispositions, and with a certain longing to see kind English friends again, I could not but see that the circumstances of my life and work made it improper for me to speak with any confidence so long in advance.

In a subsequent communication His Grace had the kindness to send me by the hand of his son, the Rev. Crawford Tait, a formal invitation to the Lambeth Conference, (now fully resolved upon for next year,) together with a printed list of the subjects to be considered, and a statement of the course of procedure proposed to be adopted by the Conference.

Dear Brethren, there is much more in relation to Church work that I would be glad to say; but I hasten to a conclusion. I have to report that the mortality among the Clergy during the past conventional year has been very considerable, and the item with which it closes is sad in some of its aspects, as it is startling for its suddenness.

The Rev. Wm. B. Thomas, aged 79, died in Ohio, where he had a son, and at a place many miles from his residence, whither he had gone to officiate.

The Rev. James Hervey Morgan.

The Rev. Wm. Augustus Muhlenberg, D. D., for many years superintendent, as is well known, of St. Luke's Hospital, New-York, and of St. Johnland, L. I., in his 81st year.

The Rev. John Graeff Barton, LL. D., (Deacon,) late Professor in the College of New-York.

The Rev. Isaac Peck, for many years a retired invalid, residing near Greenwich, Conn.

The Rev. Henry C. Stowell.

The Rev. Edward K. Fowler, in his 78th year, and during nearly all his long ministry a most faithful and much beloved missionary at Monticello, Sullivan county.

The Rev. Solomon G. Hitchcock, less than a fortnight since. For upwards of thirty years a devoted missionary at Piermont, Rockland county.

The Rev. James S. Barnes, a faithful man, for many years disabled from duty.

The Rev. Wm. A. McVickar, D. D., rector of Christ Church in this city—a great loss to his Parish and to the Church at large.

To these must be added the name of Mr. Arthur Oliver Nelligan, a candidate for Holy Orders, and a student in the General Theological Seminary.

Of that dear Brother, the Rev. Dr. McVickar, whose sudden and unlooked-for decease has so lately startled and saddened us, I will only say now that he was every way worthy of the honored name he bore. Pure and elevated in his feelings, refined and modest in all his bearing, whether in the sacred desk or in the ordinary intercourse of life, he always appeared as what he really was—the scholar, the gentleman, the earnest, thoughtful, reverent, loving minister of God. It was impossible to hear him preach, or to listen long to his conversation, without becoming fully persuaded as to where he had learned his lessons of wisdom, his tone of thinking, his style of language, and as to the school in which his judgments had been formed. He loved his mother, the Church, with a truly filial affection. He never obtruded her name or her distinctive principles on unsuitable occasions, and I don't believe he was ever heard to utter one word in disparagement of her work, or of her teaching. His physical powers were not favorable to robust demonstrations of eloquence in the pulpit; nor, indeed, did his tastes at all incline him to aspire to such efforts. But I believe that his mourning congregation, who have become so much interested in his winning and instructive ministry during the last few months, would be ready to bear united and grateful testimony to the edifying character of his ministrations, and to the touching and persuasive power of his words.

In a brief resting-place in the North our dear Brother is believed to have contracted the fever which prostrated him. After much suffering, his case was thought to have taken a favorable turn. At nine o'clock on Sunday evening last, friends about him spoke hopefully of him. At one o'clock, only four hours later, he rested peacefully in the Blessed One Whom he loved, in Whom he had trusted, and with Whom are life and peace, and joy everlasting! "He that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live."

Over such a grave, may I not, dear friends, repeat a sentence which I always love to repeat when the time is appropriate: "Therefore, my beloved brethren," (they are, as you know, the concluding words of the Apostle's eloquent demonstration of the great truth of the Resurrection,)—"Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord; forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord?"

Dear friends, only one thing more. In that somewhat extended list of Brethren who during the past year have departed this life, were the names of two or three clergymen who were among our "Aged and Infirm Clergy," and in circumstances to require aid from that most beneficent Fund—our Fund—for "the Relief of the Aged and Infirm Clergy." I am happy to say that the increased contributions to that Fund, received by the Treasurer from the parishes during the past year, showed more general recollection, on the part of the Clergy, of our duty to that Fund, and a higher appreciation of its great value, than had been manifested in several previous years. Several cases have been within my own knowledge, where the closing years of most meritorious men would have been years of shameful anxiety and suffering, but were made easy and comfortable by moderate annual allowances from the Diocesan Fund provided for that purpose. Let me again remind you that that precious Fund is administered without charge or expense. The day appointed by Canon for the collections is, as you know, the cheerful, grateful day of our annual Thanksgiving. It only depends upon the reverend the Clergy to give notice on the previous Sunday of the intended collection, to emphasize it in a very few words, to secure that the collection shall be worthy of the Rector and of the congregation, and proportionate to the claims of the sacred object to which it is to be devoted.

The Women's Missionary Association, auxiliary to the Board of Missions, has done a good work during the past year. The relief of the Parish poor has been carried on by the Young People's Association, the Industrial School and the Dorcas Society. A Church Guild and two adult Bible Classes have been organized, and are in successful operation. During the summer season the Church Building has been thoroughly overhauled, repaired, recarpeted, repainted on the outside and decorated in the interior. All the Church property is now in first rate condition. The children and friends of the Sunday-School have placed a handsome new window in the front of the Church. One class, "The Daughters of the Temple," have, by a pleasant home entertainment, raised $163 for "The Daisy Bed." The Lord has signally blessed our Parish during the past year.

The meagre statistics here given furnish no adequate idea of the results of our labors among the seamen and boatmen for whose benefit our Mission is conducted. These men have no home among us, and there being no boarding-house in our vicinity, they have not even this temporary residence in our neighborhood, and our congregations are almost entirely made up of those who are connected with the vessels that are constantly on the move, and staying but a few days within reach of our Chapel, and it is utterly impossible for us to form any Parish, in the ordinary sense of that word.

Our Annual Report to the Board of Managers will give a much better idea of the nature of our work than the Parochial report here presented, from which the following items are here selected:

Average attendance at each service, 45. Aggregate number to whom we have distributed books, 1,665. Among these we have distributed: Bibles, 25; Testaments, in seven languages, 451; Prayer-Books, 145; miscellaneous books, in five languages, 1,060. Tracts among them and on board of vessels, 50,100 pages.

There have been 4,129 visits made on board of the vessels in the harbor. These items will show the nature of our work as a mission to seamen.

"The Floating Church of Our Saviour" has been instrumental in elevating, blessing and saving the men of the sea. Never since its erection have we seen such large and attentive congregations. On some occasions of celebrating Divine Service a hundred seamen or more have been present—natives of the United States, the British Provinces, the West Indies, and nearly every country of Europe. The deep devotion, the undivided attention of these strangers to every part of our beautiful service, have often elicited the surprise and admiration of visitors to the Chapel. A vacant look or a whisper is rarely seen or heard in our beautiful little sanctuary.

Free Church of the Holy Martyrs, New-York; the Rev. JAMES MILLETT, Rector.

This is purely a Mission Station, in the midst of a densely populous neighborhood. Many children are brought in by Baptism, and the Holy Communion administered to those unable to attend the public services. We can thus accomplish a great deal; and humbly endeavoring to work while it is called to-day, are led to feel that the night cometh when no man can work.

The services of this Church have been continued during the summer, and I have been giving Evangelical lectures and Bible instruction in Brooklyn, in the Chapel of Christ Church, to a class of about thirty persons, all Cubans. Twenty members of my congregation are now settled at Key West, five in the Island of Saint Domingo, West Indies, six in Jamaica and several in Panama and Venezuela. I do not confine myself to the white race, but I visit and convert also, the colored Cubans of this city and Brooklyn, and many of them attend our services. About twenty members of the congregation have returned to the Island of Cuba.

Owing to extra necessary expenses, the Rector is sorry to say, the Parish has not been able to contribute to the Diocesan Fund.

The running expenses have been reduced as low as possible. The salary of the Rector, $1,000; that of the Sexton, $300; the Organist and blower, $168; gas, fuel, &c., $150, more or less. The debt has been reduced something less than $2,000 in the last nine months, besides keeping up the current expenses and adding some improvements, such as turning the gallery into a Sunday School room, &c. The present condition of the Parish is very encouraging. The sympathy between Vestry and Rector is very strong, the congregations are larger, and now averages over 100 persons. Sunday-School is growing rapidly. Baptismal class for next Sunday numbers 31, besides those (21) baptised since December last. The class for confirmation, waiting, numbers 30. The foregoing is the report of the twenty-fifth year of St. Ann's Church. It first services were held on the first Sunday of October, 1852, in the small Chapel of the New-York University. In the fall of 1857 the congregation removed to the lecture-room of the Historical Society building. In the summer of 1859 the present property, in Eighteenth-street, a little west of the Fifth Avenue, was purchased of a Baptist Society. The building was originally Christ Church, but had passed into the hands of the Baptists by exchange of property. St. Ann's Church and Rectory have twice been thoroughly repaired, and a new organ has been purchased. There is now on the whole property a mortgage of $30,000, which is provided for by two legacies, the Church, however, still paying the interest. Owing to the enlargement of the work among deaf mutes and the hard times, there is a floating debt of about $6,000. As this free Church, with its Chapel, have ministered so extensively to the poor of the city, and cared specially for the deaf mutes, it is our belief that the latter sum will soon be made up. During the twenty-five years there have been 1,294 baptisms, 913 persons confirmed, 1,275 communicants, 557 marriages and 761 burials, with a large proportion of deaf mutes and their relatives under each head. The Church has thus far had but one Rector.

Of the aggregate amount of offerings for the general Missionary work of the Church, $238 15 was contributed in the form of monthly payments of 10 cents and upwards; the result of an effort begun last month to secure systematic offerings of small sums. Larger results are hoped for in future.

In April last a larger house than the one before occupied by the "Parish Mission," and better suited to its work, was secured, containing an Infirmary, accommodating four patients, and a Reading Room, which is also used for the weekly meetings of the Men's and Women's Bible Classes. The house is in charge of two ladies, a "Sister" and her associate, and is the centre of the Missionary work of the Parish. It is sustained by the voluntary offerings of the congregation, which have been most liberal, and has enlisted the personal services of many of its members. Through the "Parish Mission" a large amount of relief has been administered to the deserving and sick poor, and employment obtained for many.

It is a gratifying fact, that notwithstanding the financial troubles and business depression of the past year, the total of the annual contributions of this Parish exceeds by nearly $1,000 the total of the previous year.

In addition to contributions of the Parish above noted, there have been received $20 from "F." for the Poor, $700 an annual donation from Trinity Parish, and $3,000 for the Rectory debt, through the Rev. In December last, under the auspices of the Church German Society, the Rev. Julius Ungar began to hold services in the German language in St. Peter's Hall. During his ministry here he has baptised 16 children, and read the burial service once. The Holy Communion was administered on seven occasions, with an average attendance of eleven persons. Divine Service has been held on every Sunday morning, with an average attendance of 25 during the winter and spring, and of 20 during the summer. There was also a service on Wednesday evenings during Lent, and a preparatory service in the evening before celebrating the Holy Communion. There is good reason to believe that the work thus begun among the German population in this part of the city, will grow in importance and usefulness.

The work of the Parish has gone on without interruption, and, as the statistics will show, its progress has been steady. The Parish Home for the Aged and Infirm, at No. 127 West Thirtieth-street, has been much improved, and the usefulness of the Institution has gradually increased. There are now eight inmates, whose temporal and spiritual welfare are regularly cared for. Divine Service has been held there on Friday evenings, with a fair attendance, and it is to be hoped that this will, ere long, prove the necessity of having a Chapel in that neighborhood. The other useful and charitable institutions are, the Female Assistance Society, the Sisterhood, the Christian Workers, and the Women's Missionary Society, auxiliary to the Board of Missions. The latter holds a public missionary service once a quarter, at which time the missionary cause is advocated, and offerings solicited to aid in furthering the work generally. The special object on hand at present, is that of procuring a Rectory, which, in the words of our good Bishop, is a necessity, and would be a great comfort. The Easter offerings have been set apart as a nucleus for this purpose, and it is hoped that Christian friends will come to our help.

In the face of many depressing influences, the life and activity of this Parish have been well sustained during the past year. The Bible Lectures of the Assistant Minister and the increase of public services have been of marked benefit in the Parish, while the unwearying efforts of the several associations deserve the highest commendation.

The work at the Mission Chapel, under the indefatigable Minister in charge and his co-laborers, has been most encouraging, albeit very quiet and without ostentation.

The Chancel of the Parish Church has been enriched by a decoration of almost unsurpassed beauty, by La Farge, the distinguished artist. It is an offering presented by Mr. Charles H. Houseman, as a memorial to his mother, a lady of rare Christian graces, who was, for some years, a devout and cherished member of St. Thomas'.

This school meets every Saturday morning for two hours, and is under the charge of an association of ladies from the Parish Church. The average attendance has been about one hundred at each session. The girls have derived marked advantage from their careful attention to the faithful instruction given to them in the use of the needle, and are thus being prepared for securing their future support in life.

This being the first Conventional Report presented, it may be well to state that it embraces an account of the work done since the foundation of the Parish, October 21, 1875. The neighborhood is poor, thinly settled, and uninviting, but will doubtless, before many years, be the centre of a thriving community. No worship of any sort, nor even a Sunday-School, being maintained in the place, it was thought by a Student of the General Theological Seminary, that if services could be carried on for a few years in it, it would ultimately prove a strong position for the Church. With this view, rooms were hired in a private house, and Church and Sunday-School services commenced immediately, depending solely upon the offertory to pay current expenses, thinking, that if our Heavenly Father approved of the work, the means would not be wanting. It proved self-supporting at once. The rooms were too cramped for the work. A vestry was elected, and steps were taken to raise funds to build a Church. For this purpose a Committee was appointed, who leased suitable lots, on which was erected a neat substantial edifice, capable of seating 199 persons. This was opened for Divine service on the evening of December 6, 1876. The Rev. George F. Seymour, S. T. D., preached the sermon.

The entire cost of the buildings, furniture, &c., amounted to $2,817 78, on which a debt of $[illegible] remains. To help in this great work not a dollar has been received from any Society, Church, or from any of the appeals published in the Church papers. But the few among the few have not spared themselves, and their friends, to give liberally to the Building Fund.

The Parish called its first Rector in July, 1876, and was duly incorporated February 12 1877. The seats in the Church are free. With several very poor families in its midst looking to it for material aid, it has not been able to contribute to any extra parochial object, but will do so according to its means next year.

The Parish has been greatly indebted to the Bishop of the Diocese for many kindnesses; to the Rev. Drs. Seymour and Oliver of the G. T. S.; to our neighbor, the Rev. Dr. Adams, and the late Dr. Draper, who, with much inconvenience, have come at various times to administer the Sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's Supper; also, to Mr. Clayton, of the Seminary, who has been indefatigable in his endeavors to train the Parish in the music of the Church; also, to the Rev. William Ely, of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, for the gift of a Church bell, weighing over 400 lbs.

The Parish School, which was in a flourishing and prosperous condition, had to be given up, in consequence of not being able to get the salary for the teacher any longer. I have done a great deal in a medical way for the poor sick people of my Mission. All treatment for them was without recompense. The Mission has not been supported at all since May last, (1877;) but I keep the services, the Sunday-School and the Industrial School, with the help of a few kind ladies, waiting for some one among all Christians to help us, or for the time when the Mission must be entirely abandoned; for it seems as if these poor, neglected Germans, west of Central Park, do not deserve Christian sympathy, and cannot be cared for any longer.

Church German Society, New-York; the Rev. GEORGE F. SIEGMUND, Chaplain; the Rev. JULIUS R. UNGAR, Deacon.

The diocesan work of the Church German Society is at present confined chiefly to four City Parishes: Trinity, St. Peter's, Grace and Nativity. It is supported by regular appropriations: from Trinity corporation, $500 per annum; from Grace Parish, $600 per annum; and from the community of the Sisters of St. John Baptist, $900 per annum; and by voluntary contributions from Churches and Church members interested in the German Mission. The income from the latter sources is necessarily uncertain, and has been comparatively small during the past year.

The local centre of the Missions has been, since the first of July, at Grace House, 127 East Thirteenth-street, in the rear of Grace Chapel. Grace House was placed at the disposal of the Society, thoroughly repaired and neatly furnished by the generosity of Grace Parish, and more especially of two of its liberal and benevolent parishioners. It contains the office of the Society, a reading-room for German and American members of the Mission, and lodgings for the German Clergy employed by the Church German Society.

The Society employed, till recently, only two Clergymen in its various Missions, one priest and one deacon; since the first of August another priest was added, to relieve temporarily, and if necessary permanently, the two first missionaries from a part of their work. During the period from Advent, respectively Christmas to Whitsun-Day, the Society provided regular German services in five different stations—St. Peter's Hall, St. Chrysostom's Chapel, Trinity Church House, Grace Hall and Nativity. There were on Sundays eight regular services held by the two ministers of the Mission; from time to time a ninth service, with a celebration, was introduced on Communion Sundays, with the assistance of Clergymen not attached to the Associate Mission. The average number of week-day services, with lectures, was four; and of Catechetical Classes, held in the afternoon and evening during the week, six.

A monthly meeting of German Churchmen, at which lectures on subjects of common interest were delivered, attracted from 60 to 100 German workingmen and mechanics to our headquarters in Grace Hall. Among the subjects treated, there were the following: Difficulties of a Christian Education in German Families of this City; the Conflict of the German and English Languages among German-Americans, and the true way to Reconciliation; the Eastern War and its possible influence on German Emigration to America; the Origin and Sanctity of the Christian Sunday. One subject was taken from history, namely, Herod Agrippa, a Jewish adventurer of the time of our Lord, with strictures on the History of the New Testament Era, as recorded by non-Christian writers.

Semi-monthly meetings of the German women, gathered by the Sisters of St. John Baptist into St. Ann's Guild, were also well attended. They were held at the Sisters' house, in Second Avenue, and brought from 50 to 100 women together for short devotional services, practice in Church music, and plain instructions on the duties of a Christian household, especially with regard to the mother's work and position.

The Catechetical Classes, partly composed of adults, partly of children, gave also a good return for the love and labor bestowed upon them. The largest classes numbered 40, 70 and 80 attendants.

With all these duties laid upon the shoulders of two men, who had besides to attend to a good deal of the correspondence and to other general work of the Society outside the city and Diocese, it was, of course, impossible to do a very large amount of visiting from house to house; however, at least 400 families were visited by us, many of them repeatedly, and some of them, in periods of serious affliction, regularly from week to week. There was, as an average, one weekly celebration of the Holy Sacrament at the bedside of the sick and dying of our care.

Since the first of January, 1877, about 200 families, representing from 700 to 800 members, became regularly connected with our different Missions. In the Mission of the Holy Cross (Church of the Nativity) alone, the increase during the first eight months of the year amounted to 74 families, or 274 persons. The whole Associate Mission numbered, from the first of January to date, 274 baptisms, (254 children, 20 adults,) 198 Catechumens confirmed, 11 marriages, and 23 burials.

As an average, 100 of our people come to the Lord's Table every month. If we had a second priest, regularly connected with our Mission, we would have an attendance at the Communion services four times as large as now.

If it is taken into account that our Society, while attending to this extensive local work, served at the same time as a German Missionary Agency for the whole Church, preparing and issuing publications, establishing Missions in other Dioceses, securing German ministers for vacant cures or newly opened fields, it may be admitted that we labored not in vain.

And since our organization is at last completed, our capability for the work fairly tried, a local habitation (Grace House) for our workers found, the beginning of an endowment by regular appropriations secured, we may in justice ask the Church of this Diocese to help us on in our work, so promising and already so successful.

An appropriation of $500 annually will enable us to establish a new Mission in any Parish where we are desired. The field we occupy at present, and the composition of our Executive Committee, warrant the utter absence of any party interest or partisan spirit from this German work.

There is, then, at last one great Mission field open for the hearty co-operation, irrespective of party lines, of all who care for the spiritual welfare of hundreds of thousands of fellow Christians and fellow citizens.

The officers of the Society are the following:

President, (ex officio,) the Right Rev. Horatio Potter, D. D., D. C. L. Vice-President, the Rev. Henry C. Potter, D. D. Corresponding Secretary, Rev. George W. Douglass, (Calvary Church.) During the last few months a Sunday-School has been established, and services have been held in a private house, in a village about three miles from the Church, where there is no regular place of worship of any kind. The attendance at these mission services has been very regular and encouraging, and it is hoped that, in time—aside from the direct good which may be accomplished—the Church may receive decided help. The children of both the Sunday-Schools are being trained in the Church Catechism, and are making steady progress in the knowledge of the teachings of the Church.

The religious condition of the Parish was never better than it has been during the past year. The services of the Church were never better attended. Evidently the services of the Church—her regularly recurring fasts and festivals and Holy seasons—are slowly, but surely, winning their way to the confidence, not of our own people only, but of all those who witness her services. Especially gratifying is the evidently increasing interest felt in attendance at the Holy Communion.

And now that I am leaving the Parish, it seems proper to state, that fifteen years ago I found about 80 families in the Parish; I leave about 200. I found some 70 to 80 Communicants; I leave about 250. I found the Parish an object of general suspicion and distrust; I leave it in good odor in the community. I found the Church edifice capable of seating some 200 persons; I leave it large enough to accommodate about 500. Further still, I ought to say, that the incumbrance on the Parish was allowed to remain during "the times" when it would have been easy to cancel it, at the special instance of influential and beloved brethren, who have since departed this life without having left us the means, which they intended, to provide for the cancelling of our debts.

This Parish is in a peculiar position. There is absolutely no wealth among its members. It is as yet only a Mission, and yet it has a debt for a Church building, which, for the Parish, is enormous. This debt, however, is being steadily reduced, which could not be the case if it were not for the kind help of the Western Convocation and the Missionary Committee of the Diocese. The Parish is growing, twenty families having been added to it in the past year, and, when free from debt, will be firmly established. We are placed in a town of about ten thousand inhabitants—a town rapidly growing, which promises to be, at no distant day, a rail-road centre. This fact makes the work an important one. The fact that we are only in a Missionary field as yet, and are tied financially, explains why we have not done more for the Church outside of our own town.

The present Rector assumed charge of the Parish on the eighteenth Sunday after Trinity, October 15th, A. D. 1876, from which time this report is dated. A Guild has been organized during the year to work in union with the Women's Auxiliary of the Board of Missions. Its labors, including money and other contributions, have been of the value of $100 and upwards.

Through the energy of several ladies of the Parish, the sum of $250 or more has been raised, out of which the organ has been moved into a different position and put in complete order, and a portion of the Parish debt has been liquidated.

Ground was broken for a Rectory on St. Barnabas' Day, June 11, and the building is now completed. It has two stories and an attic, and is built of brick. The lot, 150x175, was given by Mr. Aaron Gurnee, and the plans by Mr. John D. Fouquet. There is no debt on the Rectory. It is hoped, before many years, a new Church will stand by the side of it.

Three Guilds have been organized, and are helping the Rector greatly in his work—St. Michael's Guild for boys, St. Agnes' Guild for girls, and "The Working Men's Association" for men.

The Parish comprises a large field for work, far more than one man can do. The Rector hopes, before long, to secure the services of an Assistant Minister.

Notwithstanding the hard times, the collections this year have been larger than ever before. The large and beautiful new stone Church is gradually approaching completion. All that has been done is paid for. It is a clere-story Church, with stone pillars and arches, and stone tracery in the large end windows. The present building is too small, and it is said that many are waiting for the new one to be finished, when they will attach themselves to the Church.

Owing to the death of our lamented Rector, the Rev. Solomon G. Hitchcock, which occurred Sept. 14, 1877, and the absence of the Senior Warden from the Parish, it devolves upon me, as Junior Warden, to fill out the foregoing report. I have done so, as far as I am able, from the material in my possession.

The Parish is not strong; it has little or no hold upon the village of Suffern, near which it is situated. It is a Free Church, and, for its support, depends entirely upon the offerings of those who live at a considerable distance; it lacks, therefore, that active, personal, Lay co-operation, without which Church work must always be crippled. During the past season, by the aid of the ladies of the Parish, sufficient money has been raised to justify us in commencing to rebuild the tower that was blown down a few years ago. Other material progress has been slow. However, by God's good providence, we have been able, in a good measure, to advance the cause of His Kingdom in this neighborhood.

This report is not intended for the whole of the Conventional year, but begins at the first of January, at which time the present Rector entered upon the discharge of his pastoral duties. This includes services at Long Eddy, a Mission Station in connection with the Parish here. In general, these have been held every alternate Sunday.

I have also crossed the Delaware on a number of occasions, whenever the opportunity offered, and held services at two points in the Diocese of Central Pennsylvania. These places were entirely destitute of the services of the Church. In one of these I baptised an adult, and two of their number were confirmed at the Bishop's late visitation in this Parish. Our Church here was consecrated on the 7th of June last, by the Right Rev. the Bishop of the Diocese.

When it is considered that three years ago the services of the Church were first begun in this place, and these only occasional, we can then form some idea of the success of the work. In this place, I cannot too highly commend the faithfulness and zeal exerted for the carrying on of this good work, in its earlier days, by the Rev. Messrs. C. F. Canedy and O. P. Vinton, assisted by the earnest working and generous-hearted Laymen of the Parish.

I believe the prospects of the Church are very encouraging.

St. John's Church, Monticello; the Rev. GUSTAV EDMUND PURUCKER, Rector and Missionary.

Celebration of Divine Service: Sundays, morning and night; Holy days, on all, once in the forenoon; other days, every Thursday evening, lecture and prayers, the whole year; in Lent, twice nearly every day, with frequent addresses—total, 208.

This year's report does not present as large a number of families, individuals and Communicants as heretofore; nor are its figures as high in other respects, for the reason that the Missions are not herein included, but are reported separately.

The Rev. Edward K. Fowler, for over forty-two years Rector of this Parish and pioneer Missionary in Sullivan County, after many long days of declining health and strength, at his Master's call, departed this life on the 16th day of July, in the seventy-eighth year of his age, full of peace and expectant joy. In the funeral services I was assisted by my predecessors in the Parish here, the Rev. Messrs. Canedy and Silliman.

Μακάριοι οἱ νεκροὶ οἱ ἐν Κυρίῳ ἀποθνήσκοντες ἀπάρτι· Ναὶ, λέγει τὸ Πνεῦμα· ἵνα ἀναπαύσωνται ἐκ τῶν κόπων αὐτῶν.

St. Mary's is a Mission of St. John's Church, Monticello. Being still in debt for a few hundred dollars on the new Chapel, &c.—a heavy burden for the people of this community—we have not been able to contribute to outside objects. We trust, however, that something may be done in the future.

This Mission field, by God's blessing, shows encouraging results, and promises well for the Church.

This report is compiled from the Parish Register. As I have only been Rector for the last three months, cannot send any more complete report. The Church is a free Church, and of course is thus depressed financially in these hard times, but our prospects are most encouraging.

The past year has been a very trying one to the Rector, in the loss of the beloved companion of his life, with whose affection and aid God had graciously favored him for fifty-five and a half years, who, at home and in foreign lands, was a great help and stimulus to him in all his efforts for Christ and his Church. This bereavement, with much other sickness in his family, has led to many watchful nights and weary days. He cannot be too thankful to God for the aid and relief afforded him by the Superintendents of the two flourishing Sunday-Schools, and the choir of teachers, who have been indefatigable in their efforts. Much aid has also been thus afforded in the visitation of the poor and sick. The Lay-Reader, Mr. Cicero H. Ripley, authorized by the Bishop, has been a great help, taking the Rector's place in reading service and a sermon, in the Hall, used on Wednesday evenings, when the latter was hindered from attendance. A Bible Class is now also under way; and the Rector expects, the ensuing year, to resume the regular Catechetical monthly instructions to the young in the Church. It will be seen that God has put it into the hearts of His people to be liberal in contributions to the charities of the Church. They have also done much for the comfort of the Rector and his family.

There is a large field here for Mission work. Three services and three Sunday-Schools have been held the greater part of the year at the three different places each Sunday. A very interesting and promising Mission is at High Falls. At Rosendale, a Church has been built of stone, capable of seating 200. It was opened on Easter Day.

There are a few candidates for Confirmation already known, and others who would have been confirmed if I had not been prevented by an accident at the time I had set about to invite the Bishop. There is not much change either for better or worse in the condition of the Church. We need God's blessing in the conversion of souls, and for this we labor and pray.

The list of Communicants has been revised and corrected. This fact, together with the removals from the Parish, has reduced the number somewhat below that reported last year.

Another effort has been made towards the building of a new Church, but without success. As the whole amount required was not raised within the time specified in the subscription paper, the failure was so far unavoidable, at least for the present.

I take pleasure in reporting that the Parish of St. John's is free from debt; Church edifice in thorough repair; regular A. M. and P. M. service held on each Sunday, with encouraging attendance. This Church was only open for Divine Service a portion of each year, (about 22 years,) until October, 1875, when my father, General Alexander Hamilton, as Lay Reader, conducted service. October, 1876, I was invited by the Vestry to assume charge, have since said date held regular P. M. service on Sundays, commencing September, 1877, and A. M. service on Sundays, with lectures, by Rectors of adjoining Parishes during the week. A class for Confirmation awaits the Bishop's promised visitation—first class ever prepared in the Parish. The Southern Missionary Convocation assembled at St. John's, July 9 and 10. Mission Service was held, at which addresses and sermons were delivered.

During the past year I have been engaged in the discharge of my duties as Professor of Systematic Divinity in the General Theological Seminary. I have officiated in the Chapel of the Seminary, and in various Churches as occasion has been given.

The Rev. HENRY E. DUNCAN, D. D., residing at Elizabeth, N. J., respectfully reports:

During the last Conventional year I have officiated as follows: Funerals, 3. Baptisms, (Inf.) 16. Marriage, 1. Holy Communion, 4. Assisted at Holy Communion, 16. Read Prayers, 79. Assisted at Prayers, 81. Addresses, 5. Catechized, 3—total, 210.

The Rev. WILLIAM E. EIGENBRODT, D. D., Professor of Pastoral Theology in the General Theological Seminary, respectfully reports:

That, besides the regular discharge of his duties in the General Theological Seminary, he has officiated continually in various Parish Churches, by saying prayers, preaching, baptising, solemnizing matrimony, performing the burial service, and administering the Holy Communion.

The Rev. HORATIO GRAY reports:

I have officiated at various times, during the past Conventional year, in the Dioceses of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, residing chiefly in Boston.

The Rev. RANDALL C. HALL, Professor of Hebrew in the General Theological Seminary, reports:

During the past year, in addition to the discharge of my duties in the General Theological Seminary, I have assisted in the Parish of St. Stephen's, New-York City.

The Rev. ROBERT HOLDEN, presbyter, residing at Morrisania, respectfully reports:

That, since last Convention, in addition to the performance of his duties as Rector of Trinity School, he has assisted in various Parishes, chiefly in St. Paul's, Morrisania. He has preached eleven times, and baptised two infants.

The Rev. JOHN P. LUNDY, D. D., reports:

Baptisms, (ad. 2, inf. 10,) 12, in the Church of St. John in the Wilderness, St. Regis Lake, Diocese of Albany. Confirmed, 4; reported to the Bishop of Albany. Celebrated the Holy Eucharist, or assisted in its celebration, 6 times. Assisted in Divine Service, or officiated alone, 12 times. Sermons and addresses, 8. Marriage, 1.

The Rev. B. F. MILLER respectfully reports:

Since January of last year I have officiated in sixteen services, assisted in fifteen others, and preached twenty-four times. Celebrated the Holy Communion twice, and assisted four times. Addressed Sunday-Schools twice, and read the Burial Service twice over adults.

The Rev. SAMUEL OSGOOD, D. D., reports as follows:

Your request for a return of my pastoral acts is hardly met by so meagre a record as mine.

My way of life has been, for the most part, as during the seven years of my Ministry in this Church. I have lived seven months in the city and five months in my country home, and generally preached every week, and assisted in or celebrated the Holy Communion regularly.

My especial pastoral acts having been recorded in other Parishes, I can report only three funerals as attended by me outside of the jurisdiction of the Rectors.

I have rendered considerable service, of a voluntary kind, both in the city and the country, and my labor at Trinity Church, Southport, Ct., this summer, is the only service which has been continuous and remunerative. My relations to our rural Clergy have been agreeable, and I have entertained them in my own country home in a way that was satisfactory to the host at least, and may be repeated with so pleasant a company.

My life has been that of a constant student, and besides giving much time and thought to preparation for the recent Church Congress, I have written much on ethical and religious subjects for leading papers and reviews, and tried to do my humble part for Christian scholarship in this great city.

Only adding that my health is better than a year or two ago, and that I speak and write with such ease as to lead me to desire more permanent pastoral work, and whilst not inclined to take the whole strain of a Parish, I would serve as an assistant, or with an assistant under congenial conditions.

The Rev. LEIGHTON PARKS, deacon, respectfully reports:

Official acts for the year ending Sept. 1, 1877: Number of times preached, 22; number of children baptised, 3; number of funerals, 2.

The Rev. HENRY R. PERCIVAL, deacon, reports:

In obedience to the Canon, I beg leave to report that, since my ordination on the Feast of Trinity last, I have said, or assisted in saying prayers, 28 times. Have three times assisted in the administration of the Holy Communion. Have buried one child.

During my vacation I have said, on Sundays, morning and evening prayer, except during an illness of say four weeks, when my voice was unfit for use.

The Rev. J. NEWTON PERKINS, deacon, respectfully reports:

That, since his ordination on Trinity Sunday, he has, by permission of the respective Bishops, been officiating in St. John's Chapel, Islip, in the Diocese of Long Island. He has baptised eight infants, presented nine candidates for Confirmation, assisted at the Holy Communion three times, and preached twenty times. He has also officiated at two funerals, and occasionally assisted Clergymen in other Dioceses.

The Rev. Dr. JOSEPH H. PRICE respectfully reports:

That, including the Holy Communion as a distinct service, he has officiated on one hundred and twenty-three occasions. He has preached on nineteen of these occasions.

By permission of the Rector of St. Mark's Church, New-York, he has baptised one infant. He has solemnized one marriage. He has officiated at five funerals.

He has, besides, attended the meetings of the various Church bodies with which he continues to be connected.

He takes this opportunity to thank the Convention for the favor of an honorary seat in that venerable body. He had been a member for the long period of forty-one years, and had been absent on only two occasions, when in Europe and when disabled by lameness. He, therefore, highly appreciates the honor conferred. He accepts it, also, as an assurance, on the part of the Convention, that he has not forfeited the confidence so long reposed in him.

He, also, is indebted to his brethren of the Clergy for the cordial reception he has received in those Churches in New-York and elsewhere, where he sought only the privilege of quiet worship. He is especially indebted to the Rectors of Grace Church, St. Mark's Church and St. Ann's Church, New-York, for unmerited courtesy. His position would be embarrassing but for this kind consideration, for which he is truly grateful.

The Rev. JOHN J. ROBERTS respectfully reports:

That, in addition to his duties as teacher and lecturer at 148 Madison Avenue, and as President of "The Home for the Blind," 219 West Fourteenth-street, he has held thirty services in the Dioceses of New-York, New-Jersey and Massachusetts during the past year.

The Rev. N. F. ROBINSON respectfully reports:

During the past Conventional year, until Sept. 1, I officiated as Deacon and Priest at Trinity Church, New-York, and frequently elsewhere. Since my ordination to the Priesthood, on Trinity Sunday last, (to Sept. 2, inclusive,) I have celebrated the Holy Communion 32 times, (10 times in Trinity Parish.) The baptisms, burials and one marriage are entered in the records of Trinity Church. On the fifteenth Sunday after Trinity I entered upon my duties as Rector of St. Andrew's Church, Walden, Orange County, in the Diocese of New-York.

The Rev. GEORGE F. SEYMOUR, D. D., Dean of the General Theological Seminary, and Professor of Ecclesiastical History in the same, respectfully reports:

That, since the last Convention, in addition to his duties in the General Theological Seminary, he has continued to fill the position of Chaplain in the House of Mercy, New-York, at the foot of West Eighty-Sixth-street.

In this institution, which has for its object the reclamation of fallen women, he has officiated on 219 occasions; he has baptised 7 adults, presented 5 for Confirmation, and admitted 3 to the Holy Communion.

Outside of the House of Mercy the Dean has baptised 3 adults and 2 infants, celebrated 1 marriage and attended 1 funeral. He has preached for his brethren, in various Churches in the city and vicinity, 63 times.

Summary.—Baptisms, (ad. 10, infants, 2,) 12. Confirmed, 5. Marriage, 1. New Communicants: admitted, 3. Burial, 1. Preached 173 sermons. Celebration of the Holy Communion, 91.

The Rev. ORSAMUS H. SMITH respectfully reports:

For the last few months of the Convention year, failing health has prevented my holding the accustomed services in Pawling.

I attend Church, on Sundays, at Christ Church, Patterson, and take a small part in official duty.

The Rev. Dr. J. A. SPENCER reports:

That, during the past year, he has been steadily occupied in the duties of his position as Professor of the Greek Language and Literature in the College of the City of New-York.

He has also officiated on some eight or ten occasions in reading the service of the Church and administering the Lord's Supper.

The Rev. BENJAMIN WEBB reports:

As I have not made a report individually for two years past, permit me in this to state, that during both these years, I have been occupied in the same manner and in the same position as in the year preceding them, as mentioned in my last report, and that during the last year it has been my privilege, in addition to my regular duties as an assistant, to render many other services.

Not to specify more particularly, I would mention that I have celebrated the Holy Eucharist, in various Parishes, one hundred and thirty-five times in the course of the year.

The Rev. FREDERICK W. WEY reports:

Since my report to the last Convention, I have to submit the following:

I continued in charge of the German Missions of the Holy Cross, in the Parish of the Church of the Nativity, up to January 1st, 1877. During which time I preached twice every Sunday, celebrated the Holy Eucharist on each Sunday, catechised the Sunday-School every Sunday afternoon, took charge of and instructed the children in the Night School, and gave also once a week instruction to a Confirmation Class, and did general Mission work, visiting, &c., &c. During the same time I baptised eight children and married four couples.

Since January 1st I have had no regular charge. I preached some weeks to a number of Germans, but could not continue on account of non-support.

Since January 1st, 1877, besides the above, I celebrated the Holy Eucharist ten times, and assisted at several other occasions, baptised ten children, married twelve couples, and prepared two candidates for Confirmation, who were confirmed in Trinity Chapel.

Total baptisms since last report, 18; marriages, 16; candidates for confirmation, 2.

The Rev. C. T. WOODRUFF, Superintendent of the New-York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society, respectfully reports:

That, in addition to his duties as Superintendent, he has officiated in the "New-York Infant Asylum," corner of 61st-street and 10th Avenue, on the first and third Sundays of the month, and at No. 24 Clinton Place on the second and fourth Sundays; he has also sustained a Sunday service at 4.15 P. M., and a noon service on Wednesdays at the "Midnight Mission."

He has officiated at 4 weddings, 23 baptisms, 9 funerals, administered Holy Communion on 41 public occasions, preached and lectured 150 times, besides his addresses in behalf of the City Mission, and often visited and relieved the sick and needy.

His office is at 306 Mulberry-street, New-York City.

NOTE.—In some instances, contributions sent to the Treasurer immediately after the Convention of 1876, but before the preparation of the Table for 1875–76, being included in that year's Table, are not repeated in the Table which is above. The fact of the contribution will, in such case, appear by reference to such items in the Parochial Reports of this Journal in 1877. In this Table appear some contributions handed to the Treasurer since their official Reports to the Convention. This will account for any seeming discrepancy in a few instances between this Table and Parochial Reports.

* This includes the apportionment for the Salary of the Bishop.

Appendix:

No. V.

NOTE.—According to a Resolution recorded on page 94 of the Journal of 1866, there is included in the following List of Churches of this Diocese the date of the admission into its Convention of such Churches as are in union with the same. It is to be observed, that such date is not always that of the origin or incorporation of the Parish.

A. Of these Parishes, some existed under Royal Charter, or otherwise, prior to the first Convention of the Diocese in 1785. This class is denoted by the letter A, placed after the date of admission into union.

B. A few others seem to have been admitted by the Conventions, in which they respectively appeared for the first time by their delegates, although mention of the admission seems to have been omitted by the Journal. Such are designated by the letter B.

C. The few, incorporated under the law of April 13, 1854, are marked by the letter C.

The Rev. William E. Eigenbrodt, D. D., having for the twenty-fifth year entered upon the duties of Secretary of this Convention, it is deemed due to him to record upon the Journal an expression of the sense of this body of his faithful and efficient discharge of the varied and laborious duties of his important position during this long period, and an acknowledgment of the courtesy ever extended by him to the members of the Convention.

The Report of the New-York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society was presented and read by the Rev. Curtiss T. Woodruff, Superintendent.

Report

OF THE NEW-YORK PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CITY MISSION SOCIETY.

The Executive Committee of the New-York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society respectfully report:

That, during the Convention year, the Society has received and expended the following sums: Received from Churches and individuals, about $20,000; expended, about $23,000.

The work of the Society has been carried on, the past year, under circumstances somewhat different from any year in its history. The Executive Committee, after studying carefully to find the cause of the yearly deficiency, became convinced that benevolent organizations, in order to be successful, must be conducted on sound business principles; that it would not do to assume liabilities without a reasonable prospect of meeting them at maturity; in other words, it would not do to trust, beyond a certain limit, even to a good cause, and to Christian obligation in regard to it, for the funds to pay the necessary expenses to promote it.

Every year—but one exceptionally bright one, about three years ago—the expenses of this Society have exceeded the income, and that, too, notwithstanding plain statements and urgent appeals.

No one, outside the Committee, can understand the constant pressure upon them to do this and that necessary thing; to employ a Visitor here and a Missionary there; to supply religious services for this institution, and the daily ministrations of a Clergyman in that one; and it is not to be wondered at if the Committee, seeing so much work ready at hand, so much good to be done by an extra outlay, have, sometimes, used the possibilities at their disposal, trusting to the sympathy and generosity of their brethren to sustain them.

But having found, by sad experience, that their hope was vain, and that they were left in the lurch when times of distress came, they determined, after long deliberation, to protect themselves against themselves by passing, unanimously, a "Permanent Resolution," that a budget shall be made up at the beginning of each year for each department of the work, and that the appropriations for any coming year shall be based upon the receipts of the previous year, so that, in all cases, as far as human foresight can avail, the expenses shall always be paid from the income. The resolution, also, provides that no increase shall be made to the sums appropriated, except in extreme cases, and then only on most rigid conditions.

Furthermore, in order to meet any loss from unlooked for causes, they have decided to made an effort to establish a "Guaranty Club," composed of persons who agree to make up a possible deficiency by paying, pro rata, not to exceed a fixed sum, to be mutually agreed upon.

In the use of these legitimate means, your Committee hope to pass future years in peace and quietness, and, at the same time, not only keep the present work intact, but, year by year, extend the sphere of usefulness, till all is done that man can do to lift up and save his fellow man. They feel confident that the plan now in operation will commend itself as wise and economical, and one which may reasonably be expected to succeed.

There is one thing, however, which must not be overlooked: that, till this "Guaranty Club" is formed, there is danger of being compelled to make a large reduction in expenses, in order to carry out the principle of the "Permanent Resolution."

The matter stands thus: Last year your Committee had to borrow $3,000 to meet maturing bills, and begin the work in October. This loan had to be paid from the income of the current year. Had there been no loan, so carefully had the Treasurer made his estimates, the receipts would have been sufficient to pay all expenses and a trifle more. As it is, there will be a deficiency of between two and three thousand dollars.

The problem for the Committee to solve is this: How to provide for this amount in the next year's budget. It can only be done by immediate donations, or reducing expenses. There are only two ways to reduce, cut off some of the work and discharge one of the missionaries, or cut down all salaries. It will be remembered that when the expenses were cut down two years ago, the work was saved by reducing the salaries of the missionaries ten per cent., and it so remains to-day.

But what shall be done now? Shall the Committee cut down the work and discharge one of the Clergy? Where shall they begin? Whom shall they discharge? Shall they reduce the salaries? Then the missionaries cannot live on what remains. It is the strangest of strange things, in our Israel, that this great Society should be driven to such extremities.

Were this problem solved without lessening the work, or bringing salaries down to a starving point, your Committee believe that the Society would not only hold its own in the future, but easily enlarge its operations with the growing years.

The record of work done the past year, like that of previous years, is one on which the Church can look with the highest satisfaction. The summary is as follows:

1,939 public and 130 private services, with an aggregate attendance of 110,170 persons; Holy Communion administered to an aggregate of 3,697 individuals; 345 children and 26 adults baptised; an average of 96 children and 10 teachers in St. Barnabas' Sunday School; an average of about 50 children, daily, in the Day Nursery, and of 40 in the Day School of the Day Nursery and St. Barnabas' House; an average of 150 children and 28 teachers in the St. Barnabas' Industrial School; an average of 40 women supplied with sewing by the St. Barnabas' Employment Society; an average of 14 women at the Mothers' Meeting in St. Barnabas' House; a nightly average of 23 boys and young men in St. Barnabas' Free Reading Room; 1,320 families and 27,882 visited, relieved and instructed in tenement houses and institutions; books drawn from our libraries on Blackwell's Island, 26,491 times, and 20,840 papers distributed; 2,917 books drawn by the missionary for the use of the prisoners in the Tombs, from the "Gilbert Library," and 3,200 magazines distributed by him, besides a large number of papers and magazines in the other institutions.

In regard to the work of supplying reading matter for the public, penal and charitable institutions, it is proper to state, that it is impossible for any one to understand how good a work it is, unless he makes a personal visitation. He would then realize how easily every person, and especially every family, might be useful in a simple way, by remembering the prisoner in his lonely cell, the sick and friendless in the hospital ward, the decrepit and unfortunate in the Alms House and Asylum, and by sending, regularly, books, magazines and papers which they no longer care for.

The department of St. Barnabas' House has been as fruitful in good to the destitute as ever. The work has been considerably interfered with during the progress of the new building, but yet it has been the house of consolation to many a weary one.

1,002 women and children have been admitted. 169 children cared for in the Day Nursery, and 16 orphan and half orphan children taken care of in the House, making a total of 1,187, and, under all the disadvantages, 16,038 free lodgings, and 105,381 free meals were furnished.

The work in this, and in every other department, is in a healthy state, and commends itself to the generous consideration of the whole Church in the Diocese.

This Committee cannot close without calling attention to several items of special interest which have made all hearts glad.

In the good Providence of God, the spiritual destitution of that portion of the city which surrounds St. Barnabas', has been provided for, in a grand and churchly manner, by the erection of the commodious, attractive and absolutely free "Chapel of St. Augustine" in East Houston-street, near the Bowery, by the Honorable Corporation of Trinity Church.

Then, again, by the same good Providence, the cramped quarters of 306 Mulberry-street, which have hindered the work so much in the department of St. Barnabas', have been swept away, and a new building, 30 feet front, 5 stories high and 81 feet deep, erected in its place, by the generosity of Mr. John Jacob Astor, and is now nearly ready to be occupied.

Moreover, during the last six years, the Society has paid its running expenses, cleared off a floating debt of about $14,000, and reduced the mortgages on the St. Barnabas' property from $16,000 to $2,000.

Is not the Church called upon to "Praise the Lord," and not forget all these, His benefits? Is not here, in these facts, a tangible reward for all the labors of love, in the patience of hope, in promoting this great work?

Now, more than ever, is there a call for vigorous action, for renewed efforts, for a determined advance along the whole line.

Now is the time for the Church to show her gratitude to God for these rich blessings, by bringing "all the tithes into the storehouse, to prove Him now herewith, if He will not open the windows of Heaven and pour us out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

The Clergy in the employ of the Society are: The Rev. C. T. Woodruff, Superintendent, who is Chaplain of the "Midnight Mission," and of the "New-York Infant Asylum," corner of Sixty-first-street and Tenth Avenue; the Rev. S. B. Moore, Missionary in charge of St. Barnabas' House and Chapel, 304 and 306 Mulberry-street; the Rev. P. J. V. Von Roosbroeck, Missionary in charge of Bellevue Hospital and Visitor to the Emigrant and Homœopathic Hospital and the Lunatic Asylum on Ward's Island; the Rev. J. G. B. Heath, Missionary to the Tombs, the Jefferson, Essex Market, Harlem and Yorkville Prisons, the Ludlow-street Jail, the Colored Home, the House of Detention and the Nursery and Child's Hospital; the Rev. Wm. G. French, Missionary to the Lunatic Asylum, Work House, Penitentiary, Alms House and Charity Hospital on Blackwell's Island; the Rev. N. F. Ludlum, Financial Agent and Visitor to Roosevelt Hospital.

The officers of the Society are: President, (ex-officio,) the Rt. Rev. Horatio Potter, D. D., LL. D., D. C. L. Vice-Presidents, Rev. T. M. Peters, D. D., Rev. William F. Morgan, D. D., Mr. Frederick S. Winston, Mr. Thomas

The Secretary of the Convention begs leave respectfully to report:

That he has complied with the order of the last Convention respecting the printing and distribution of the Journal of its Proceedings. In obedience to the Canon, he has also recorded in the Register of the Diocese the certificates of the reception of Clergymen into the Diocese by the Bishop, and of the settlement of Clergymen in Cures within it, as these Papers have been sent to him during the past year.

Under the authority given to him by the last Convention, (Journal, 1877, p. 42,) he has caused thirty-six volumes of Journals to be bound. Of these Journals many had come to him from various Dioceses, and accumulated in his care, and others are those of the Convention of the Diocese of New-York. NEW-YORK, September 25, 1878.

The Report of the Education Committee was presented and read by the Rev. Thomas M. Peters, D. D.

Report

OF THE SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING RELIGION AND LEARNING IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

The Superintendent of the Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New-York, as the Canonical agent of the Diocese of New-York for distributing all funds for Theological Education, respectfully submits the following report:

That during the Convention year from October 1st, 1877, to October 1st, 1878, in discharging the duty, which it has been commissioned to perform by the Canons, the Society has received and distributed the following sums:

Received by the Treasurer from the Diocese of New-York, from October 1, 1877, to October 1, 1878,.....	$667 95
Received from other Dioceses during the same time,.....	150 97
Total amount received,.....	$818 92

This entire amount has been devoted to the object for which it was contributed.

The income of the Society derived from its own endowment, during the current year, has been much diminished. In some instances the lessees have failed, and in others, with a view to save them from disaster, the rents have been reduced. While the protracted stringency of the times in money matters thus seriously cripples the resources of the Society, it forces into the ranks of applicants for pecuniary aid many, who would not, when financial prosperity prevailed, have been dependent upon outside help in order to prosecute their studies. A double evil is here presented, the means at their command are lessened, the number who crave assistance at the hands of the Trustees is increased. How is the difficulty to be met? In the case of those who are about to begin their course of preparation for the sacred ministry, perhaps it might work no serious harm to tell them to postpone the prosecution of their plans for the present, and wait until a way was opened for them to secure, through other channels, an adequate education. But with those who have fairly entered upon their theological course, or would be within a few months ready to take Holy Orders, it would not do to turn a deaf ear to their appeal for help. It would be a costly economy, for the sake of a few thousand dollars, to deprive the Church for an indefinite period of time, perhaps forever, of the services of a score of valuable men, who would be prepared for ordination next Trinity Sunday, and it would be a worse economy to force these students to lay down their books, and prematurely enter the ministry and begin active work before completing their studies.

The Trustees, therefore, in view of these grave considerations, feel justified in asking the Rector or Missionary of every jurisdiction in the Diocese to state the claims of the Society for Promoting Religion and Learning clearly and earnestly to their flocks, and to make an offering, without delay, to its treasury, in behalf of Theological Education; and further, they would respectfully urge upon individual laymen, who are blessed with the means which enable them to aid others, without distressing themselves, to remember, in liberal gifts during the present year, the destitute Candidates for Holy Orders. The need was never greater than it is now, and the money bestowed can never do more real and far-reaching good than it can if it be presented at once.

The Trustees feel that donors have a just claim to be informed in what way and upon what principles their alms are administered and distributed, hence they conclude their Report with the statement of a few facts in connection with this matter:

1. All contributions to the Society for Promotion of Religion and Learning are appropriated with scrupulous fidelity to the object for which they are given, without the diminution of a single farthing. There are no salaries or commissions to absorb forty or fifty per cent. of the offerings in their transit from the hand of the donor to the hand of the recipient.

2. Great care and judgment are exercised in the distribution of the funds. The character and claims of all applicants for aid are thoroughly investigated before appropriations are made.

3. The administration of the Society is entirely free from all narrow partisan considerations. No distinction is ever allowed to suggest itself in bestowing a scholarship other than that which is implied by the questions, is the applicant deserving? does he really stand in need of the aid for which he asks?

The Trustees close their Report with the expression of the hope that their efforts to serve the Diocese have proved satisfactory, and that the Diocese, in return, will respond liberally to their appeal in behalf of Theological Students.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEORGE F. SEYMOUR,
Superintendent of the Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New-York.

Report

OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON THE SALARY OF THE BISHOP.

The Special Committee on the Salary of the Bishop report:

The deficiency of income of the "Episcopal Fund" has been supplied the past year by an apportionment among the Parishes of the Diocese by your Committee.

As the income of the Fund is still insufficient, an additional amount must be raised as heretofore.

Your Committee, therefore, offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to make an equitable apportionment among the Parishes of the Diocese of a sum which, with the income of the "Episcopal Fund," will meet the amount pledged by this Convention for payment to the Bishop.

The Trustees have been unable as yet to dispose of the premises on Broadway, and on Madison street, Brooklyn, bought in on foreclosure of mortgage, in consequence of the existing depression in real estate. They have been rented during the year past at low rents, which it is hoped may be increased for that approaching. The Trustees will sell the same as soon as it is possible to obtain a sufficient price for the property.

Three stipendiaries have died during the past year, and one has been added to the list. Two of the deaths have occurred within a very few weeks.

Special appropriations have been made in seven cases. The present number of stipendiaries is nine.

The Report of the Standing Committee on the General Theological Seminary was presented and read:

Report

OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

The Standing Committee on the General Theological Seminary respectfully report:

That there are two vacancies in the Board of Trustees of that institution to which this Convention has the right to nominate. As a special meeting of the Board is to be held on the 23d day of October next, at which nominations now made can be acted on, your Committee suggest that the Convention do now nominate, and they further respectfully recommend that the Rev. Frederick B. Van Kleeck and Mr. George D. L. Harison be nominated to the Board for election into their number.

It is a subject of regret that the Seminary continues to be seriously embarrassed in its finances; but your Committee trust that measures now in progress may relieve the temporary necessities, which, with the return of general prosperity, will no longer be felt.

The Seminary is most unfortunate in losing, at one and the same time, its able, experienced and popular Dean, and its accomplished and learned Professor of Ecclesiastical History, while the Church at large is to be congratulated on the consequent gain to the American Episcopate.

All which is respectfully submitted.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That the persons nominated in this Report be and hereby are elected to be nominated as Trustees of the General Theological Seminary for the Diocese of New-York.

The Report of the Missionary Committee of the Diocese was presented and read by the Rev. Cornelius E. Swope, D. D.:

Report

OF THE MISSIONARY COMMITTEE OF THE DIOCESE OF NEW-YORK.

The Missionary Committee of the Diocese of New-York report, that during the past year they have had forty stations upon their list, with thirty Missionaries, to whom stipends have been paid.

The work entrusted to their care has progressed in its usual quiet and effective manner. New fields for Missionary work are being constantly opened, and it is only from lack of the necessary funds that these cannot be fully occupied.

During the year just closed our receipts, from all sources, amount to the sum of $7,280.82; enabling us to meet our engagements to the 1st of July last, but not sufficient, within $1,100, to pay the stipends due on the 1st October.

Your Committee are well aware of the urgent calls continually being made upon the Churches in this Diocese for pecuniary aid, and particularly do they recognise the power of that appeal, coming to us from the "fever stricken" portions of our land, and which has met with such hearty and liberal response. Yet, with all this in view, we may not overlook the duty laid upon us of supplying the ministrations of the Gospel in the less favored portions of our own Diocese, nor can we fail to urge, most earnestly, the strong claim which this work has upon our sympathy and aid.

Thus, briefly, we lay our need before the Convention, knowing that our appeal will not be unheeded.

The principal of the Fund is $3,000. This, however, has at length been obtained, and it is now invested on bond and mortgage at six per cent., payable semi-annually, the full benefit of which will be received during the coming year.

EDWARD F. DE LANCEY,
Treasurer of Convention.

The Committee on the Treasurer's account have examined the same, and compared the payments with the vouchers, and find them to correspond, and that there is a balance in the Treasurer's hands of $12,827 40.

The Committee further report, that there will be added to this balance of $12,827 40 the contributions for the Conventional year 1877–1878, which will probably amount, at the rate of one per centum, to about $2,000, increasing the amount on hand to, say $14,500, (fourteen thousand five hundred dollars.)

We respectfully call the attention of the Convention to this fact, that they may determine whether any assessment is called for at the present time.

The Treasurer has exhibited to the Committee eleven thousand dollars of four per cent. United States Bonds, as part of the balance now in his hands.

The Committee would recommend that all securities held by the Treasurer should be registered in the name of Treasurer officially.

The Canonical charge for this Fund having been reduced to one per cent. for the Conventional year 1877–1878, if any Parish has inadvertently contributed more, the difference will be refunded by the Treasurer on application.

Whereupon, on motion of the Secretary, it was Ordered, That the contribution to be required from every congregation of the Diocese to the Diocesan Fund, for the Conventional year 1878–79, be one-half of one per cent. on the amount of the salary of its Clergyman.

On motion of Rev. Mr. Harris, it was Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be sent to the congregations of the Diocese, with the Canonical notice respecting the quotas required for the Diocesan Fund under Canon XIV.

The Report of the Trustees of the Parochial Fund was presented and read:

Report

OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE PAROCHIAL FUND.

The Trustees of the Parochial Fund beg to present, herewith, a Report of the Treasurer for the year ending 25th September, 1878, showing the present condition of the Fund.

They would also report that they have been informally advised of a liberal bequest to the Trust by the late Commodore John H. Graham, U. S. N., of Newburgh, N. Y., amounting to thirty thousand dollars, upon the following conditions named in the will, viz.:

"I do hereby give, devise and bequeath to the Trustees of the Parochial Fund of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in the Diocese of New-York, the sum of thirty thousand dollars, to be safely invested on bond and mortgage of real estate in the City of New-York, at seven per cent. interest, payable half yearly, for the benefit of those Episcopal ministers whose salaries are inadequate to their support, so that the income from said investment shall be subdivided into seven equal parts or portions, of three hundred dollars each, one portion of which shall be given to each minister whose salary does not exceed $500 per annum, to have and enjoy the same agreeably to the intent and meaning of said Fund devoted to clerical support."

The Trustees would further report, that since the last meeting of the Convention, two vacancies have been created in their Board by the death of their lamented President, Hon. Murray Hoffman, and their valued and highly esteemed associate, Robert P. Parrot. The remaining Trustees bear grateful testimony to the warm interest in, and faithful and efficient service rendered by these gentlemen to the Trust, and in whose loss the Church shares with the community that which they have both sustained in the life and example of Christian gentlemen and most estimable citizens.

The Standing Committee on the Diocesan Fund respectfully recommend to the Convention the adoption of the following Resolution, viz.:

Resolved, That there be paid to the Clergy attending the Convention, who reside more than twenty miles from the place of meeting, and whose Parishes have contributed to the Fund, as required by the Canon, ten cents for every mile of the distance from their respective Parishes; and that the remainder be appropriated to paying for the printing of the Journal of the Convention, the Canonical, customary and prescribed expenses of the Diocese, and the extra assessments of the General Convention.

NEW-YORK, September 26, 1878.

The Resolution recommended in this Report was adopted.

The Report of the Trustees of St. Stephen's College, Annandale, was presented and read by the Warden, the Rev. Dr. Fairbairn:

Report

OF ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE, ANNANDALE.

The following report is submitted to the Convention of the Diocese of New-York, in behalf of the Trustees of St. Stephen's College:

It is now twenty-two years since the subject of a Training College was first brought to the notice of the Convention by the Bishop of the Diocese. Bishop Potter then said, that "one of the urgent wants of the Diocese is a Church Training-School, to take charge of hopeful youth from a very early age, and, by faithful, intellectual and religious culture, to prepare them for the work of the Holy Ministry. 'Without money and without price,' it should afford shelter and nurture to the sons of deceased Clergymen; and by its economy and wise and earnest training, it should be capable of raising up men of simple habits and fervent hearts, who will shrink from no toil and from no self-denial." In 1858, just twenty years ago, the Bishop reported to the Convention, that "a promising effort, to establish a Training School, had been recently commenced." The next year, in 1859, the Convention adopted the following resolutions:

"Resolved, That this Convention hereby tender the thanks of the Church to John Bard, of Annandale, for his generous establishment and endowment of a Training School for the benefit of the Diocese.

"Resolved, That the Convention recognise the Training School at Annandale as a Diocesan Institution, and worthy of the confidence and patronage of Churchmen.

"Resolved, That the Trustees of the said Training School and College be requested to make an Annual Report to the Bishop and Convention of the Diocese, to be read and to be entered upon the Journal of the Convention."

The Training School was begun, in a most quiet and humble way, by the present Bishop of Springfield, who gathered six Students, in a cottage at Annandale, and prepared them for entrance into the General Theological Seminary. Fifteen years ago, when the present Warden became the head of the College, it began to be more known, and, in consequence, to enlist more sympathy. The Students then numbered eighteen. Each year the number has increased, until it has now reached eighty, all of them religious men; all but eight or ten resolved on studying for the Holy Ministry; and twenty of these, sons of Clergymen. Each year the number of applicants has been greater than could be received—a dozen or twenty each year being refused, either from want of room, or want of scholarships. Eighty-five, who have received their classical training at Annandale, are now in Holy Orders. Sixty-two of these have received a full collegiate education, with a bachelor's degree; forty-eight are Alumni of the General Theological Seminary, and twenty are now Students of that Institution. Four, who were in Orders, have died, and the other eighty-one are all actively engaged in the work of the Ministry. In seven years, when those now under training shall have completed their course, the number of Clergy, educated at Annandale, will be increased to 175.

The College has also fulfilled her function in another way. The Bishop expressed the wish that, "by its economy and wise and earnest training, it should be capable of raising up men of simple habits and fervent hearts." In this respect, it stands out prominently before the Church. Keble College, at Oxford, was partly established to afford an education which would be within the reach of men of moderate means. And this is what St Stephen's College certainly does. Young men have asked, during the present year, to transfer themselves to Annandale for this very reason. The moderate sum of $225 pays all the College bills; while the healthy, religious tone does not fail to beget those habits, which will fit young men entering the Ministry to encounter the difficulties which await them.

The College can, therefore, without presumption, point to the work which has been done, during the twenty years of its existence, as fulfilling "the urgent want of the Diocese," of which the Bishop spoke in 1856.

It would seem, in view of these facts, that the Clergy and Laity of this great Diocese ought to do something more than has yet been done towards redeeming the implied promises contained in the second of the three resolutions adopted by the Convention, nineteen years ago. They then recognised the College "as worthy of the confidence and patronage of Churchmen." The property of the College consists wholly of real estate and buildings; the original cost of which was about $150,000. There is no endowment, neither is there any debt of any amount. The real want of the College, at the present time, is, provision for the salaries of the Professors. The sum charged the Students maintains the College without any aid. The Trustees are called on to provide only for the Instructors. The Society for the Promotion of Religion and Learning, together with two of our neighbors, has, in a large measure, generously sustained the Institution, and made it for the Church what it is to-day. To carry on the College, free from debt, there are needed, annually, at least $4,000. Nashotah has, for more than 35 years, depended on the voluntary offerings sent through the mail. Is it too much to expect of this Diocese, that it should take an interest in an Institution which has been founded and cherished by its Bishop, and which is each year "sending forth laborers into the harvest," sufficient to put its existence beyond a peradventure? Is it not reasonable to ask that the burden, if such it is, should not be thrown entirely on the twenty-four Trustees? Ought it not to have the means of cultivating Sacred learning, in such a manner and to such a degree that it shall be an honor to the Church—an Institution to which it can point with some degree of satisfaction? Is it asking any thing unreasonable, when it asks of each Rector in the Diocese an annual collection for the College, until it shall, by endowment, be able to take care of itself?

R. B. FAIRBAIRN,
Warden, &c., &c.

Whereupon, on motion of the Rev. William F. Morgan, D. D., seconded by the Rev. Morgan Dix, D. D., it was Resolved, That St. Stephen's College, Annandale, is hereby recommended to the Parishes of this Diocese as a most important agency in the work of Theological Education, and that they be earnestly requested to make an annual collection in its behalf.

Ordered, That a copy, or so much of the Report of the Warden as may be required to give effect to its statements, be printed, under the direction of the Secretary, and sent, with a copy of this resolution, to every Rector in the Diocese.

The Report of the Trustees of the Estate and Property of the Diocesan Convention of New-York, was presented and read:

Report

OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE ESTATE AND PROPERTY OF THE DIOCESAN CONVENTION OF NEW-YORK.

The Trustees of the Estate and Property of the Diocesan Convention of New-York, respectfully present the following report:

At the last Convention eight Trustees were elected, who, together with the Bishop, were, by resolution, declared to be the "Trustees of the Estate and Property of the Diocesan Convention of New-York," by authority of Chapter 110 of the Laws of New-York, passed April 11th, 1876. In response to a notice issued by the Bishop, a majority of the Trustees met at his residence, No. 38 East Twenty-second-street, January 25th, 1878; suitable by-laws were adopted, and officers were elected. The annual meeting provided for in the by-laws was held September 21st, 1878; the officers whose terms expired were re-elected, and the resignation of Mr. James M. Brown, as one of the Trustees, was presented, and a resolution adopted requesting the Convention to elect a Trustee in his place.

Under former laws, there are several trusts and organizations, controlled by the Convention, which have the management of special interests; but the present Trustees represent the Convention in its corporate form, and are thus capable of acting generally in taking charge of property bestowed for benevolent purposes, where the former Special Trustees were unable to act, owing to the limitations imposed on them when organized. It is carefully provided, however, that the Trustees are not to assume any of the powers or duties, or take any property now or hereafter pertaining or belonging to any other incorporated body legally connected with the Convention. There are, however, many other objects which can be provided for through this Trust, as the powers conferred by the Statute are very general; and the attention of the Church is invited to the safe means which it affords for placing property directly within the control of the Convention.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Dated NEW-YORK, September 21st, 1878.

By order of the Trustees.

HENRY LEWIS MORRIS, Secretary.

On motion of the Secretary, the Convention proceeded to fill vacancies in the Board of Trustees of the Estate and Property of the Diocesan Convention of New-York. Ballot was unanimously dispensed with, and the Rev. MORGAN DIX, D. D., and the Rev. EDWARD A. WASHBURN, D. D., were elected to serve until October, 1882, and Gen. GEORGE W. MORELL, to serve in place of James M. Brown, Esq., resigned, until October, 1881.

The following Report was presented and read:

Annual Address

OF

THE BISHOP OF NEW-YORK.

DEAR BRETHREN OF THE CLERGY AND LAITY:

After an absence of less than three months from the Diocese, an interval slightly exceeding the ordinary length of a summer vacation, having crossed and re-crossed the ocean, and passed many days in consultation with Bishops from every quarter of the globe, I am more happy than I know well how to express, to find myself, through the good Providence of God, once more in the midst of my friends and brethren, in the midst of the work of the Diocese, in the midst of home blessings, temporal and spiritual, which fill the heart to overflowing with thankfulness.

Doubtless, dear friends, there are many among you who have had your cares and sorrows. The good Lord, in His great mercy, support and cheer you, and sanctify all your trials to your temporal and everlasting good. But, on the whole, I think we may all feel grateful for a season abundant in blessings. General health in this part of the country, and gleams of returning prosperity may well move us to lift up thankful hearts to Him in Whom we live, and move, and have our being.

Yet in the midst of this brightness in our own skies, all of you will be turning your thoughts toward the dark and heavy clouds of sorrow and distress which hang over a distant part of our country. Our dear southern brethren are indeed sorely visited. Disease and death are in every house, and no one can tell what a day may bring forth. Devoted clergymen have fallen, faithful nurses have been swept away, human help seemed failing; and but for succor sent from distant friends, the destitution and distress must have been utterly hopeless. A clergyman, a few years since a member of this Diocese, well known to many of us for his fervent zeal and devotion, one who in mature life had left his well won rank in military service for a humble place in the ministry of the Church, and who, under a constraining sense of duty, after a few years of service at the North returned to the South, he, not sparing himself, when the pestilence came, was quickly snatched away to a place of rest. Some of our dear sisters of St. Mary, who, a few years since, went South to render aid in an epidemic, and to minister in other good works, and who did not turn away from this last distress, they have gone, as we humbly trust, to their great and blessed reward.

Dear Brethren and Friends: Before any further words, on this or any other subject, I must thank you from the bottom of my heart for the earnest, loving, Christian spirit, with which you have poured forth your prayers and your offerings for that suffering people. An inexpressible consolation it has indeed been to me to hear of the bountiful gifts of mercy which have gone from some of our parishes and people. The God of heaven and earth reward you in blessings temporal, and in blessings spiritual, and give you to feel and know how good it is to be merciful, as God is merciful, and to lay up treasures in Heaven!

Dear Brethren, "Whom the Lord loveth, he chasteneth." It is not for us to interpret the mysterious dispensations of the Most High. But it is always safe for us to assure ourselves that out of every chastisement from the Divine Hand some blessing, at some time, and in some quarter, is to issue. Can we doubt, looking merely to the operation of causes which we can observe, and to some extent comprehend; I say, can we doubt that this great and sore visitation of God's chastening Providence will, through His unsearchable mercy, work out inestimable blessings for this whole country? Who can doubt that the two great sections will be drawn together, and united in the bonds of love, as they were never united before?

Not in vain will have been the suffering and loss on the one side; not in vain will have been the outpouring of sympathy and prayer, and material aid, on the other.

In some future year, inquisitive and speculative people, struck with the wonderful reign of peace and good will, will be saying to each other, "how came these lately hostile sections to learn to be so tender and considerate toward each other? How came they to have, seemingly, such absolute confidence, each in the good will, in the spirit of not only justice, but generous self-sacrifice, the one toward the other; each 'looking' not merely 'on his own things,' in a narrow, partisan spirit, but 'on the things of others,' as desiring their good."

And the answer of the Christian philosopher will be, "God, in His great wisdom and mercy, first softened their hearts with his severe chastening hand, and then touched them with the finger of love. He caused them to know and love each other in the midst of the plague. He sent Death, in his most terrible form, to open a way through which they might draw near and embrace and understand, and sympathize with each other, and so they have been united for ever; and what God hath joined together, let no man put asunder."

God grant that this vision of faith and hope may become a great and abiding reality, so that our children may have reason, in future years, to say: "That visitation of 1878 was a sorrowful trial, but God meant it for good!"

Again thanking you, dear Brethren, for all that you have done, are doing, or are proposing to do, to alleviate the sore distress of our dear brethren at the south, I pass on to other topics.

And perhaps, dear Brethren, you will be expecting to hear something from me touching that remarkable conference of Archbishops and Bishops at Lambeth, from which I have just returned.

I hardly know where to begin, or where I can make an end. Certainly my statement must be very brief and very imperfect.

As you have probably already heard, the conference consisted of just one hundred Archbishops and Bishops, some of them from the remotest parts of the earth. They came together for consultation, upon the invitation of the Archbishop of Canterbury, who issued the invitation after consultation with many of his brethren at home and abroad. Their coming together was purely voluntary. They were not a Synod. They were not a General Council. They were without authority to enact laws absolutely binding upon the Churches, or branches of the one Church, which they represented. The resolutions which they adopted were in the nature of recommendations, carrying with them such respect and influence, as were due to the office and character and numbers of those who put them forth. It is not too much to say, that for numbers, and weight of official position and character, it was the most important ecclesiastical assemblage that has taken place since the Reformation, and indeed for a long time previous.

Of the spirit of wisdom, moderation, hearty, fraternal sympathy and earnest devotion, which animated that venerable body, it is impossible to speak too strongly.

With that freedom of thought and judgment which might be expected to characterize such an assemblage of learned and intelligent men, there was united a profound sense of the supreme, revered, unalterable authority of the one truth, "once for all" delivered to the primitive Saints, and abundantly vindicated and confirmed amid the conflicts of ages. All minds were untrammeled; but they acted together with wonderful unity and cordiality.

The published recommendations, in which they united, convey no adequate idea of the careful and critical discussions which prepared the way for them, and secured the unanimous and weighty conclusions that were reached. Vast fields of inquiry were brought under notice in Committee, or in the open Conference, which do not appear in the brief, condensed summary of their judgments. For example, the skeptical and infidel lucubrations, appearing among the tendencies of the age, could scarcely be expected to escape the notice of such an assemblage of the chief Pastors of the Church. And, in the Conference, some very weighty and eloquent observations having been made, the subject was referred to an able Committee, several members of which had already made manifest their competency to deal with it. But in the meeting of the Committee, a very little reflection sufficed to convince them that the subject was too vast and complicated, and the material they, themselves, were able to contribute, too large and weighty to be moulded into an adequate report in the fortnight which they had for work, besides having other important subjects referred to them, and they at once agreed to excuse themselves from making any report on the subject. A few members of the Conference seemed anxious that the matter should receive some formal public notice; but the prevailing feeling of the Bishops, I think, was, that inasmuch as many of the most competent individual minds, in various parts of Christendom, had already effectively handled the subject, and would, undoubtedly, hereafter continue to do so, the vindication of injured truth might very well be left to those spontaneous, individual efforts, the Conference confining itself mainly to strictly ecclesiastical affairs. For myself, I confess I was strongly of this latter opinion.

As is generally known, the course of the Conference was, in brief, as follows:

The first A. M. was occupied with the regular morning prayers, a sermon by the Archbishop of York, and the administration of the Holy Communion; all taking place in that venerable Chapel of Lambeth Palace, in which our Bishop White, Bishop Provost, and many Anglican Bishops had been consecrated. In the afternoon of that day, and during the following days of that first week, the six subjects which had been arranged for consideration, and of which public notice had been given, were discussed in order, and then referred to Committees, that they might be carefully considered, and made the subjects of reports. At the close of that first week there was a recess of a fortnight, during which the Committees sat almost daily for several hours, and then came the Second Session of the Conference, during which the several reports were received, discussed and acted on, as has been made known in the published report of the Conference.

It should be added, that many questions proposed by foreign Bishops, in relation to difficulties found in their work, were sent up to the Committees, and were answered by them either privately, in personal communication, or through the general recommendations which they included in their reports: one more example, out of many, which might be adduced to show how much useful work was done by the Conference, which does not appear in any definite way, intelligible to ordinary readers, in the brief records of the body. At length, for I must be brief, the Second Lambeth Conference closed;—closed with one of the most touching and impressive scenes which it has ever been my fortune to witness in all my experience of deliberative assemblies. The Archbishop of York, in dignified and affecting words, moved a vote of thanks to the Archbishop of Canterbury for the impartial and able manner in which he had presided, and for the very kind and munificent manner in which he had, day after day, extended hospitality to the one hundred members of the Conference. The motion was seconded by the venerable Beresford, Archbishop of Armagh, in a few loving words, by the Primus of the Scotch Episcopal Church, and by the Bishop of New-York.

My dear Brethren, in order to appreciate the feelings of the Archbishop of Canterbury at that moment, you must recall some of the scenes through which he had lately been passing. Many of you will doubtless remember, that one year ago his only son, the Rev. Crawford Tait, a most engaging and promising young man, was here at my side, and I had the great pleasure of presenting him to you. While in this country he won all hearts, where he appeared, by his modesty, cheerful manliness, and sweetness of character. A fortnight later, in Boston, during the session of the General Convention, he appeared for a few moments in each House, to deliver a fraternal message from his father. All were struck with the quiet, simple, graceful dignity with which he performed the delicate duty. He returned to his home, and after a few months I heard from his father that he was very ill, and a great sufferer, and only a few weeks before the meeting of the Lambeth Conference, the venerable father administered the Holy Eucharist as a closing earthly gift of grace, and said the Commendatory Prayer; and a few days later, standing near the grave, at the close of the funeral service, he gave the Apostolic Benediction to the vast assemblage of weeping, sympathizing mourners.

Then came the severe work, and the crowded engagements of the Conference. It was a marvel to see him and Mrs. Tait, as I did, (for I was a privileged guest in the Palace for weeks,) meeting duties, meeting company, in a serene and even cheerful spirit, with never-failing cordiality, the repressed sensibilities only now and then, as at morning or evening prayer, trembling to the surface; but nothing to check the enjoyment of others—nothing to remind them of death and sorrow. But there was one thing more trying to the nerves than all else: the universal murmuring of assent to the words of love, to the vote of thanks; and I was not surprised when the venerable President, with moistened eye and trembling lip, rose, expressed himself unequal to any thing more than the simple word of thanks, and closed all with the Blessing of Peace.

I think I hazard nothing in expressing the confident belief, that every Bishop retired from that Conference, not only with warmer feelings of veneration and love for the highest chief Pastor of the Anglican Communion, but with greatly increased courage and confidence in resuming his work in the Church of God. They had seen that their Brethren and associates in the work of Christ, in every part of the world, were able, earnest, God-fearing men, "full of the Holy Ghost and of wisdom;" they had seen many things done to give increased facility and efficiency to the work of the Church; they doubted not, that in the future, the interests of that Church would be well cared for, and they went their way, each saying, in a fervent spirit in his own heart: "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." May the all merciful and gracious Lord see them all returned in safety and peace to their homes, to keep in mind, for long years, all that they have seen and heard of the doings of their faithful Brethren, and to carry their renewed life into all parts of their work.

Before leaving the subject of the English Church, it may be not amiss to bestow a few words upon the changes which have taken place in its interior work, and in the provision made by it for the well-being and progress of Christian work in foreign parts. It is a little more than forty years since my first visit to England. During that period the whole spirit and face of things has been changed in the life of the Church of England. No doubt there were always earnest and Godly men in its Ministry, as Hooker, Herbert and Wilson, and a host of others, and so, also, among its Laymen. But things were comparatively stationary. The growth of the population, especially in towns, was not met with a corresponding increase in the supply of ministerial services and Church accommodation. There was a lack of enterprising and aggressive Church work. That form and measure and extent of Church work and religious duty which had been known and accepted in past years, was considered as sufficient for present and future years. But about forty years ago, a fresh and deeper religious spirit seemed to stir vast portions of the Church. The preaching became more earnest; the demand for clerical labor and self-sacrifice became more exacting; good works became more abundant and more impressive; new fields of clerical labor were entered upon; colleges were founded for the more thorough education and training of young men looking to the Ministry; new Churches were erected with almost unexampled zeal and devotion, with the aid of voluntary contributions of earnest-minded Laymen; twenty, perhaps, in a year, where, before, scarcely three had been built in twenty, or even in fifty years. The earnest, Christian love began to take note of the neglected crowds in large towns, and caused provision to be made for their spiritual care. The Bishop of London's Fund, for example, of comparatively recent origin, has supported a large amount of mission work in that city.

But this more earnest, spiritual life was not confined in its operation to the interior of England, or of Great Britain. Its influence was extended to foreign parts. Faithful men offered themselves in larger numbers for mission work in foreign English settlements, and in heathen countries, especially when those countries were in any way under English influence. Better views of the importance of the Episcopate, in foreign fields, rapidly gained ground, and about thirty-five years ago there was a vigorous, general movement to found Episcopal Sees, and to send abroad Bishops to superintend Church work in distant parts, and to ordain and confirm. In earlier times there seemed to have been a prejudice against providing the Episcopate for foreign parts. As is known to many of you, several applications were made by Church people, in this country, prior to the Revolution, to be provided with one or more Bishops. Those applications were unsuccessful; not, I believe, from any unfavorable disposition on the part of the Ecclesiastical authorities, but owing to the indisposition of the Ministry of the day to grant such privileges to foreign communities. You can conceive of the disabilities under which Church people here rested in those days. If a minister or congregation desired Episcopal counsel or direction, they had to apply to the Bishop of London, a remedy involving so much trouble and delay that it was not often resorted to. Our young men, who desired to enter the Ministry of the Church, had to cross the Atlantic to obtain orders, and it is estimated that one in every five, who made the attempt, lost his life by sickness or shipwreck. Surely it was owing to the kind Providence of God, that the close of the long struggle of the Revolution saw so much of the Church here surviving, and with so intelligent an apprehension of her principles and her needs.

And what a contrast the Lambeth Conference, with her 100 Bishops from every part of the earth, presented to the condition of the Anglican Communion one century ago. Then, with a great lack, in her remote borders, of Episcopal care and Episcopal ministration. Now, with present care and present ministration in her most distant fields. Easy communication between all the parts. And a spirit of unity and concord, with the slightest possible exceptions, reigning among her children, from one side of the earth to the other.

But, dear Brethren, we must now turn to look at our home duties, and at the claims of the Church within our own borders. On the first day of last July, the quarterly stipends of the Missionaries of the Diocese were duly paid by the faithful and attentive Treasurer, but he was left with a deficit of $500. In a very few days, i. e., on the first day of October, another quarterly payment will become due, and I think it has been usual for the Missionaries, who come to the Convention, as most of them do, to receive their payments before they leave the City. Surely it ought to be so. But in order to make all these small payments the Treasurer needs eleven hundred dollars in addition to the amount already in hand. Dear Brethren, for the bountiful contributions which have gone forth from this city, and largely from members of this Diocese, for the relief of our Southern Brethren, I have already expressed warmly my great satisfaction and thankfulness. In more than one case the amount contributed from or through a single Parish in this city was much more than double the whole sum appropriated to our Diocesan Missionaries during the year. And had the sums contributed to our Southern Brethren been quadrupled, if needed, and well applied, my satisfaction would have been all the greater. But here were two great duties. The one was well and nobly done. The other has been in some degree overlooked. They cannot be weighed against each other. Both were imperative duties. Both were acknowledged duties. But in the one case there was open and apparent suffering, appalling wretchedness and death struck the public heart with horror, aroused all its sympathies; daily representations and appeals kept the harrowing scene before the eyes, and extorted such succor as human beings were able to offer. In the other case there was absolute silence. The coming in of the needed supplies was a thing taken for granted. The thirty or forty Christian ministers were struggling on with their arduous duties, duties which ministered instruction and consolation to a vast number of widely scattered people. But their work went on in comparative silence. Their personal trials and needs were little seen or thought of, and to-day we come face to face with an indebtedness which gives rise to sore anxieties, and which we must promptly discharge. I know the ability and the good will of the members of this Convention, and I trust they will not let the sun go down upon the Treasurer until he has been amply supplied with the means of satisfying all claims upon him.

Up to the time of my departure for the Lambeth Conference, I had been for several months incessantly employed in visiting the Churches of the Diocese. On Sundays and week days, in sunshine and storm, the work was prosecuted without intermission, and the survey made included an aggregate of labor among the Clergy, and of fruit resulting under God from that labor for which any Bishop, and any Diocese, may well, I think, be grateful. The visitations were suspended perhaps a fortnight or three weeks earlier than usual, and consequently some few Parishes remain to be visited during the months of October and November. I am sure the Clergy will not ask for visitations this autumn, unless they are really needed. Where they are needed, Providence permitting, I shall be very ready to make them.

Immediately after our last annual Convention, I was engaged for three weeks in attending the session of our General Convention in Boston. It was distinguished for the cordial harmony that prevailed in both Houses, and for the very warm-hearted hospitality of the Church people of that city. As usual, there was a large amount of business of detail, designed to facilitate the general work of the Church. Canons were passed making the General Convention a Board of Missions, and providing a large Board of Managers, to meet every second month, to take charge of the work of Missions during the recess of the General Convention. Within a few days after the close of the General Convention, occurred the meeting in this city of the "Fourth Church Congress," and it became my duty, according to the request of its Committee, to take the Presidency of it. The discussions were ably conducted, were listened to day after day by large, and, for the most part, approving audiences, and left behind them, I think, pleasant and useful impressions.

On the A. M. of one of the days of the Church Congress, I was called away to take part in the consecration of the Rev. Dr. Schereschewsky, as Missionary Bishop of Shanghai, with jurisdiction in China. It is well known to most of you, that the newly consecrated Bishop had been for fifteen years or more a Missionary of our Church in China, was well acquainted with the Chinese tongue, had translated the entire body of the Holy Scripture into pure Chinese, and was familiar with the character and manners of the people of that country. He is a man of remarkable intelligence, judgment, energy and devotion, and I cannot but cherish the hope that, with the blessing of God, he will be an instrument of great good in the Christian work in that vast Empire. It is well known to most of you, that his strongest hopes are placed in the efficiency of a native ministry; and he has taken steps toward the founding of an institution in China for the education of native converts, that they may be trained for the work of the ministry. His judgment in that regard is confirmed by the experience and judgment of the late lamented Bishops Selwyn and Patteson, who both became convinced that their chief hope in Melanesia must be placed in a native ministry, and who adopted measures accordingly.

Bishop Schereschewsky was present in the Lambeth Conference, and both there and at the table of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and in many private circles, impressed his brethren with a conviction of his ability, judgment and force of character. It was largely owing to the influence of his presence and statements that the following passage was reported from one of the Committees of the Conference, and unanimously approved by the Conference itself: "Believing that the unity of our Churches will be especially manifested and strengthened by their uniting together in common work, your Committee would call attention to the great value of such co-operation, wherever the opportunity shall present itself; as, for example, in founding and maintaining in the Missionary field schools for the training of a native ministry, such as that which is now contemplated at Shanghai, and generally, as far as may be possible, in prosecuting Missionary work, such as that which the Church in England and Scotland are maintaining together in Kaffraria."

I do not suppose that the Bishop of Shanghai took England in his way to China for the purpose of making applications for pecuniary aid in his proposed educational work, but I am not without hope that his presence in England, and the impression he made there, will be productive of future consequences highly beneficial to his work.

Of one other consecration I must take notice, as matter of special interest to this Diocese, and indeed to the Church at large: On the 11th day of June, Whitsun Tuesday, being also St. Barnabas' Day, in Trinity Church in this city, acting as Consecrator, by request of the Presiding Bishop, I consecrated the Rev. George Franklin Seymour, D. D., as Bishop of the Diocese of

Springfield, Illinois, assisted by the Bishop of Easton, who was also the Preacher; the Bishops of Tennessee, Illinois, Maine, Northern New-Jersey and New-Jersey, being also favored with the presence of the Most Reverend Henry John Chitty Harper, D. D., Bishop of Christ Church, Australia, and Metropolitan, who united in the laying on of hands. This consecration adds an able and energetic Bishop to the ranks of the Episcopate, but it is attended with serious loss to the Church in many subordinate respects; as his removal, at the close of the present seminary year, from the Deanship of the General Theological Seminary, involving a heavy loss to that Institution, and through it to the Church at large; the loss to myself personally, in the withdrawal of the efficient aid which I have received from him in manifold subordinate details of official business and duty; the loss to the Clergy and Churches in all this quarter, to whose calls for assistance in the pulpit he ever responded with untiring zeal and cordiality. Nor must I omit to mention the serious loss which his removal will be to the Sisters of the "House of Mercy," where, for many years, he has served as Chaplain, going out to his duty there early and late, in all seasons and states of weather, and, by his counsel and sympathy, making himself a great comfort and help to the dear Sisters in their arduous work. And I believe that the small allowance which could be afforded annually for the services of a Chaplain were always added by him to the funds of the Institution. Our consolation, in looking forward to his coming removal, must be found in the loving assurance that he is going to carry these same noble Christian dispositions and powers to a Diocese where they are much needed, where they will be highly appreciated, and with the blessing of Almighty God, be made largely useful. I am sure, my dear Brethren, that you will cordially add your good wishes and prayers to mine, that the first Bishop of Springfield may be to his Diocese a pattern of all good works; that he may ever be guided, animated and comforted by the Spirit of all Grace and Wisdom; that a Heavenly Blessing may ever accompany his labors, and that he may make himself an example of Episcopal character and work, worthy to be followed by all his long line of successors!

In the P. M. of the day of Consecration of the Rev. Dr. Seymour, I had the privilege of laying the corner-stone of St. Barnabas' House and Chapel, providing an important enlargement of the former St. Barnabas' House and Chapel, and room for more comfortable and abundant work by that interesting Institution. It may possibly be remembered by some of you, that in my last annual address, I ventured to put some encouraging words into the mouths of supposed earnest friends and supporters of city Mission work. "The barrel of meal shall not waste; the cruse of oil shall not fail, if only God be gracious to us; and before this great city comes to be much older, it shall be provided with a St. Barnabas' House more adequate to its great work of love and mercy. More expressive of the love and piety of its founders." Well, the prophetic words, through God's great mercy, have come true. The hand of one noble hearted Christian man has been stretched out to proffer help, and the work is nearly done. The old building has been enlarged by the raising of the roof, and a spacious and commodious structure has been placed by its side. St. Barnabas' House has been for several years a most interesting and useful Institution. But all its friends felt deeply sensible of its insufficiency. It will now be regarded with pride and thankfulness, and the work done in it will no doubt be much enlarged and be much more satisfactory. The good Lord be praised for this blessing bestowed upon His servants!

On Saturday, the 23d day of February, I officiated at the dedication of the "House of St. John Baptist," to be occupied by the Sisterhood of that name, and devoted to good works. This is another centre of pious and charitable influence; another fountain of blessing whose streams will flow widely and with a purifying influence through the eastern portions of the city. This large and most commodious House, as well as its support, is due largely to means derived, not from without, but from within. The Sisters of St. John Baptist, like the Sisters of St. Mary, "the Sisters of the Holy Communion and the Sisters of the Good Shepherd" at St. Barnabas' House, continue to be, as they have been in years past, a comfort to the Bishop, and a blessing to the work of the Church in this Diocese.

On Wednesday, the 15th of May, I visited the "Midnight Mission," and confirmed six of the inmates. The whole appearance of the interior of the house, and of the inmates, was highly creditable to the faithful ladies who had charge of it, and encouraging in regard to the healthy influence of the work done in it, and in connection with it. I believe it is well ascertained that the after history of those who have, for some time, been in the Home of the "Midnight Mission," or in the "House of Mercy," has been very encouraging. But, my dear Brethren, I fear that, in regard to this vice of great cities, we, as a Christian Body, have a great deal to reproach ourselves with. It is not so much that the efforts we have made have been ineffectual or fruitless. I believe they have not been wholly fruitless. There is good evidence that souls, on the verge of utter destruction, have been snatched from the burning, and, through the great mercy of God, and the patient, loving ministry of Christian women, purified and saved. No! our shame and condemnation, as a Christian Church, is, that we have done so little. Our feeble and limited agencies prove that we are sensible that there is a work to be undertaken, a duty to be done, but the insignificance of the efforts looks more like something designed as a thin salve for the conscience, than like a real death grapple with a monster evil. My Brethren, the rough, appalling, shameful truth must be told. This city, in which we live in such cheerful, Christian contentment, is full of a plague more deadly than the Yellow Fever. The Yellow Fever kills the body, and, after that, has no more that it can do. The pestilence, which walks abroad in our city, filling houses and streets in it, which flaunts itself in our very faces, is a pestilence that works ruin and death in the soul. Is there, in the whole, wide world, any evil so deadly, so revolting, so enormous to oppose and cure which, Christian people make themselves contented with such very slight efforts?

I have referred to the home of the "Midnight Mission" and to the "House of Mercy." The former has under its care, on an average, about 40 inmates; the latter has 70 or 75. They are both admirable institutions. I have not a single syllable to breathe in disparagement of either of them. Their friends, supporters and managers are deserving of all sympathy and praise. They contribute of their own means for their support, and they devote a great deal of time, thought, care and labor to the management of them. All honor and thanks to them, and to the Christian women who take the sad duty of watching over them. But these 100 or 110 poor souls, gathered under the shelter of Christian homes, "what are they among so many?" What are they to the tens of thousands of erring, immortal creatures, who sin and perish, day by day, on all sides of us, with none to pity and none to make an effort to save them?

I presume not at present, to suggest methods or means, remedial or preventive. Where there is a will there is a way. If we are teachable, if we earnestly desire to know our duty and how to do it, God the Holy Ghost will enlighten us and kindle our zeal, and lead us in the right way. "He that converteth a sinner from the error of his way, shall save a soul from death."

In the course of the proceedings of this Convention a paper will be read to you by the Rev. the Warden of St. Stephen's College, Annandale, containing a brief statement of the origin, progress and present state of that Institution, of the work which it has done for the ministry of the Church, of its needs, and of the claims it has upon the liberal support of Church people. I commend it to your serious attention.

It becomes my duty, before closing this communication to you, to place on record the names of those of our Brethren who have departed this life during the past Conventional year; they are

The Rev. E. N. MEAD, D. D.,
The Rev. ROBERT BOLTON,
The Rev. CALEB CLAPP,
The Rev. FREDERICK OGILBY, D. D.,
The Rev. ORSAMUS H. SMITH,
The Rev. JOHN R. LIVINGSTON,
The Rev. ALEXANDER S. LEONARD, D. D.,
The Rev. ROBERT B. CROES, D. D.,
The Rev. DAVID F. BANKS,
The Rev. PIERRE P. IRVING.

Some of the names on this extended list of deceased Brethren remind us again of the claims of the Fund for the Relief of Aged and Infirm Clergymen. Every year death removes some of those who have received help from its supplies; but every year, also, age and infirmity, and the needs which age and infirmity bring with them, place other claimants before us to be objects of our care and kindness during a very few sad closing years. I trust that we shall never forget their affecting claims, and that especially on the day of our annual thanksgiving, when offerings for that fund are received, we shall testify our thankfulness to God for His bounties and preservations, by giving back for the comfort of our Brethren a portion of the blessings so liberally bestowed upon us. A venerable Layman, through long years a faithful servant of the Church, and a warm friend to her ministers, writing to me a few days since, said of the Clergy, in reference to the fund in question: "Are they not Shepherds, who should care for their own Brethren as well as for their Flocks?"

Yes, dear Brethren, and so you are, and ever will be: tender and loving toward your Brethren, and careful, with a godly care, of your Flocks. Thanks for all your kindness and affection toward each other and toward your Bishop. And the "God of Peace who brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus Christ, the Great Shepherd of the Sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, make you perfect in every good work to do His will, working in you that which is well pleasing in His sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory for ever and ever." Amen.

Founded by the three Parishes of the city, in 1871, this Hospital continues under their care, and is doing its work quietly and successfully. The statistics of the Hospital, by the last report, are as follows, showing that the whole number of patients, since opening in 1871, has been 498. The number for the year ending Sept. 30, 1877, was 60. The patients are, for the most part, free. The Hospital is sustained by the free-will offerings of the people. It owns its own building, and is not in debt. The expense of maintaining the Institution, for the last year, was $1,747 28, or a daily expense of $1 76. This was the mere money expenditure, which would have been greater had it not been for liberal donations of groceries, vegetables, &c., received from the friends of the Hospital.

Divine Service has been regularly celebrated on every Lord's day in the wards of the Hospital.

Since my last report, this Parish has sustained a great loss in the death of one of its Trustees, the Hon. Jno. W. Chanler. He had just returned to his place in this neighborhood, (Rokeby,) after an absence of some months in Europe, and died, after a brief illness, of Pneumonia, on the 19th day of October last.

I had known him from boyhood. We had been schoolmates and classmates in College, and in him I have lost a dear and valued friend.

Through the diligence of a lady missionary, employed in the Parish for the past six months, the immediate work of the Church has assumed a greater Missionary complexion than ever within the knowledge of the Rector. Clothing, books and tracts have been distributed.

A Parish library has been gathered, and is open for use in a room set aside for distinctively Church purposes in the old Rectory.

Through the very handsome subscription of a gentleman belonging to the Vestry, we have reason to be much cheered in the midst of our hampered work. It is to be hoped that due appreciation and thanks will be shown in a proper emulation.

Our congregations are not made up of families, composed of a certain number of individuals, as in a regular Parish, but mostly of those who are floating about from port to port over the whole earth, or else of those who live on board of the barges, engaged in our inland commerce, and who are seldom in reach of our Chapel on the Lord's Day, so that we are not able to make any regular Parish report, as others. The annual report of the Board of Managers of our Missionary Society contains all the particulars that are necessary to give a full idea of the results of our labors. Our average attendance at each service has been forty-five, of which the greatest portion has consisted of seamen and boatmen. The afternoon attendance has been larger than the morning, averaging about sixty-five, and the largest portion being also seamen and boatmen. The aggregate number of those to whom we have distributed Bibles, Testaments, Prayer-Books, and miscellaneous religious books, has been nearly 1,700.

The number of visits made on board of the vessels in the harbor amounts to about 4,000; and among the men thus visited there have been distributed, in connection with those attending the Chapel, about 45,000 pages of tracts.

We have also established a very neat and pleasant Reading Room at No. 90 Barrow-street, where there is every convenience for reading the daily papers and monthly magazines, and also books on literary, scientific and religious subjects, and materials are furnished the men for writing to their friends, which should make it highly attractive to those who are destitute of a home, and who desire a pleasant place of retirement for a leisure hour. It remains, however, to be seen whether they will appreciate these advantages.

Many of these seafaring men have been spiritually benefited by their attendance at this Church. Over one hundred of the Communicants are masters, officers and sailors.

Free Church of the Holy Martyrs, New-York; the Rev. JAMES MILLETT, Rector.

Celebration of Divine Service: twice on Sunday, with two sessions of the Sunday-School. The Holy Communion administered monthly, and on those festivals for which a preface is provided.

We had a nice class for Confirmation, (last report was twenty-three persons,) but the hardness of the times caused most of them to wander away in search of work, mostly to distant sections of the country. We bring in many children and adults by baptism, and administer the Holy Communion in houses to invalids who, by reason of age and infirmity, are unable to attend the public services. We thus humbly endeavor to cultivate the waste places around us and our own share of the Master's vineyard; that when the Good Shepherd (who gave his life for the flock) appears, we, with our lambs and flocks, may be gathered into His eternal fold.

Having assumed the Rectorship of this Parish only a month ago, I am unable to give an accurate report. Not only in numbers but also in finances the Parish is very weak, Trinity Corporation having withdrawn her stipend shortly after the death of the former Rector, the Rev. Caleb Clapp, who died January 29th, 1878. There is, however, hope for the future of the Parish; the attendance on the services has been increasing from Sunday to Sunday, and the Sunday-School has been re-organized.

I continue my Missionary work among the Spanish speaking population of this City and Brooklyn, white and colored, making domiciliary visits, and distributing Books of Common Prayer, Bibles and Evangelical Tracts in the Spanish language. I receive, very often, letters from Panama, Jamaica, Cuba and South America, asking for Bibles, Books of Common Prayer and Tracts, in Spanish, that I always send. The influence of the Church of Santiago reaches all these Spanish countries in America, because, in almost all of them, there are some persons who are members of our Church, or have been present at our services during their visits to this country.

The "Parish Mission" House, now in the sixth year of its existence, has been liberally sustained. In its Infirmary several sick persons have found tender care and nursing. It has been instrumental in finding employment for many, and has distributed an average of from 15 to 20 meals a day to families destitute and in need of food. The Sister in charge, with her two associates, aided by the services of several of the ladies of the Parish, have been most diligent in their ministrations to the needy and suffering, and in giving instruction to the classes of men, women and children who meet every week at the Mission House.

The Parish, all things considered, may be said to be in a prosperous condition. The morning services are well attended, and the interest manifested by the attendance during the Lenten season is very remarkable. In these latter services, I have been greatly assisted by many of the Clergy, for which I take this opportunity to return heartfelt thanks. From various causes, the attendance at Evening Service is not what we could desire. A very marked improvement is being made by the addition of a Recess Chancel, through the liberality of a member, and frescoing of the entire edifice by the congregation.

The Parish Home continues its usefulness, and while we have lost by death one of its inmates, there are still eight who are spending the evening of their days in quiet and with comfort within.

The services have been regularly performed there on Friday evenings. Donations in money and in kind to the amount of nearly $250 have been made by members and friends during the year. The Easter offerings were creditable, and have been reserved towards payment of the bonded debt of the Church. The Rev. John Peterson, although passed his three-score, is still aiding us in Parish work.

The Rector finds no occasion to alter his report, in any essential particular, from that of last year, unless it be in this, that a vigorous, albeit quiet effort has been commenced for the immediate reduction of the Church debt, and its systematic extinguishment. Considerable progress has been already made. Meanwhile, the income of the Parish is large, and its general condition safe and prosperous.

In Spiritual things, the Rector continues to enjoy the hearty and harmonious co-operation of his able assistant, the Rev. Frederick Courtney, and is, moreover, sustained by a corps of Lay helpers, male and female, whose "works and labor, that proceedeth of love," are constantly manifest in the Missionary and charitable operations of St. Thomas' Parish.

Appended is the report of the Rev. the Minister in charge of St. Thomas' Chapel. It exhibits a successful and growing work, but does not give, since it cannot, the wholesome and elevating influence, which this important outpost derives from the character, fidelity and excellent spirit of the Pastor.

The congregation connected with the Chapel has felt, in the most stringent form, the straightness of the times. Many families have suffered the most terrible privations, and a large portion of the time of the Minister in charge has been occupied in alleviating their material wants. Coal has been distributed liberally, and shoes and clothing provided, in many cases of absolute nakedness and destitution. Consideration for their temporal need has led those, who hitherto have been negligent of their Spiritual duties, to attend service both regularly and devoutly. The weekly offertory has, of necessity, felt the effect of want of work by an impoverished people.

In presenting this, the first annual report, but third of our existence, we are happy to be able to say that we have cause for thankfulness and encouragement.

The Church is exerting a strong and acknowledged influence for good. It has gained all to its worship in this neighborhood whom it is reasonable to expect. Though exceedingly poor, it is stepping week by week out of debt, and will in a few months clear off all its indebtedness. Its next care will be to raise money for the purchase of two lots of ground on which to move, as the present lots are only leased.

During the summer the Church was furnished with white ash pews, the generous gift of Mrs. Archibald Watt, presented through her grandson, Mr. Thomas L. Watt.

This report of the German Mission, west of Central Park, closes on Whitsun-Day, June 9, 1878, when I, after ten years hard labor on that field, held my last Divine Service and Communion with my people. The Mission was a success. But, in consequence of financial embarrassments, the Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society transferred the Mission to the care of St. Michael's Vestry; since then, I have been in connection with the Church German Society, conducting Sunday's Divine Services wherever I am requested; otherwise following my medical profession.

Robert Parker Parrott, for many years a Warden of this Parish, died on Monday morning, December 24, 1877. He had ever been a generous friend to Cold Spring, the chief benefactor to the Church, and a ready helper to all in need. His life was eminently marked by consistent piety and a child-like faith. The magnificent Church which he built, almost entirely at his own expense, is a noble and enduring monument to his liberality and zeal.

The ladies of the Parish have, during the past year, as in previous years, labored faithfully in procuring materials and making garments for the poor. Recently they have made nearly 200 garments for the orphans under the care of the Sisters of St. Mary, at Memphis. Their work has been most earnest and useful.

The beautiful Church of this Parish, though consecrated twenty-five years ago, has been neither finished nor paid for. It owes $6,000, and in addition has been burdened, for the last few years, with a large floating debt. This latter is nearly discharged, and it is hoped that the coming Conventional year will see the beginning at least of the payment of the mortgage.

Besides the amounts reported above, upwards of $650 has been raised to meet indebtedness and to effect some repairs in the Rectory, which were deemed essential to the health of the occupants, while the Parish Guild has raised for the prosecution of its work, within the Parish and for Missions, an amount in work and money aggregating probably more than $300.

A fine choir has been formed during the year, and the Sunday-School has increased largely. The little band of parishioners co-operate heartily in all the efforts of their Rector, and sustained by the Light, Defence and Food of the Holy Sacrifice of the Altar, so frequently celebrated, priest and people are endeavoring to contend earnestly—where there seems any thing and everybody to contend against—for the fullness and integrity of the Catholic Faith.

I have been in charge of the Parish since June 1st, 1878.

Being only in Deacon's orders, I am dependent on the kindness of Priests abroad for the administration of the Holy Communion. Parish is weak in funds and membership. I have tried to establish additional services to those reported, but am not encouraged.

I am not yet sufficiently acquainted with the Parish need and demand to give a satisfactory report.

I took charge of this Parish January 1st, and entered upon my duties the Sunday following. The statistics given above scarcely show the exact number in communion with the Church. Some having residences here are with us during the Summer only, and as they are canonically connected with Parishes in the city, I have not included them in the report.

From the proceeds of a fair held by the ladies of the congregation during the month of July, the Church has been newly carpeted, and means are on hand for replenishing the Library of the Sunday-School with books, and procuring winter clothing for poor children.

The services are largely attended, and the Parish is now, through Divine favor, in a good condition.

The regular services of the Church and the intermingling of Church people with the other people of the community, is gradually effecting a revolution in public sentiment, undermining prejudice and opening many doors to the ministrations of the Church. A more favorable opportunity for the erection of a small Church building could not be desired. Our Building Fund amounts to $995.

This Parish has no Rector at present. Our late Rector, Rev. Gustav Edmund Purucker, resigned his charge. The resignation was accepted, and took effect July 1st, 1878; since that time we have had supplies from Sunday to Sunday.

Out of $1,087 47 raised for Parish purposes, the sum of $104 was raised expressly for Sunday-School books, and for a Christmas Tree for the children.

We have a subscription started for a new Church, and the prospects are very encouraging. We have a building fund on hand of $3,000 and over, raised principally through the efforts of the ladies through a course of years past; we also have on subscription, (and promised,) about $4,000; we hope to raise the aggregate amount up to $10,000, and trust that it will be accomplished.

This Parish the past year has been going on in its usual quiet way. The Rector has been for a few weeks interrupted in customary out-door duties, but he has great reason to be thankful for the ready and effective aid of his Lay-Reader, and the lady Superintendent of the Sunday-School. The distant School, begun the last year, has been discontinued, as we were not able providentially longer to sustain it. Notwithstanding the pressure of the times, it will be seen in the record that the liberality of the Parish to the various Church charities fall little short of those of last year. The Rector's family also has by no means been neglected.

It can safely be said, that the Parish is steadily improving. The membership will receive an addition when the Episcopal visitation takes place in November.

The great drawback to the growth of this Parish, aside from its unfortunate location—over a mile from the depot—has been a debt of some $800. The Parish being small, it has been felt as quite a drag upon it. The parishioners were very zealous in the Fair, which enabled us to clear it off.

There is harmony in our little congregation, and a desire to advance the interests of the Parish is manifested.

OTHER CLERICAL REPORTS.

THE Bishop of the Diocese has also received Reports, according to the Canon, from the following Clergymen of the Diocese, not having Parochial or Missionary charge:

The Rev. SAMUEL M. AKERLY reports as follows:

I have been without any permanent cure, but during the past winter I had temporary charge of St. Thomas' Church, New-Windsor, and held the usual Sunday and week day services. I have preached, in all, 39 times, and assisted at 10 additional services.

The Rev. MERRIWETHER BRODNAX reports as follows:

During the last twelve months I have been engaged in supplying vacant pulpits and Parishes in New-York and vicinity. Applications for my services, for Sundays, may be addressed to 160 Fulton-street, southwest corner of Broadway, New-York City.

The Rev. SAMUEL BUEL, D. D., Professor of Systematic Divinity and Dogmatic Theology in the General Theological Seminary, reports as follows:

I respectfully report that, during the past year, I have discharged the duties of my Professorship in the General Theological Seminary, and have also officiated in the City of New-York and its vicinity, and also in the Chapel of the General Seminary. I have celebrated one marriage.

The Rev. C. P. A. BURNETT, Deacon, reports:

On Trinity and the three following Sundays I assisted in the services at two Churches in New-York City, preaching three times.

Since the 10th of July I have been acting as Assistant Minister in the Parish of Holy Trinity, Highland, N. Y., and have been constantly occupied with my duties here, and with Missionary work in the surrounding country.

The Rev. H. E. DUNCAN reports:

That, since last Convention, partly in Grace Church, Elizabeth, of which he is the Rector, and partly in other Churches of said City, he has officiated as follows:

I have read the service 182 times, and assisted in the same 18 times; preached 96 times; administered the Holy Communion, in public and private, 20 times; baptized 28 children and 1 adult; attended 13 funerals; celebrated 3 weddings; catechized 12 times, and made 13 addresses.

The Rev. WILLIAM E. EIGENBRODT, D. D., Professor of Pastoral Theology in the General Theological Seminary, respectfully reports:

That, besides the regular discharge of his duties in the General Theological Seminary, he has officiated, continually, in various Parish Churches, by saying prayers, preaching, baptizing, performing the burial service and administering the Holy Communion.

The Rev. RANDAL C. HALL, Professor of Hebrew in the General Theological Seminary, reports:

During the past year, in addition to my duties in the General Theological Seminary, I have assisted in the services of St. Stephen's Church of this city.

The Rev. ROBERT HOLDEN, Presbyter, respectfully reports:

That, besides his duties as Rector of Trinity School, he has, since last Convention, officiated, as called upon, reading services and preaching in various Parishes in the Diocese.

For the last three months he has read service and preached twice every Sunday at St. Mary's, Beechwood. The regular morning and afternoon services in that Church, having been permanently resumed since the first Sunday in June, will be continued under the charge of the Rev. Clarence Buel.

The Rev. STEPHEN F. HOLMES respectfully reports:

On Trinity Sunday, June 8th, 1873, I entered upon my duties as Chaplain of St. Barnabas' House and Chapel, New-York City. I served the New-York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society in this capacity until May 2d, 1876, when I found myself suffering from ill health to such an extent as to be compelled to cease all ministerial labor. The Executive Committee of that Society most kindly allowed me five months leave of absence, with a view to the restoration of my strength, but at the end of that period, being still unequal to any clerical work, I, on September 26th, 1876, tendered my resignation.

During the two years that have elapsed since then, I have been convalescing slowly, but, I trust, surely. With returning health I have from time to time officiated in the services of the Church, and during the last three months have, with your approval, been taking temporary charge of a Parish in a neighboring Diocese, in the absence of its Rector in Europe.

I have solemnized one marriage and assisted at one funeral, both of which are recorded in the register of the Church of the Beloved Disciple, New-York City.

The Rev. ROBERT W. LEWIS respectfully reports:

That, during the last Conventional year, he has assisted very frequently in the service, and occasionally preached at the Church of the Holy Trinity, New-York City.

He is now officiating and preaching every Sunday afternoon in a missionary enterprise at Pelhamville, Westchester County, and the prospect thus far is encouraging.

The Rev. JOHN R. LUNDY, D. D., residing at 1820 Rittenhouse Square, Philadelphia, reports:

Services, 62. Sermons, 41. Baptisms, (ad. 15, children, 13,) 28. Holy Communion celebrated 4 times. Marriages, 3. Burials, 2. Easter offerings, $11 69. Church building, $2,000.

The Rev. EDWIN A. NICHOLS reports as follows:

After nearly a year of great prostration, weakness and sickness, God has favored me with a year of comparative health, which I have endeavored to improve in clerical services, (mostly gratuitous,) as opportunity has offered, and have administered the Holy Communion, once; baptized one infant, and officiated at two funerals, and have read prayers repeatedly in the daily service.

The Rev. NEWTON PERKINS, Deacon, respectfully reports:

That he has been officiating, (by permission of the Bishop,) during the past year, at Islip, in the Diocese of Long Island. During the months of March and April he assisted at Grace Church and Chapel, New-York City. His official acts have been reported in connection with the Churches where he has served.

The Rev. JOHN F. POTTER reports:

During the year just past I have officiated every Sunday, excepting three, when sickness prevented. My official acts are recorded in the various Parishes where performed.

The Rev. H. L. E. PRATT, M. A., respectfully reports:

That, since his removal from Richmond County to this City, he has officiated six months in charge of Grace Church, Jersey City, during the absence of the Rector—due notice of which appears in the Annual Report of the Rev. Dr. Rice, Journal of Convention of Northern New-Jersey, 1877. Also, for fourteen months, as Pastor of St. Mark's Church, Jersey City, having been constrained to decline, for sufficient reasons, a call to the Rectorship. Besides the above specified regular services, he has officiated and preached, nearly all other Sundays, in various Churches in this City and vicinity. He has baptized 40 infants and adults, presented 21 for Confirmation, married 4, buried 6, and made many visits to the sick, afflicted and needy.

The Rev. JOSEPH H. PRICE, D. D., respectfully reports:

That, including the Holy Communion as a distinct service, he has officiated at one one hundred and fourteen services. He has preached at thirteen of these services. He has officiated at seven funerals. He has also attended many meetings of Church societies. This year has been to him somewhat memorable. Soon after the adjournment of the last Convention he, by invitation of the Rector, attended the semi-Centennial of St. Paul's Church, Albany, where he was Rector three years and a half, from January, 1834. He went reluctantly, but had abundant reason to regret his reluctance. His reception, by both the Rector and congregation, was most cordial. Had he served the Church faithfully, during the forty years of his absence from it, he could not have received more graceful hospitality. He was especially gratified to find the Parish in so prosperous a condition. With no debt on the Church edifice, a Sunday-School of some six hundred children, a Mission Chapel in good condition, in short, with every element of efficiency fully developed, he could most heartily, as he did, bid his reverend brother, the Rev. Dr. Reese, God speed.

He has also to record a most edifying enjoyment of the last Holy Week. By invitation of the Minister in charge, he exercised his priestly office for Christ Church, Oyster Bay, Diocese of Long Island, on the evening of Maundy-Thursday and the morning of Easter Day, at 6 and 10.30 o'clock. He also preached on the evening of Good Friday, and at 10.30 on Easter Day. This Parish dates back to 1705, but has passed through severe trials and vicissitudes. Under the able and devoted ministration of its present Rector, the Rev. G. R. Van De Water, it has wonderfully revived, and gives promise of a strength and prosperity never before experienced. The Bishop of Long Island is to be heartily congratulated. I was indebted to the Rector for his generous hospitality.

The Rev. JOHN J. ROBERTS, D. D., respectfully reports:

That, in addition to his duties as President of the Society for the Blind, 219 West Fourteenth-street, and as teacher and lecturer at his residence, 148 Madison Avenue, he has taken clerical duty in several Parishes in the Dioceses of New-York and Massachusetts.

The Rev. WILLIAM WALSH, residing at Newburgh, N. Y., reports as follows:

During the past year I have officiated quite regularly in assisting the Rector of St. Paul's Church, Newburgh, and also on other occasional services. On Christmas Day I officiated and celebrated the Holy Communion in Trinity Church, Fishkill. For the first six months of this year, (1878,) I officiated one Sunday in each month at Trinity Church, Fishkill, and St. John Baptist Church, Glenham, and on each occasion celebrated the Holy Communion.

The Rev. C. T. WOODRUFF, Superintendent of the New-York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society, respectfully reports:

That, in addition to his duties as Superintendent, he has continued to fill the position of Chaplain of the Midnight Mission, 260 Greene-street, and also of the Infant Asylum, corner of Sixty-first-street and Tenth Avenue.

In the Midnight Mission he has officiated on 104 occasions; he has baptized 3 adults, admitted 8 to the Holy Communion, celebrated Holy Communion 20 times, and attended two funerals.

In the Infant Asylum he has officiated on 29 occasions, married one couple, baptized 49 children, and attended four funerals.

Aside from these institutions, he has married three couples, baptized 11 children, preached 35 times for his brethren, celebrated and assisted at the Holy Communion eight times, and attended eight funerals.

Summary.—Marriages, 4. Baptisms, 52. New Communicants: admitted, 8. Celebrations of the Holy Communion, 28. Burials, 14. Preached 96 sermons, and delivered 25 addresses.

His office is at 336 Mulbery-street, New-York City.

The following Report has also been received:

The Rt. Rev. GEORGE F. SEYMOUR, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of Springfield, Dean of the General Theological Seminary, and Professor of Ecclesiastical History in the same, respectfully reports:

That, since the last Convention, in addition to his duties in the General Theological Seminary, he has continued to fill the position of Chaplain in the House of Mercy, New-York, at the foot of West Eighty-sixth-street.

In this institution, which has for its object the reclamation of fallen women, he has officiated on two hundred and three occasions; he has baptized five adults and one infant. At the request of the Bishop of New-York, he has confirmed a class of ten, (his first Episcopal act,) admitted five to the Holy Communion, and buried one.

Outside of the House of Mercy he has baptized two infants, and attended four funerals. He has preached for his brethren, in various Churches in the City of New-York and vicinity, eighty-five times.

The Chaplain has been indebted to the Rev. Francis H. Stubbs for a weekly celebration of the Holy Communion, which he has kindly given the Sisters in charge on every Thursday morning throughout the year; also to the Rev. George C. Athole, who ministered most acceptably in the House during the month of July and part of August. It is with unfeigned sorrow the Chaplain will soon be obliged to lay down his work at the House of Mercy. His term of service, when completed, will extend through a period of nearly twelve years. It has been a labor of love, and, under God, he has been helped more than he can tell in words to persevere by the example, ever before him in the House, of the patient, gentle, long-suffering Sisters of St. Mary, who have been in charge of the institution since 1863.

Summary.—Baptisms, (ad. 5, inf. 3,) 8. Confirmed, 10. New Communicants: admitted, 5. Burials, 5. Preached 194 sermons. Celebrations of the Holy Communion, 67.

NOTE.—In some instances, contributions sent to the Treasurer immediately after the Convention of 1877, but before the preparation of the Table for 1877–78, being included in that year's Table, are not repeated in the Table which is above. The fact of the contribution will, in such case, appear by reference to such items in the Parochial Reports of this Journal in 1878. In this Table appear some contributions handed to the Treasurer since their official Reports to the Convention. This will account for any seeming discrepancy in a few instances between this Table and Parochial Reports.

* This includes the apportionment for the Salary of the Bishop.

Appendix:

No. IV.

NOTE.—According to a Resolution recorded on page 94 of the Journal of 1866, there is included in the following List of Churches of this Diocese the date of the admission into its Convention of such Churches as are in union with the same. It is to be observed, that such date is not always that of the origin or incorporation of the Parish.

A. Of these Parishes, some existed under Royal Charter, or otherwise, prior to the first Convention of the Diocese in 1785. This class is denoted by the letter A, placed after the date of admission into union.

B. A few others seem to have been admitted by the Conventions, in which they respectively appeared for the first time by their delegates, although mention of the admission seems to have been omitted by the Journal. Such are designated by the letter B.

C. The few, incorporated under the law of April 13, 1854, are marked by the letter C.

THE PROCEEDINGS

NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24TH, 1879.

THIS being the day fixed by the Constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New-York for the meeting of the Annual Convention of the same, a number of the Clergy and Laity assembled for Divine Service, at ten o'clock in the morning, at St. John's Chapel in the City of New-York, the place appointed by the Bishop for the meeting.

The Standing Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches presented the following Report:

Report

OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE INCORPORATION AND ADMISSION OF CHURCHES.

To the Diocesan Convention:

The Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches respectfully report as follows:

The application of Grace Church, Harlem, has been submitted to this Committee. The papers show the due incorporation of this Church by the name of "The Rector, Churchwardens and Vestrymen of Grace Church, Harlem, in the City and County of New-York," by a proper certificate of organization made May 6, 1864, and recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of New-York, May 7, 1864. The proceedings for this incorporation took place before the passage of the Act of 1868, c. 803, and therefore were conducted in conformity with the Act of 1813, then in force. The error of recording the certificate with the County Clerk and not with the Register is cured by the General Act of 1868, c. 471. The several documents required on this application are in due form to entitle the Church to admission.

The application of Grace Church, Millbrook, Dutchess county, shows an attempt to effect an incorporation made August 6, 1879; but the Committee deem it for the safety of the Church and its property, as well as for proper conformity to the Canons of the Diocese and the Statutes of this State, that certain errors should be corrected. The proceedings for incorporation being instituted since 1868, must conform to the law of that year, Chapter 803. A form of certificate for this purpose was furnished in the Appendix to the Diocesan Canons, edition of 1872, page 45, and edition of 1878, page 493; but the organic meeting appears to have followed a form given in the edition of 1864, page 61, and adapted only to the Act of 1813. The defects in the present certificate of incorporation are such as the following: It does not show that six persons were present at the meeting for organizing the corporation, nor that those present belonged to this Church, nor that the previous notice was publicly read on two Sundays next previous to the meeting.

By Canon IV., Section 1, "Every Church or congregation applying for admission, shall produce satisfactory evidence that not less than twenty-five persons, members of such Church, have habitually, for at least one year preceding such application, attended divine service in such Church or congregation." No such proof is contained in the papers.

The Committee cannot recommend the admission of the Church upon the documents submitted.

Your Committee recommend the adoption of the following resolution, viz.:

Resolved, That the Church organized under the corporate name of "The Rector, Churchwardens and Vestrymen of Grace Church, Harlem, in the City and County of New-York," be admitted unto union with the Church in this Diocese.

All which is respectfully submitted.

CHARLES TRACY, ALFRED B. BEACH, } Committee.

NEW-YORK, September 24, 1879.

The resolution recommended by this Committee was adopted, and Grace Church, Harlem, was admitted into union with the Convention.

It was also

Resolved, That the papers of Grace Church, Millbrook, be referred back to that Parish.

The Secretary informed the Convention that a Committee of the Convention of the Diocese of Albany had requested him to present a petition from that body to this Convention, and asked the pleasure of the Convention as to the reception of it.

Whereupon it was Ordered, That the petition from the Diocese of Albany be received and read.

It was then read, as follows:

To the Convention of the Diocese of New-York:

The petition of the Convention of the Diocese of Albany, by a Committee duly appointed for that purpose, asking for aid towards the endowment of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany, respectfully shows:

At the time of the division of the Diocese of New-York in 1868, and the erection of the Diocese of Albany, it was steadily contemplated in all the proceedings that the new Diocese of Albany, embracing Northern New-York, was entitled to and should receive pecuniary assistance from the old Diocese towards the endowment of its Episcopal Fund.

Bishop Potter, in his annual address to the Convention, October 1, 1868, says, (page 24:) "One word only in conclusion, in reference to the new Dioceses about to be formed out "of portions of the Diocese of New-York. Without anticipating the report of the Com- "mittee, now soon to be presented, I trust I only express the general feeling of this part of "the Diocese when I say, that the remaining and old Diocese of New-York ought ever to "cherish a warm interest in those whom she is now dismissing to a separate and inde- "pendent existence. Especially ought this to be so in regard to the new Diocese in the "North. For a long time to come her feeble Parishes and Mission Stations will be "numerous in proportion to her self-supporting and wealthy Parishes. She has been " willing to make this venture of faith; and undoubtedly in every such case the true " interest and dignity of a Diocese will be best promoted, in the long run, by cultivating " a spirit of independence and self-reliance. Nevertheless, they are our brethren, with " whom we have long taken sweet counsel, and I trust that our hearts will ever be open " to reasonable appeals in behalf of their pious and charitable works. It will be remem- " bered that at the last Annual Convention a Committee was appointed to endeavor to " raise an endowment of forty thousand dollars, in addition to the endowment of forty " thousand dollars for the Episcopate, to be raised in the North. So long as the success " of the Northern effort was a matter of doubt, it was impossible for the Committee to " make any progress with their work in this part of the Diocese. Now that the success " in the North, and the organization of a Diocese there are become a certainty, I hope " that further efforts here may be more prosperous. Trinity Church encourages these " efforts by offering $5,000, on condition that the entire sum of $40,000 be made up in " this part of the Diocese. I would recommend that the Committee appointed at the " last Convention be continued, with a view to the renewal of their efforts, and I would " most heartily commend them to the good will and liberality of our brethren in this " section of the Diocese." (New-York Convention Journal of 1868, p. 132.)

The Committee of Fifteen on the erection of the proposed new Dioceses recommended the adoption of the following resolution; and the same was adopted by the Convention of New-York on the 14th day of November, 1867:

" V.-(1.) That this Convention recognizes the duty resting on the older and more wealthy portions of the Diocese to aid liberally in the endowment of the Episcopate of the new Diocese in Northern New-York, and most earnestly commends this measure to the sympathies and generous contributions of the members of the Church.

" (2) That a Special Committee of Seven be appointed, (with power to add to their number,) to take such measures as to them may seem most expedient, for the accomplishment of the important object contemplated by this resolution." (New-York Convention Journal of 1867, p. 98.)

A Committee of Seven was appointed by the Convention of the Diocese of New-York in 1867, "On the Endowment of the Episcopate of the new Diocese in Northern New-York," according to the fifth resolution above set forth, consisting of the Rev. William F. Morgan, D. D., the Rev. Morgan Dix, D. D., the Rev. Edward A. Washburn, D. D., Messrs. Edward Jones, George Merritt, Edward Haight and William Alexander Smith, which Committee was continued until 1869, and collected $1,325, and were then discharged, (New-York Convention Journal, 1869, p. 37,) and a new Committee of Seven appointed, consisting of the Rev. Alfred B. Beach, D. D., the Rev. George H. Houghton, D. D., the Rev. Cornelius E. Swope, D. D., Messrs. John Buckley, Jr., William H. Guion, Hamilton Bruce and Theodosius Bartow. (Journal, p. 78.)

The money collected by the first above named Committee, and now deposited in bank, with interest to September 26, 1877, amounts to $1,438 72, as appears by the report of Edward Haight, Treasurer of that date, (New-York Convention Journal, 1878, p. 58,) and which is all the money that has been raised, under the resolution aforesaid, by the said two Committees or either of them, or by any other persons in the Diocese of New-York, for the object contemplated, viz., "The Endowment of the Episcopate of the new Diocese of Northern New-York," to the knowledge or belief of your petitioner.

The great need of the Diocese of Albany is apparent, when it is known that its Episcopal Fund is now only $38,059.25, after ten years of effort to increase it. Whereas, $80,000 was the sum fixed upon to be raised, one-half of it to come from the old Diocese. (See Bishop Potter's Address, above quoted.)

The Bishop's salary ($5,000) has to be paid; it is no more than it should be, and was fixed in contemplation of help from the old Diocese to make up the Endowment Fund. More than half of it ($2,953.25 this year) is every year assessed upon and paid by the Parishes. And the weight of this burden on the Parishes is measured by the fact that the annual assessment upon some Parishes, for the Bishop's salary, amounts to a considerable part of that paid to the Rector, in at least one instance being ten per cent., and that where the Parish had made a fair contribution towards the Endowment of the Episcopal Fund. This hardship is felt throughout the Diocese, and most severely in the weaker Parishes. The Mission Work of the Diocese is crippled, and the growth of the Church is retarded by these assessments. Albany, in her weakness, collects annually as much, or more, than New-York in her strength, from the Parishes, for the support of the Bishop. Northern New-York, which, until 1869, was the great Mission field of the old Diocese, is now dependent exclusively upon its own resources. Of our 117 Clergy, 39 (exactly one-third) are missionaries, and the absolute demands of our present missionary work require at least $10,000 per annum before any new stations can be established. The great burden of supporting the Episcopate is, therefore, a grievous hindrance to the spread of the Gospel. This state of things would be changed if the contemplated Endowment from the old Diocese could be realized.

The Diocese of Albany has already, in former communications, urged upon the Diocese of New-York its moral and equitable claim to relief, but without effect, owing to the strong feeling against dividing the Episcopal Fund, and to the failure of the efforts hitherto made to secure an adequate sum by subscription. It would neither be dignified for the Diocese of Albany, nor respectful to the Diocese of New-York, merely to repeat the substance of the communications already made. But we take the liberty of suggesting that the object which we assume that both Dioceses have at heart may be accomplished in a way that is not open to the objections which have hitherto prevailed. Instead of the sum of $40,000, contemplated eleven years ago, the Diocese of Albany is willing to accept an annuity of $ for years, the amount which the New-York Convention may feel able to give being added to the capital of the Albany Episcopal Fund. It appears from the report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of New-York, dated September 25, 1878, (New-York Convention Journal, 1878, p. 43,) that the capital of that fund was then $110,602, securely invested at six and seven per cent. interest; and that the further sum of $11,000, belonging to the surplus income fund invested, was in the hands of the said Trustees. This latter sum of surplus income is understood to be at the absolute disposal of the Convention of New-York, and may be appropriated or applied in any manner it sees fit, without depreciating or doing any detriment to the Episcopal Fund, or neglecting the objects and purposes for which it was created, or betraying any trust in relation thereto. Out of this surplus income fund, and its accumulations in the future, with the aid of very moderate annual contributions, may be made, if the Convention of New-York is so disposed, appropriations from time to time to the always contemplated "Endowment of the Episcopate in the Northern Diocese," until the sum is fulfilled.

Your petitioner would not be guilty of the indelicacy of seeming to dictate to the Convention of New-York a method of transacting its own affairs, or of disposing of its own funds in its own way, or of discharging moral assurances given in its own good time; but it is humbly asked, that "Aid towards the Endowment of the Northern Diocese" may begin to come soon, in some way which the wisdom and liberality of the Convention may devise, and before it is too late to be a blessing. Nothing has been said about the rights of your petitioner, as a contributor, to share in the Episcopal Fund of New-York. Nothing will be said. No statement on that subject in this presence can be necessary, with the history of the division of the Diocese, the generous and encouraging expression of love and favor, especially towards the Northern Diocese, then made, and the moral assurances attending that action, all fresh in your memories, and recorded in your Journals.

And your petitioner will ever pray, &c.

The Report of the New-York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society was presented and read by the Rev. Curtiss T. Woodruff, Superintendent.

Report

OF THE NEW-YORK PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CITY MISSION SOCIETY.

The Executive Committee of the New-York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society respectfully report:

That, with God's blessing, they have been enabled to conduct the affairs of the Society through the past year to a successful result.

The plan adopted about two years ago of making up a budget at the beginning of the year, containing appropriations of a certain amount to each department of the work, basing the estimates on the receipts of the previous year, has proved a complete success. The Treasurer had so carefully and thoroughly collated the receipts and disbursements of former years, that his calculations were found to be surprisingly correct, so that your Committee have the pleasure of reporting again, that the actual expenses of the Society have been paid from the current income. In doing this, it has not been necessary to reduce any of the salaries, nor curtail the expenses of any department. The whole field remains as it has been for several years.

But, while your Committee congratulate the Church, and especially all who have contributed to enable them to make so favorable a report, they feel bound also to report that there is a small floating debt. The facts are these: At the close of the year 1866–67—the year before the present system was adopted—there was a deficiency of $1,600, which was not met by the receipts of 1867 and 1868, and was carried over, hoping that the income of the past year would be increased sufficiently to dispose of it. That was not the case, however.

Then, again, when the new building, 306 Mulberry-street, was nearly completed, it was thought desirable to make 304 to correspond with it, adding, in effect, another story, by raising the walls and changing the roof, and giving so much additional room. This was not included in the estimates for the year, but, as it could be done much more economically while men and materials were on the ground, and as your Committee had some assurances of outside assistance to meet the additional expense, it was decided to do the work. The consequence is, that with the deficiency of 1866 and 1867, there is a present debt of less than $3,000, which your Committee feel confident will be disposed of during the coming year.

It was hoped that the Churches would so increase their offerings last year that the Society could take a step in advance and enlarge the field of operations. The necessity of doing so was very plain, but the times did not seem favorable, and your Committee can only now rejoice that the Society held its ground, paying the current expenses from the income. Having done this for two years last past, having, by God's good providence, been led to adopt a plan which has proved to be both safe and economical, your Committee feel that they may hopefully appeal to the Clergy and Laity of this Convention, and to the Churches in this Diocese, to give them the means to go forward. They feel that they have earned the right to ask this increased support; that they deserve this encouragement after their long struggle with debt and doubt and discouragement.

It is acknowledged that the present work of the Society is, indeed, great; but yet it is small in comparison with what needs to be done, with what might be done, and with what the Church in this City ought to do No-where else does there exist a Mission field which has so many possibilities connected with it as here. Nowhere else will a generous sowing produce such quick and abundant fruits, and here, as nowhere else, may the sower and reaper rejoice together.

Now, the trifling addition of $6,000 to the present income would enable your Committee to employ two more Clergymen for Blackwell's Island, one for Ward's Island, where we have none, and one more for the charitable institutions of the City. This would more than double the number of public services, and largely increase the bedside and other visitations.

It seems a small thing to ask, when it is known that there are at least 10,000 souls in the public institutions, who may be reached more or less every day by the missionaries of this Society, and that the influences for good are only limited by the want of means to make them available and potential.

It has been well said, "the first thing really needed for any work is the WILL. Where there is a well-informed, warm-hearted and deliberate will in the community to do any good work, it is well nigh done—i. e., so far as it can be in this world—it is well begun and will go on." And your Committee are perfectly sure, that if this Society were placed second only to the Parish in the thoughts and prayers and benefactions of Christian people, it would not only take its true position, but become such a power for good, that both Church and State would be daily benefited by its operations. Its work is well worth the doing, for glory and honor are in it, and after that eternal life.

That they are not over sanguine will appear from the following summary of what has been done the past year by the small force of workers which the limited income allowed: 1,511 public and 204 private services, with an aggregate attendance of 93,976 persons; 19 persons confirmed; Holy Communion administered to an aggregate of 3,116 individuals; 4 couples united in Holy matrimony; 11 adults and 219 children baptized; 84 Christian burials; an average of 107 children and 10 teachers in St. Barnabas' Sunday School; of 41 children in the Day School of the Day Nursery and St. Barnabas' House; of 140 girls and 18 teachers in the Industrial School; of 38 women supplied with sewing, weekly for six months in the Fall and Winter; of 14 women present at the weekly Mothers' Meeting; 1,027 families and 27,410 persons visited by the missionaries and sisters in public institutions and tenement houses, for purposes of relief and religious teaching; books drawn from our libraries on Blackwell's Island 26,539 times; 26,574 papers and magazines distributed; 2,120 volumes drawn from the "Gilbert Library" in the Tombs by our missionary for the use of the prisoners, and 2,340 magazines distributed by him among them. The Church and the community are only just beginning to realize the importance of supplying the public institutions with abundant reading matter. Here is an influence, common to all, which reaches the innermost recesses of the hearts of the criminal and unfortunate, when no voice would be listened to, and evolves thence thoughts and feelings and desires that are uplifting and heavenward in their tendency. Let the supply be fully equal to the demand.

In the department of St. Barnabas' House, which is, perhaps, the pleasantest part of the work of this Society, and is in charge of the Sisterhood of the Good Shepherd, under the direction of your Committee, 1,200 women and children were admitted and cared for; 126 children taken into the Day Nursery; making a total of 1,326,-and 19,229 lodgings, and 115,395 meals furnished.

Surely such a charity should not be lightly esteemed. Indeed, the praise thereof should be in all the Churches and in all hearts, and means should be provided so amply, that the door of St. Barnabas' House shall always swing wide open to the ring of every poor and deserving woman and child. The generosity which built and furnished the new building, and thus greatly enlarged the capacity for usefulness, should be matched by such generous offerings that the capacity may be ever fully tested. Then the Master will smilingly say, "Well done! Well done!"

Your Committee cannot close this Report without calling attention to the tender and graceful MEMORIAL to the Society from one of the most honored and honorable men in our midst, having for its object to perpetuate the memory of a departed companion, whose life was full of loving ministrations, and who was a warm friend of St. Barnabas' House, "by creating a permanent and steadily increasing Fund, the income of which shall be annually and exclusively expended in supplying flowers, fruit and other similar comforts, to the poor and afflicted assisted by this Society and its assistants in and about St. Barnabas' House."

"Such Fund to be increased from time to time by contributions from those who may sympathize with its objects, and all to be kept safely invested in approved and productive securities."

"To secure the growth of the Fund, one-half of the income thereof shall be annually invested to increase the principal by its accumulations until the yearly income shall amount to at least $700."

The proposition was gratefully accepted by the Society, and the Fund was created by a transfer to the Treasurer, on the part of the honorable memorialist, of $300 of the capital stock of the National Bank of Commerce in New-York, with the dividend thereon, payable last January. It is to be known as "THE MARY ROSALIE RUGGLES' FUND."

Contributions have been received from various persons, so that, in the first six months of its existence, it amounts to over $600. In the language of the Rt. Rev. the Bishop, when expressing his approval of the Fund, your Committee "hope that it may receive many additions, and long remain a source of comfort and pleasure to the sick and afflicted, as well as a testimony to the considerate Christian kindness of the donors.

In closing this Report, your Committee desire to express their firm conviction that the future of this Society is full of encouragement, and that the time is not distant when it will be the great channel through which the free-will offerings of the charitable will flow to benefit the unrenewed, and the sick and suffering poor among us.

Intensely thankful to both Clergy and Laity for help in the past, they intend to go on in the path of duty, working by faith, relying on the Church seeing, it may be, only very imperfect results as compared with their desires, but remembering that there is another side to this work—the right side—even the heavenly, where all true and earnest labor for the Master—wrought out in the twilight of earth—will be turned into beautiful realities in the light and glory of the unending life in His presence above.

The Clergy in the employ of the Society are: The Rev. C. T. Woodruff, Superintendent, who is Chaplain of the "Midnight Mission," and of the "New-York Infant Asylum," corner of Sixty-first-street and Tenth Avenue; the Rev. S. B. Moore, Missionary in charge of St. Barnabas' House and Chapel, 304 and 306 Mulberry-street; the Rev. P. J. V. Van Roosbroeck, Missionary in charge of Bellevue Hospital and Visitor to the Emigrant and Homœopathic Hospital and the Lunatic Asylum on Ward's Island; the Rev. J. G. B. Heath, Missionary to the Tombs, the Jefferson, Essex Market, Harlem and Yorkville Prisons, the Ludlow-street Jail, the Colored Home, the House of Detention and the Nursery and Child's Hospital; the Rev. Wm. G. French, Missionary to the Lunatic Asylum, Work House, Penitentiary, Alms House and Charity Hospital on Blackwell's Island; the Rev. N. F. Ludlum, Financial Agent and Visitor to Roosevelt Hospital.

NEW-YORK, September 25, 1879.

The Secretary of the Convention presented the following Report:

Report

OF THE SECRETARY OF THE CONVENTION.

The Secretary of the Convention begs leave to report:

That during the last year he has, in obedience to the Convention, recorded in the Register of the Diocese the certificates of the reception of nineteen Clergymen into the Diocese by the Bishop; and of the settlement of twenty-five Clergymen in Cures within it. He has also complied with the order of the last Convention respecting the printing and distribution of the Journal of its Proceedings. Many journals from various Dioceses have reached him during the same period. The whole collection of the journals, both of this Convention and of other Dioceses, bound into volumes, and belonging to this body, remains, by permission of the authorities of the General Theological Seminary, on deposit in the Library of that Institution.

The Secretary begs to add, that a supply of the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese of New-York is placed in the care of Messrs. Pott, Young & Co., at their book-store, in the Cooper Union, New-York, for the convenience of the Clergy of the Diocese who may need them.

All which is respectfully submitted.

WM. E. EIGENBRODT,
Secretary of the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New-York.

NEW-YORK, September 24, 1879.

The Convention took a recess for half an hour.

The time of recess having expired, the Convention re-assembled.

The Report of the Missionary Committee of the Diocese was presented and read by the Rev. Cornelius E. Swope, D. D.:

Report

OF THE MISSIONARY COMMITTEE OF THE DIOCESE OF NEW-YORK.

The Missionary Committee of the Diocese begs leave to report, that during the past year the work committed to its care has been prosecuted with a success fully commensurate with the means placed at its disposal. Many obstacles have been met with in the discharge of its trusts; the chief among which has been the lack of funds sufficient to meet the great and growing needs of the Diocese. While there exists an extensive and important missionary field within the borders of our own Diocese, depending solely for its support upon the funds placed at the disposal of your Committee, an impression, unfortunately, seems to prevail in many quarters, that all Mission work outside of the City of New-York falls more or less within the province of the General Missionary Board, whose appeals are constantly before the Church. There is no special agency employed for the purpose of presenting the claims of Diocesan Missions, so that your Committee is left ordinarily to depend upon the unsolicited offerings of such of the Parishes of the Diocese as may feel an interest in its work, or now and then, in great emergencies, to invoke the kind interposition of the Bishop, in order that its needs may be made known, and the means for the successful prosecution of its mission may be provided. Recognizing the difficulty of furnishing such details of the progress of our work as are often called for with a view of creating a warmer interest in its behalf, we cannot but deplore the fact that so important an agency for the maintenance and extension of the interests of the Church should be left to such uncertain and precarious means of support.

We would, therefore, respectfully ask whether it might not be wise and well for the Convention, by means of resolution or otherwise, to recommend that an offering in aid of the Missions of the Diocese be made in each and every Parish, where there is no special hindrance, on the occasion of the visitation of the Bishop.

There are at present thirty-three Missionaries with forty Stations. These Missionaries are laboring faithfully and earnestly in a large extent of territory, among a people widely scattered and without the means of self-support. Were the stipends furnished through your Committee withdrawn, the labors of the Missionaries must be abandoned, and a large section of our Diocese be left destitute of the ministrations of the Church.

During the past year we have been encouraged by sundry signs of progress, so that while we cannot but feel anxious on account of the deficiency which must appear in the Treasurer's Report, we cannot abandon the hope that a renewed interest in the cause of Diocesan Missions may be awakened, and that the means may be provided not only for the successful prosecution of our work as it is, but for an extension of that work proportionate to its increasing claims.

Our Report would be incomplete without, at least, a reference to the efficient aid rendered to our work by the several Convocations of the Diocese. They have a continual oversight of the several Mission Stations, and assist them materially, in addition to the help which this Committee is enabled to extend.

In conclusion, we beg to state, that no efforts have been wanting on our part to increase the offerings made to the Missionary Fund, and to remind our brethren of the Clergy and the Laity, that during the three months immediately preceding the meeting of the Convention it is especially difficult to make provision for the payment of the quarterly stipend due to the Missionaries on the 1st of October, and do earnestly implore their liberal co-operation to enable us to provide for the deficiency in the treasury of the Committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. E. SWOPE, Secretary.

Report

OF THE SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING RELIGION AND LEARNING IN THE STATE OF NEW-YORK.

The Superintendent of the Society for Promoting Religion and Learning in the State of New-York, as the Canonical Agent of the Diocese for distributing all funds for Theological Education, would most respectfully report:

That during the past Conventional year the following sums have been contributed for the purposes of the Society, within the Diocese of New-York:

St. Peter's Church, Peekskill,	$11 72
Church of the Annunciation, New-York,	13 71
All Saints' Church, Briar Cliff, Sing Sing,	27 29

St. Thomas' Church, Amenia,	6 27
St. Peter's Church, Westchester,	46 39
Church of the Holy Innocents, Harlem,	2 00

Church of the Divine Love, Montrose,	3 00
Grace Church, Middletown,	8 00
St. Stephen's College Chapel,	10 00
Trinity Church, Saugerties,	17 16
St. Mary's Church, Cold Spring,	3 00
Making a total of	$469 31

which may be slightly increased during the present session of the Convention:

These annual reports of the Society to the Convention are little more than reiterated statements of the importance of Christian education, and the inadequacy of the contributions made by the several Parishes of the Diocese, in accordance with the provisions of the Canon, for the furtherance of that great work. Upon referring to the Journals of the Convention for the past ten years, it will be seen that while the growth of the Church, as indicated by the number of Parishes, has perhaps more than kept pace with an increasing population, the contributions for the cause of Theological Education remain substantially the same in amount.

In 1870 the amount contributed was				$761 99
" 1871	"	"	"	950 04
" 1872	"	"	"	737 25
" 1873	"	"	"	763 82

This somewhat discouraging fact may be attributed either to a want of interest in the object, or to a lack of confidence in the judicious expenditure of the funds contributed, or to the impression that the endowment of the Society for Promoting Religion and Learning is more than sufficient to meet all the demands that may be made upon it; it does not require to be supplemented by the voluntary offerings of the Church. Assuming that this latter impression is the prevailing impression, and explains the fact under consideration, it may be sufficient to say that the income of the Society is even more than expended, and is no longer an adequate provision for accomplishing the object of the endowment. For while the income of the Society increases but slowly under the most favorable conditions, and has even diminished of late on account of the stringency of the times, the number of applicants for aid is steadily increasing. The Seminary is crowded with Students, and the incoming class is the largest on record since its foundation. It becomes a serious question whether young men can be encouraged to devote themselves to the work of the sacred ministry, with a reasonable assurance that they will be assisted during their season of preparation. St. Stephen's College, Annandale, which has accomplished so noble a work for the Church, is at length obliged to limit the number of its Students, and turn away men of character and capacity from its doors. It is certainly a hopeful sign of the times that such increasing numbers are consecrating their lives to the sacred office, but it is a somewhat mortifying reflection, that the Church itself should not respond more liberally to the annual appeals that are made to it for co-operation with the Society, and promoting the cause of Theological Education. Nor can it be said that the beneficiaries of the Society are carelessly multiplied, without much regard being had to their character and qualifications. The attention of the Society has been of late directed to this point, on account of the increasing demands upon its treasury, and the Superintendent takes pleasure in recording his belief, that the scholars on the list of the Society, judging from the character of the testimonials which they have presented, and from his personal acquaintance with them, so far as it extends, are worthy of the confidence of the Church, and deserving of more than the encouragement which they receive. Can there not be anticipated in the future, not from a few, but from all the Parishes of the Diocese, a more thoughtful and conscientious discharge of Canonical obligation?

The Society has to lament, in common with other interests and agencies of the Diocese, the loss it has sustained in the retirement from its councils of the Rt. Rev. Dr. Seymour; and his late associates would give public expression of their grateful sense of his generous devotion of time and means and rare ability to the discharge of the responsible duties which were assigned to him as Chairman of the Education Committee. Their prayers and good wishes will follow him to his distant home.

All which is respectfully submitted.

ANDREW OLIVER,
Superintendent.

The Trustees have been compelled, by the want of a market for real estate, to keep the premises on Broadway and on Madison-street, Brooklyn, bought in on foreclosure. It is hoped, that as symptoms of improvement in real estate generally are manifested, some disposition of them may be made during the coming year.

Two stipendiaries have died; two have been added to the list. The present number is nine. Special appropriations have been made in five cases.

In closing their report, the Trustees have to lament the great loss of their associate and Vice-President, Mr. Cyrus Curtiss, who passed from earth in June last. He may well be called one of the Fathers of the Board and of the Fund, having been a Trustee thirty-two years, and without whose advice and approbation nothing in its management was ever done, and no investment was ever made, and no application for its benefits was ever passed upon. Calm, cool, of sound judgment and of courtly manner, his memory will ever be revered by the Churchmen of New-York.

EDWARD F. DE LANCEY,
Treasurer of Convention.

NEW-YORK, September 24th, 1879.

The Committee on the Treasurer's Account have examined the same, and compared the payments with the vouchers, and find them to correspond, and that there is a balance in the Treasurer's hands of $2,539$\frac{73}{100}$.

The Treasurer has exhibited to the Committee eleven thousand dollars of Four Per Cent. Bonds of United States, payable in 1907—Nos. 18,057 and 21,612, and Nos. 22,555 to 22,563, inclusive—in all, eleven bonds.

The Committee would recommend that all securities held by the Treasurer should be registered in the name of the Treasurer officially.

* From the above balance the usual amount of two annual reservations of about three hundred dollars each is to deducted.

The following Resolution was then passed:

Resolved, That this Convention approves the recommendation made by the Committee on the Treasurer's Report.

The Report of the Standing Committee on the General Theological Seminary was presented and read:

Report

OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

The Standing Committee on the General Theological Seminary respectfully report:

That since the last Annual Meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Seminary, which was held on the 28th day of May of the current year, three of the Trustees of this Diocese have departed this life. The Rev. Francis E. Lawrence, D. D., and Messrs. Cyrus Curtiss and Cambridge Livingston, having completed the term of years allotted to them by Almighty God, and having illustrated, in examplary lives, the power of their faith and the fervor of that zeal for the cause of Christ and the Church which eminently characterized them, have entered into the rest that remaineth for the people of the Lord. Deeply impressed by a sense of the great loss sustained by the Diocese and the Seminary in the death of these admirable men, your Committee reluctantly proceed to the duty which next devolves upon them; and accordingly they beg leave respectfully to suggest the names of the Rev. Eugene A. Hoffman, D. D., and Messrs. Charles H. Contoit and Woodbury G. Langdon, as, in their judgment, well qualified to represent this Diocese in the Board of Trustees, and they recommend that this Convention nominate those gentlemen to the Trustees of the Seminary for election into their number.

Your Committee are not aware that there is any other matter which requires the action of the Convention at this time with reference to the General Theological Seminary. They cannot, however, conclude their report, without expressing their pleasure at hearing very favorable accounts of the prospects of the Institution. Upon the departure of the Right Reverend the Bishop of Springfield to his remote Diocese, after an energetic and successful administration of his office as Dean, he was succeeded by the Rev. Dr. Hoffman, whose well-known and long-tried abilities have already begun to manifest their fruits. Your Committee are informed, that the present Junior Class numbers upwards of fifty men, a large proportion of whom are much above the average, in standing and attainments. This is certainly a gratifying piece of intelligence, and, as we trust, an earnest of a measure of usefulness not hitherto attained in the history of the great training school of the Clergy of our Church.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Resolved, That the persons nominated in this Report be and hereby are elected to be nominated as Trustees of the General Theological Seminary for the Diocese of New-York.

The Report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund was presented and read:

Owing to the death of the mortgagor, and his estate being insolvent, the Trustees have been obliged to commence foreclosure proceedings of mortgage of W. W. Clark, on house and lot 516 East Fourteenth-street, but do not anticipate any loss to the Fund, as the property is supposed to be ample to meet the loan of $9,000.

Since the last Convention, two of our associate Trustees have been removed by death—Frederick G. Foster, Esq., and the Hon. John A. Dix. It is the province of the Convention to fill the vacancies.

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to make an equitable apportionment among the Parishes of the Diocese of a sum which, with the income of the "Episcopal Fund," will meet the amount pledged by this Convention for payment to the Bishop.

The Report of the Trustees of St. Stephen's College, Annandale, was presented and read:

Report

OF ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE, ANNANDALE.

The Warden of St. Stephen's College begs, in behalf of the Trustees, to report to the Convention of the Diocese of New-York, that at the commencement in June ten young men graduated Bachelor of Arts, and to two certificates were given that they had completed the course appointed for persons applying to be admitted Candidates for Orders. Of these, eleven have entered the General Theological Seminary, and one is pursuing his theological studies at Garden City. The Academic year has just opened with the usual number of new Students.

The Warden begs to say, that he has nothing to add to his report of last year, except to thank the few Rectors who kindly responded to the resolution of the Convention, and made a collection for the College. The only real hindrance to the advance and efficiency of the College is the want of adequate means.

All which is respectfully submitted.

R. B. FAIRBAIRN,
Warden, &c., &c.

ANNANDALE, September 23, 1879.

The Rev. Dr. Dix, from the Special Committee on the Petition from the Diocese of Albany, asked leave for the Committee to report to the next Convention.

On motion, leave was granted.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Dix, it was poses of representation in the Board of Trustees of the Seminary.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That the Clergy of the Diocese in charge of Parishes be and hereby are requested by this Convention to read to their congregations, on the next annual Thanksgiving Day, or on the Sunday preceding, so much of the Bishop's Address as relates to the Fund of the Diocese of New-York for the Relief of Aged and Infirm Clergymen.

Ordered, That a copy of this Resolution and such portion of the Bishop's Address be transmitted, prior to that period, to the Parochial Clergy of the Diocese.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That it be referred to the Committee on Canons to consider and report upon the propriety of requiring, by the laws of this Diocese, residence within it for some specified period, as a qualification on the part of Clergymen for membership with this Convention; and if the Committee deem the same expedient, to propose to the next Convention any alterations which may be needed in its laws for such purpose.

On motion of Mr. S. P. Nash, it was Resolved, That a Committee of Three be appointed to prepare a list of the Incorporated Committees, Trustees and Charitable Associations connected with the Protestant Episcopal Church in the City and Diocese of New-York, with the corporate titles of all such Incorporations, and the date thereof, and that said List be published as an appendix to the Journal of the Convention.

Mr. S. P. Nash, Mr. Charles Tracy, and the Secretary of the Convention, were appointed such Committee.

On motion of the Rev. Charles F. Hoffman, it was Resolved, That 1,500 copies of the Journal of this Convention be published and distributed under the direction of the Secretary.

Annual Address

OF

DEAR BRETHREN OF THE CLERGY AND LAITY:

CONSIDERING the largeness of our numbers in this Diocese, both of the Clergy and of the attending Laity, it would be too much to expect that we can ever assemble in our Annual Convention without being reminded that some breaches have been made in our ranks. On each occasion some beloved friends and brethren, whom we have been accustomed to meet on our coming together, are absent. There may be no pause in the work of the Church. The duty which is laid down by one is taken up by another. As has been said, "God buries His workers, but carries on the work." We who remain come up here to give in an account of our stewardship, while the faithful departed are gone to a more august, visible Presence, humbly to submit the sum of their earthly labors. May we not join the heavenly Voice in saying, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord; even so, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them?" And what a special interest and dignity is imparted to these labors of ours from the consideration that we were immediately preceded in them by saintly men who are now in blessedness with God? It was but yesterday, as it were, that some of them were with us, animated with the same thoughts and wishes as we are now, striving for the same blessings to be wrought out for the souls of their own and following generations, and for the Church of God. It is for us to keep steadfast to their work, and to prosecute it in their spirit; and to remember what everything tends to impress upon us—that the time is short. To-day we are here, trying to be faithful in our great charge; to-morrow we are gone, and others come into our places to carry on our work.

The roll of the Clergy who, during the past year, have departed this life is not a long one. At the head of it stands conspicuous the name of an old and faithful servant of the Church in this Diocese—the Rev. Benjamin I. Haight, D. D.—for very many years the efficient and acceptable Secretary of the Convention, the Secretary of the Standing Committee, and, especially during the continuance of the anomalous condition of the Diocese, a most valuable adviser and assistant in the administration of its affairs. In his days of health there was about him a brightness, cheerfulness, and cordiality of disposition and manner, a promptness in the despatch of business, a frankness and sincerity, which made it a pleasure to be in any way associated with him. A few years ago he was elected to the Episcopate of the Diocese of Massachusetts. But it was too late! His health and spirits had begun to fail him, and he had the wisdom to decline to undertake the weighty and responsible office. Little indeed could the present speaker have anticipated, twenty-five years ago, that he would survive two brethren gifted with such apparent strength of constitution as were Dr. Francis Vinton and Dr. Haight. It is now three or four years since Dr. Haight disappeared from the councils of the Church. During this closing period the decline of strength was very gradual. He was free from acute suffering, continued to enjoy seeing his friends and hearing what was passing in the Church, and at length, after many days of great weakness, he departed, as we trust, at peace with God and with all the world. No doubt many Clergymen of this Diocese and of other parts of the country retain grateful memories of the services received from him when in the General Theological Seminary. Many years since Rector of All Saints' Church in this city, and in later years an Assistant Minister of Trinity Parish, he left in both spheres of labor grateful recollections of his zeal, and his tender, earnest interest in the spiritual welfare of the souls among whom he ministered. For myself, I shall ever retain a most grateful remembrance of his warm-hearted kindness and of his disinterested personal services.

But I turn to another name, fragrant with the memory of tender and devoted services—the Rev. Francis E. Lawrence, D. D., late Pastor of the Church of the Holy Communion. I think it is not too much to say that he was prematurely worn out in the service of his Divine Master. His charge was a laborious one, and he was instant in labor, in season and out of season. My acquaintance with him was not so intimate and thorough as in the case of Dr. Haight, though I always met him with interest and pleasure. And I never made a visit to his Church or to him personally without learning to appreciate more highly the extent and value of his parochial work. His parochial charities were varied and numerous—all of an excellent character, and carefully and efficiently conducted. Many Lay people, male and female, had become interested in the work of the Parish, and contributed much to its success and usefulness. He was greatly revered and beloved by the members of his flock, and the memory of his virtues and the influence of his teaching and example will long remain to bless that Church and Congregation.

Another name, less widely known than the preceding, because the Minister was called to labor in a more obscure sphere, was that of the Rev. H. Floy Roberts, Missionary of the Church of the Holy Comforter for Seamen. He was a person of considerable intellectual ability and force, and labored for many years among the ever-changing people to whom he was appointed to minister with unwearied zeal and fidelity, till his Master somewhat suddenly called him to his rest. A modest, unassuming, true-hearted servant of his Lord, he will long be remembered by those who knew him well with affectionate respect and regard.

The Rev. William Henry Beardslee was a young man. He had been but a short time in this Diocese, and was little known in it.

The Rev. Nathaniel E. Cornwall, D. D., died at an advanced age, after a life of labor as a teacher and as a Christian Minister. Ordained in 1834 in Connecticut, he ministered in that Diocese for nearly twenty years in the same Parish. A little later he removed to this city, where he published a short work of some merit on music, but for the most part devoted his efforts to the work of teaching and preaching. He led a very quiet, unobtrusive life, much respected by all who knew him.

So far as I am aware, the only other name which death has withdrawn from our Clergy list during the past year is that of the Rev. Ralph Hoyt. For several years he gave his ministry to the poor of the city, and labored in various ways to afford relief to the needy and distressed. The closing years of his life were spent within the limits of another Diocese, but his canonical residence was never changed.

The losses sustained by the Diocese during the past year from among the Laity have not been inferior in importance to those which have occurred among the Clergy. John A. Dix, in a good old age, has departed, after years of faithful service in the State and in the Church, universally honored for his incorruptible purity and integrity of character, and for the consistent firmness and moderation of his conduct through a long life. His eminent character has been too fully and faithfully portrayed, by one who had a right to speak, to leave room for many words from his Bishop. More than forty-six years ago I found him in the Vestry of St. Peter's Church, Albany, and in the acquaintance and experience of several years had abundant proof of his ability and worth. And I may be allowed to add, that but a day or two before his departure I had the privilege of a brief private interview with him, when I had the satisfaction of observing in him the same clear intelligence, the same calm judgment, the same cheerful faith, the same considerate kindness which had marked every period of his life. Well indeed may we give thanks to God for the gift of such a life and such an example.

And what name more worthy to be placed next in order than that dear one of Cyrus Curtiss? A name without a spot, and endeared to us by never-ceasing acts of kindness, by a life long devotion to the interests of the Church and the welfare of her Ministers. For many years he has been one of the Trustees of the Fund for the Relief of the Aged and Infirm Clergy, a fund in which he took a very special and warm interest. He was the person to whom I referred in a passage near the conclusion of my last Annual Address to the Convention. I said: "A venerable Layman, through long years a faithful servant of the Church and a warm friend of her Ministers, writing to me a few days since, said of the Clergy, in reference to the fund in question, 'Are they not shepherds, who should care for their own brethren as well as for their flocks?'"

When the case of a suffering brother came before me which was fairly entitled to relief, I always felt entire confidence in making it known to dear Mr. Curtiss, and asking his favorable consideration of it; and I never failed to receive a prompt and satisfactory response. His heart was ever open to the appeals of suffering of any kind, and most especially to that of the Ministers of the Church. Indeed he was a man made to be loved; and he was loved and respected wherever he was known. His death leaves a place vacant in the Church which it will not be easy to fill. May the adorable Head of the Church bestow upon us many like characters, giving them the heart and the ability to imitate his example, and preserving them through long years to be as he was, a blessing to the Church and to all around them.

Another Christian brother, held in high esteem, but suddenly removed from his earthly labors during the past year, was Mr. A. B. McDonald, of St. Luke's Church, in this city. For many years he was a faithful friend and a bright ornament of that Parish. Of his solid worth and his charm of character let his loving Rector speak; scarcely any other friend can do them justice. Owing to the nature of his engagements and the retiring modesty of his character, he was less widely known than either of the two Laymen previously noticed. But in that other world, to which, as we trust, he is gone, the fine gold of his character will appear in its true lustre.

Once more, and briefly. For several years before the present one, as I have stood in my place here, reading to you my annual communication, I have observed seated in the pew near me the same attentive listener, now no longer to be seen here or anywhere else on the earth, Mr. Frederick G. Foster, of the Church of the Ascension. He was an earnest Christian man, active in many good works connected with the interests of morality and religion. In his case, as in those of the lamented Laymen previously mentioned, death has left a place vacant in one or more of the Committees of the Convention.

But, dear Brethren, how uncertain is life and the precious things it contains! I had scarcely finished writing the preceding sentences, when news came to me that Mr. Cambridge Livingston, one of our most esteemed and valued Laymen, had been taken to his rest. On the 18th and 19th of last June, while attending the meeting of the Trustees of St. Stephen's College, and afterwards the exercises of the Commencement, I was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Livingston, at Annandale, where they were passing the Summer. Both were in delicate health, Mr. Livingston particularly so. I was much struck with the sweetness and benignity of his manner, with the good sense and intelligence of his conversation, and the placid serenity spread over his whole life; much of it belonged to his usual manner. But I can now see that he was ripening for a brighter and a more peaceful world.

But, dear Brethren, while we cannot but take note of faithful men removed from the visible work of the Church on earth, it is our consolation that we have an assured hope that they are gone to a blessed rest in Paradise; and while it is our privilege to muse by faith "how grows in Paradise our store," we find encouragement in the fact, every day made apparent, that young men of promise, full of devotion and high principle, are coming forward to take the places and carry on the work of those who have left us. Yes, on every side I see evidence that the ministry of the Church, and the Lay influence and working power in the Church, are rapidly gaining strength, both in numbers and in zeal and spiritual efficiency. There is, indeed, good hope that the work of the Church will not languish, but will be carried on year by year with increasing interest and efficiency.

And another most encouraging token of future blessing is the reign within the Church of peace and good will! Now for several years there has been an almost entire relief from those exciting and disturbing doctrinal and personal questions which twenty-five or thirty years ago were so prevalent and so injurious. It is no doubt true now, as it must be at all times, that while there is substantial unity in essential matters in the Church, there will be varying habits of thought and differing shades of thinking among the Clergy and among the Laity in regard to subordinate topics. And these individual peculiarities of thought will always be found in a large assemblage of free, intelligent minds. But the peculiarities need not be allowed to run into excess, and they need not interfere with kind, fraternal relations among Brethren. It has always been a comfort to me, but never a more uninterrupted happiness than I have found now for several years in my intercourse with the Clergy, and I may add with the Laity, of different tones of thought. So far as I have observed, there has been of late an entire absence of ill feeling, and there has been a cordial disposition to recognise the worth of Brethren of different views, and to coöperate with them in carrying on the work of the Church.

I have just spoken of the encouragement we have in the fact that young men of promise, full of devotion and high principle, are coming forward to take the places and carry on the work of those who have left us. I am happy to be able to state, from the report of the Dean and Faculty of the General Theological Seminary, that the applications for admission to that Institution this year have been unusually numerous, and as gratifying for the average character and attainments of the applicants as for the number; the number being, I believe, larger than was ever before known.

The Institution is, as you know, a General Institution, belonging to the whole Church, and not exclusively to any one Diocese; but it is an Institution in which, for obvious reasons, this Diocese is very deeply interested. It should be a great satisfaction to us all that that Institution is ably conducted; that for religious spirit and theological learning it is worthy of all sympathy and support, and that the newly-admitted young men have come in large numbers and generally well prepared.

Last year I had occasion, as you will remember, to speak warmly and gratefully of the then retiring Dean, the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Springfield, for his valuable services to the General Theological Seminary, and for the kindly assistance which he had rendered in various ways in the Diocese. There is this year renewed reason for warmest thanks for Episcopal services rendered for me in a time of temporary disability. Fortunately his engagements were not such as closely to confine him to this city, and he was able to make many visitations in remote parts of the Diocese; and I have been assured that his services were in every respect acceptable to the Clergy and congregations.

Early in July last he was visited, as you know, with a sore trial in the sudden and mysterious death of his brother-in-law. It was a great shock, but he bore it with fortitude and courage, and very soon resumed his laborious engagements. He has now removed finally to his Diocese, and he is followed, I am sure, and will be followed by the prayers and blessings of very many whom he has left behind him.

The Rev. Dr. Seymour, during many of the later years of his connection with the Seminary, united in his person two very important offices—that of Dean of the Seminary and that of Professor of Ecclesiastical History. We felt much regret at the loss of his valuable services. But, my dear Brethren, a gracious Providence enables me to-day to congratulate you and the Diocese upon the important acquisitions which we have made. The Rev. Eugene A. Hoffman, D. D., has been chosen Dean, has accepted the office, and entered upon his duties with every promise of a happy and useful administration. He has long been well known as having excellent administrative abilities, as well as other qualifications; and I think that even a fortnight's experience has been enough to give us good hopes that his success in the Institution will fully justify the reputation which he brought with him.

The other acquisition to which I referred was that of the Rev. Dr. Thomas Richey, as Professor of Ecclesiastical History, upon the duties of which office he has entered with a reputation for learning and for ability as an instructor which give good hope of usefulness in that department of Theological Education.

My dear Brethren, I do not think that I ought to leave the subject of the General Theological Seminary without mentioning that within a few years, owing to financial depression, some sources of income to the Institution have been impaired, or quite cut off, temporarily, so that its income for the present is insufficient to meet its necessary expenses; and in consequence, a brief statement and appeal have been prepared by the Rev. the Dean, and have already met with some favor. Seeing how vitally interested the Church is in the thorough education of young men preparing for her Ministry, no words can be necessary to recommend the object I have mentioned to the sympathy and support of those members of the Church whom a gracious Providence has entrusted with ample means.

And here, my dear Brethren, allow me to say a few words upon a subject which concerns us all very deeply; the stewardship of money. It is a well-established law of God's kingdom that one-tenth part of our income, at the very least, belongs to Him for the uses of His poor and of His Church. Until that tenth part is separated and set apart for a sacred use, we have no right to touch any part of our substance for our own private use. I do not say that the benefactions of a Christian are to be absolutely limited to one-tenth part of his income. That was the measure prescribed by the Mosaic law. The children of Israel had not seen what we have seen—the eternal Son of God becoming Man, and suffering on the cross for our redemption; "He who was rich making Himself poor, that we might be eternally rich." No wonder that that ever blessed Saviour said to His hearers before He went forth to suffer for us, "If ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, (the perishable riches,) who will commit to your trust the true riches?" I do not pretend—I do not dare to suggest what ought to be the extent of a Christian's benefactions; but this I do say, under all the responsibilities of my sacred office, that we have no purely personal rights over the substance which God's gracious providence has cast into our lap until we have first separated and set apart at least one-tenth part for sacred uses. Surely it is not a hard or severe apportionment: one-tenth for God, the Giver, His poor and His Church; nine-tenths for our own personal use!

Dear Brethren, let us remember this law of God's kingdom, and let us be faithful to it as we would have peace in life, hope in death; and when we find our hearts growing cold and stingy, let us recall to mind the unspeakable love and bounty of our God, who spared not His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, that we might live through Him, and have eternal blessedness in Him.

Recognising then the fact, that a larger measure of giving to sacred objects ought to be adopted, there may be many persons in the Diocese who will be anxious for counsel as to the most proper direction for that giving to take, for no doubt there is much money carelessly given away which does very little good. And I think it comes fairly within the duties of my office to make a few suggestions as to important objects to which donations may be very safely and usefully made during the life, or be left by will. I confine myself to objects within the limits of this Diocese. Not that I wish to have it supposed that all our gifts ought to be made to objects within our own Diocese, though I do consider—and the point is a very important one, and in many cases too much overlooked—I do consider that our first and chief duty is to support Church work and Church institutions within our own ecclesiastical borders, and that for plain reasons —for reasons analogous to the reasons which bind us to the making provision for our own families before we go abroad to meet exterior calls upon our bounty. A feeble Diocese may hope for assistance from abroad, and should receive it; but a Diocese like New-York will be expected to draw supplies for all the needs of her Church work from her own resources. And it is not creditable to us that the most vital of our Christian work —preaching the Gospel, ministering to the spiritual needs of the more destitute portions of the interior of our Diocese; a work which, considering its magnitude, is prosecuted at a very moderate expense—I say it is not creditable to us that the means of meeting that very moderate expense, and for so vital a work, are not spontaneously supplied; that frequent appeals should be required to quicken the liberality of Christian people; that, even when earnest appeals have been made, the Treasurer should often have to wait long before supplies come to him, enabling him to meet the claims of faithful laborers; and that so God's work in our hands is hindered and crippled! It is not right!

But let us all seriously consider with ourselves, that everything we have comes as a gift from God—that the tenth of our income is sacredly due to Him; and then let us make it our invariable, sacredly binding rule to give, first of all, in full measure, to the most important Church work in our own Diocese; and so doing regularly, year by year, we may rest assured that our Church work will never languish, will never bring anxiety to the heart of the Bishop, or needless suffering to the toiling servant of Christ.

Without further preface, I proceed to place in order the objects which seem to me to have the first claim upon our support. And first, I place the Missions of the Diocese. The usual number of Missionaries employed in the Diocese is a little over thirty. Each one is supported in part, and as far as they are able, by the people to whom he ministers. They are not able to provide the whole of the very moderate sum which he requires for his support. The remainder is supplied from the Mission Fund of the Diocese—from one hundred and fifty to three or four hundred dollars per annum, according to the necessities of each case. And thus, for a gross sum of only some seven or eight thousand dollars, the ministrations of the Church are maintained in upward of thirty localities, where, without such special aid from without, they could not exist. I may mention one case of a remote rural Parish, in which upward of forty persons received the holy rite of Confirmation during the past year. Think of all that such a result implied—the amount of religious influence and instruction with the young; filling a young life with blessing, and giving light and strength and health to all its future years. Think of the ministrations to the sick and dying; think of the brightness and peace carried to many a dwelling which before had known only gloom and trouble; and let the Christian people of this Diocese say whether they would like to hear of all those blessings having been withdrawn, and that broad community left sitting in gloom and spiritual destitution for the lack of only the two hundred dollars which served to keep the Christian Minister in his place. And the same question is applicable to each one of the more than thirty places in the Diocese, where a little help from the Mission Fund of the Diocese, added to the offerings of the people, enables the Minister of Christ to remain and do his work. It is a kind of work which makes little noise, but it is fruitful in blessings for time and for eternity beyond any estimate which is now in our power. The aggregate of good secured to the Diocese, secured to the souls within its limits, from that central fund is something which we can fully comprehend only in the light of another and a better world.

Does it sometimes happen to you, then, dear Brethren, that you wish to make a thank-offering for a signal blessing you have received from God? Make a donation to the Missionary Fund of the Diocese. When you wish to do something useful as a servant of God, as a member of Christ's Church, do that which will contribute to aid His Ministers in their work, and tend to diffuse blessings among your fellow-men. Are you making your last will and testament? Leave a bequest to the fund I have so much spoken of, and it may prove a fountain of blessings which will send its streams far and wide, and far down through coming years.

I mention in the second place, as eminently deserving our sympathy and support, the Fund for the Relief of the Aged and Infirm Clergy. The rule of the Diocese requires us to make at least an annual contribution to that invaluable fund. Few Clergymen in this country can hope to lay up any thing from their salaries for the comfort of their old age, if they live to see it, or for the comfort of their families after their death. Here is another case for bequests. When a thoughtful Christian man is making a final disposition of the goods which God hath given him, it must be a comfort for him to add something to a fund which is to endure age after age, ministering to the relief of aged Ministers of Christ, who have worn themselves out in faithful endeavors for the good of their fellow-men.

I need hardly say that I am very far from wishing to recommend that a parent, among the last acts of his life, should deprive his family of a needed provision in order to bestow his property upon some exterior object, however meritorious that object may be. There is a proportion in the obligations attaching to the different duties of life; and the funds I have been pleading for may be abundantly sustained through bequests that interfere with no pressing private claims. I place, then, the Fund for the Relief of Aged and Infirm Clergymen next after the Mission Fund of the Diocese in the list of objects entitled to our special sympathy and support. Next I mention the New-York Bible and Common Prayer-Book Society, the House of Mercy, St. Mary's Free Hospital for Children, the Protestant Episcopal Church Missionary Society for Seamen in the City and Port of New-York, St. Barnabas' House and Chapel, the Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society, St. Stephen's College, Annandale, for the training of young men looking to the ministry, the Home for Old Men and Aged Couples, St. Luke's Home for Indigent Christian Females, Orphans' Home and Asylum; to which I add St. Luke's Hospital, the Sheltering Arms, and the House of Rest for Consumptives. There are other excellent associations and institutions in the city and Diocese; but I content myself with placing prominently before you the leading objects which are entitled to your special interest and regard, so that, when looking for a worthy Christian object upon which to bestow a gift or bequest, you may know where to find it. May the Lord most gracious and merciful make us faithful stewards of His goods, filling our hearts with love, and guiding our choice to the objects most needing and most worthy of our help.

My dear Brethren, it will be remembered, perhaps by some of you that five years ago, in my annual address, as I was approaching the close of the twentieth year of my Episcopate, I thought it not amiss to give a brief review of the nearly twenty years, presenting a summary of my Episcopal acts and some notices of the work and progress of the Church in the Diocese.

As I am now approaching the end of the twenty-fifth year of my Episcopate, I have thought that I might properly supplement the former statement by adding a summary of the work of these last five years. It shall be as brief as I can make it.

During the past year 16 Deacons have been ordained and 12 Priests. During the nearly twenty-five years 418

Deacons have been ordained and 342 Priests; total, 760. During the same period 572 Clergymen have been received into this Diocese, and 614 have been transferred to other Dioceses; 47 have been instituted into Rectorships, and 143 have been removed by death. Churches consecrated, 108; corner-stones laid, about 100. Confirmations during the past year, a little over 3,600. For the nearly twenty-five years they have been a little over 72,000. Baptisms, 149,692, of which 18,353 were adults. The whole number of Communicants cannot be correctly given, the parochial reports being imperfect. Contributions for the five years are set down at $3,541,439.23, so far as gathered from the Parish reports, which, as the Secretary observes, take no note of vast amounts given by the Churches in ways not referred to in the reports.

Five years ago I gave in my address a somewhat full account of the development and growth of the Church in the Diocese and of Church work within the previous twenty years. That growth has since been advancing. The large and commodious Chapel of St. Augustine, in Trinity Parish, has been completed and consecrated, and is now filled and ministered to in a manner answering to the best hopes entertained respecting it. The new Grace Church Chapel, the enlarged Chapel of the Church of the Incarnation, the enlarged and improved accommodations of St. Luke's Church, and many other similar improvements, are employed in a way that does honor to the Clergy, while it largely promotes the spiritual welfare of the people. I cannot but feel grateful to the Clergy who have done so much toward inspiring these good works, and to the Laity who have so nobly carried out the suggestions of their spiritual Pastors. Believe me, dear Brethren, you have the prayers and blessings of thousands whose voices you will never hear uttering words of thanks and praise; perhaps not even their Pastors will hear them; but there is Another ear that hears them—yea, and often hears them repeated, and records them in the Book of eternal Remembrance on high.

Before I leave, for the present, the subject of Church work among the poor, I must acknowledge my obligations to what is called the "Eighth Ward Mission," having its headquarters at No. 9 Ludlow Place, where, under the superintendence of a widow lady devoted to Mission work, and with the assistance of friends whom she has made, Clergy and Laymen, a large amount of good has been done and is now going on—the destitute young cared for, sheltered, clothed, fed, instructed, the suffering placed where they can obtain relief, mother's meetings held, a reading room opened, Germans ministered to, almost every kind of need and suffering met with kindly sympathy and aid, so that a well experienced Clergyman, who takes a little general oversight of the work, wrote to me lately that he would be deeply thankful to be able to include in his Parochial Report a record of any thing like the amount of good work known to be done by the Mission in question. It is mainly the work, as I said, of a widow lady, a stranger, a foreigner, who comes with abundant evidence of character, who, perhaps, saw that we stood in need of help in the care of our poor and suffering, and who volunteered to give that help, I may say, unasked —gives it in a modest but energetic way, which has won the sympathy and support of many of our large-hearted Clergymen, and of not a few of our intelligent and zealous ladies. We are humble enough, I trust, to accept of good help from whatever quarter it may come, with heart enough to be thankful for what we have received and conscience to profit by the lesson which it teaches.

I might point to other examples of good, healthy, woman's work, which is growing as fast as any thing good in the Diocese is growing; to the admirable work of the Sisterhood of St. Mary in their two schools for young ladies—the one in Forty-sixth-street, the other in St. Gabriel's, Peekskill; their never to be sufficiently commended work in the "House of Mercy;" their care of the Free Hospital of St. Mary for Children; their ministry among the sick and needy. I might mention again, as have mentioned before, the work of the Sisters of St. John Baptist among the Germans and among the poor and ignorant of the eastern part of the city; the inestimable work of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd in St. Barnabas' House; the loving ministries of the Sisters of the Holy Communion; and finally, the faithful, warm-hearted, Christian ladies who, unbidden and unconnected with associations, visit our prisons, hospitals, alms houses, private homes of want and suffering, carrying the light of a tender, holy, benignant presence, like angels' visits. Ah, my dear Brethren, no doubt there is a plenty of wickedness and crime in this great city and Diocese; but certainly there is in it a great deal of loving, patient, earnest Christian work. Let us thank God for it, and let us testify our thankfulness by showing our sympathy, giving it our support, and offering never-ceasing prayer for continuance and increase of those gifts of Grace and Mercy to which we owe all the blessed ministries so increasingly active around us.

PAROCHIAL, MISSIONARY AND OTHER CLERICAL REPORTS.

The following portions of the Parochial, Missionary and other Clerical Reports, made to the Bishop of the Diocese, are published by his direction, in accordance with the following section, to which attention is respectfully requested, of

CANON 17, TITLE I.,

OF DIGEST OF THE CANONS OF THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

Of the Mode of securing an accurate View of the State of the Church.

§ I. As a full and accurate view of the state of the Church, from time to time, is highly useful and necessary, it is hereby ordered that every Minister of this Church, or, if the Parish be vacant, the Wardens, shall present, or cause to be delivered, on or before the first day of every Annual Convention, to the Bishop of the Diocese, or, when there is no Bishop, to the President of the Convention, a statement of the number of baptisms, confirmations, marriages and funerals, and of the number of Communicants in his Parish or Church; also the state and condition of the Sunday-Schools in his Parish; also the amount of the Communion alms, the contributions for missions, diocesan, domestic and foreign, for parochial schools, for church purposes in general, and of all other matters that may throw light on the same. And every Clergyman, not regularly settled in any Parish or Church, shall also report the occasional services he may have performed; and, if he have performed no such services, the causes or reasons which have prevented the same. And these Reports, or such parts of them as the Bishop shall think fit, may be read in Convention, and shall be entered on the Journals thereof.

The Rector has been ill, and unable to do any work since on or before Easter. Sunday services have, however, been unintermitted, and he desires to tender his special thanks and obligations to the Rev. Samuel M. Akerly, who for five or six months has kindly performed the duties without any remuneration, crossing the river weekly. Had it not been for this timely assistance, the Rector must have resigned his charge before now, and whether he will be able long to renew it, is at present doubtful.

Previous to this the Rev. William Walsh, of Nowburgh, has given us three or four services, and we also return to him our sincere thanks.

The ladies of the Sunday-School and Bible Class have been most efficient, continually engaged in good and charitable work. Through their exertions the Church has been repainted at an expense of fifty dollars.

Trinity Church, Fishkill; the Rev. J. H. HOBART, D. D., Rector.

I am happy to be able to state that the Parishioners of St. Paul's have been throughout my short acquaintance with them, dating as it does only since January last, ready and willing at all times heartily to co-operate with me in every effort that has been put forth for the benefit of the Parish. As I have had to divide my time among four stations, I could only appropriate a share of the services to each, and where it was only possible to have one service or two on a week day, I always used to give Millbrook the preference, inasmuch as it lay almost midway between my other stations.

In connection with the Valley, I have recently held fornightly services at Roachdale and Manchester on week evenings, the former place being three miles and the latter six from the Valley Church. Church people from both places attend the Valley Church very frequently on Sundays.

It has been my practice to report as communicants those only who are habitual communicants; not those who having a right to communo, (and who may occasionally have done so,) habitually neglect this duty.

Since my last report, the Rectory (so called, though improperly, as it belongs not to the Parish, but to the estate of the late Jno. W. Chanler) has been painted, and has had some other necessary repairs made, the expense having been defrayed by the United States Trust Company, which has the charge of the Chanler estate.

Missionary work in the Parish having been somewhat in abeyance during the past year, may account for some of this report; it is at present being revived.

I took charge of the Church of the Holy Comforter—a Mission to seamen, boatmen and others—on the 17th of June ultimo. This Mission Church is located on the North River between Leroy and Morton streets. The congregation is composed mostly of seamen, who seldom stay in port longer than a week at a time. Hence I have a new congregation every Sunday. There is an average weekly attendance of about 100. These people are very reverent and attentive during Divine Service, and many of them join heartily in the responses and singing.

The Reading Room attached to this Mission is well attended, and is proving a great blessing to those for whom it was established. Within the past year a thousand seamen and others have availed themselves of its privileges.

The Board of Managers, in their Annual Report, make the following allusion to my very devoted predecessor, who, in the month of January last, entered into the rest of Paradise:

"This branch of the Mission, which until lately has been in charge of the Rev. Henry Floy Roberts, has sustained a severe loss in the death of its excellent pastor, who, with great gentleness and love, has labored over nineteen years so earnestly at his post, endearing many to this little Church and its services, and leaving behind him, in hearts humble and grateful, the memory of many kindly acts and words. We deem it proper, in view of the fact that the Missionary's Report cannot, by reason of his death, be presented this year, to offer instead a few statistics:

"Services held in the Chapel of the Holy Comforter on Sundays, 102; average attendance at each service, 41; average attendance in the afternoon, 58; average attendance of seamen each Sunday, 34; average attendance of seamen at each afternoon service, 29; average number receiving Communion, 11. Baptism, 1. Marriages, 3. Burial, 1."

During the past year this Parish has completed and occupied a large and beautiful Church edifice on 116th-street near Third Avenue. For more than ten years we were compelled to carry on our work in a very small, plain and badly located brick Chapel, which was never designed for a Church. It is a matter of surprise that the Parish survived through that long and trying period. Had it not been for the friendship of Bishop Potter and the Rev. Dr. Potter, the Parish would have been blotted out of existence long ago.

About the beginning of the year 1877, the little brick Chapel was mortgaged and subsequently sold, and the proceeds used to purchase lots in a new and more central location, and to defray some indebtedness incurred during the erection of the new Church. Work was commenced on the new edifice in October, 1877. The Sunday-School room was occupied in June, 1878, and in January, 1879, we had the joyful satisfaction of holding services in the new Church. The opening sermon (an admirable discourse) was from the Bishop.

The Church is 46 x 100, with a transept, will seat 600 persons, including the gallery. We have a large, well lighted and well ventilated Sunday-School room, which will accommodate 800 children. The edifice is of brick, faced with light colored stone generously donated by Col. W. C. Weld, of Norwood, N. J.; Architects, Wm. T. Bees & Son. We have started prosperously in our new work, considering the hard times, and hope to accomplish much good in the future.

The Parish has met with a great loss in the death of Wm. H. Stephens, Esq., for several years Senior Warden, a most estimable, genial, Christian gentleman, and a staunch friend to the Parish through its long years of adversity.

The Parish is comparatively free from debt, and its annual income exceeds expenses this year by two hundred dollars. The pews are either free, or let at a nominal price to those who will come and occupy them. The attendance is good, but we have suffered loss by deaths and removals to a considerable extent this past year. The decease of Robert Ray, Esq., for many years a most zealous supporter of the Parish, a faithful attendant upon its services, and a devout communicant, we especially deplore. The Bible Classes, under the charge of Benoni Lockwood, Esq., and Mr. Samuel Watters, of the General Theological Seminary, have done good work; also the Parish Guild and the Workingmen's Association. Our Easter offerings amounted to $1,000.

Our class of Confirmation on Trinity Sunday (June 8) was most interesting. The ages of the candidates varied from 55 to 14 years. The devotion was most marked, considering the material out of which it was wrought. We bring into the Church of Christ many children and adults by baptism, and administer the Holy Communion at the bedside of the sick and dying almost daily. We feel that in a neighborhood where Churchly influences do not seem very likely to prevail, we are doing a good work, according to the ability which our Heavenly Father has given to us, comforted by the cheering hope and promise that "in due season we shall reap, if we faint not." Laus Deo.

The Parish of St. Ambrose is in better condition than at any time since my Rectorship, the only need being the means to carry forward the work properly and in a churchly way. In the last Parochial Report it was stated, that a marked improvement was being made by the addition of a Recessed Chancel, through the liberality of a member, and frescoing of the entire Church edifice by the congregation. I am happy now to be able to state, that the improvement referred to has been fully and finally completed; and to add, that during the summer last past, another important improvement has been effected, viz., the organ has been modernized and greatly improved in volume and tone. But more important still, the conduct of the service has been improved by the introduction of a choir, consisting of boys and men, under a competent organist, who served his apprenticeship at Trinity. The Lenten services were well attended, and the Easter offerings towards the bonded debt of the Church as liberal as usual. The Parish Home, 127 West 30th-street, is still in successful operation, and a service has been conducted, principally by Rev. John Peterson, every Friday evening. It is hoped that this will pave the way for a permanent Mission service in that neighborhood.

The foregoing statement of contributions to the Missionary work of the Church is very partial and imperfect, since it does not include the large offerings made by the devoted ladies of the Parish through various societies; a record of which is contained in the Annual Parochial Register.

Members of the Parish have subscribed generously, during the year past, toward the reduction of the Church debt—some $26,000 having been received for this purpose—and the effort will be quietly prosecuted until the debt is entirely cancelled.

In every department of Church work in the Parish and at St. Thomas' Chapel there has been a most commendable activity, and the Rector finds himself abundantly sustained by the practical sympathy and co-operation of his people. Herewith is appended the report of the faithful Minister in charge of St. Thomas' Chapel.

During the past year, the large district surrounding the Chapel has been thoroughly visited from house to house, and from room to room. Through the liberality of the Rector and a few of his Parishioners, the very efficient services of a Parish Visitor have been engaged. She has materially assisted the Minister in charge, in reaching cases of destitution, finding children who were not baptised, and bringing families, who had neglected their Church services, to resume their duty regularly and faithfully. A Mother's meeting has been instituted through the devotion of an association of ladies from the Parish Church, at which a large number of women have received religious instruction every week, and have been furnished with material and taught to make up garments for themselves and their children. The Industrial School increases in numbers and usefulness, and every Saturday morning presents a bright and busy scene of active work, enlisting the zeal of more than one hundred girls.

During the past year extensive repairs have been made to the Church, including the renovation of the interior, reshingling of the roof and painting of the exterior, adding very much to the appearance of the building. To say that this has been done under the direction of Cox & Sons, is enough to vouch for the good taste and skill displayed. The old floating debt has been paid in full, and although the extraordinary demands on the treasury exceeded $1,000, yet the Parish entered on a new year at Easter almost entirely clear from any floating debt. A spirit of life and hope seems to animate all. The Parish is comparatively small and poor, but all have labored together, the poor giving of their poverty as well as the well-to-do of their abundance.

I have carefully (since taking charge of the Parish) examined into the actual number of real Communicants, and those who are Communicants but in name, and I find that there are but fifty-five. There are very many more on our list, but some have removed to other Parishes and some never attend Church. The above list is the actual number in this Parish. On account of the depression in trade, the offerings for the year have been very small, and the whole amount has been used to liquidate the general debts of the Church.

The future of the Parish looks bright. The regular subscription to the support of the Parish has increased one-third in the last year. We hope by Easter or very shortly after it to be out of our floating debt, incurred in building the new Church, and after that there will be no difficulty in steadily reducing the mortgage until the Parish becomes independent and self-supporting. The Church is almost entirely supported, outside of Missionary help, by the small subscriptions of faithful Churchmen who are in moderate circumstances.

The religious condition of the Parish is very encouraging; the members work in harmony, and a deep and earnest interest in the truth is manifested.

Since my last report the Church, by the kindness of a family of the Parish, has been presented with a fine bell and a beautiful Communion Service.

A new belfry has been erected on the edifice, and other important work done, incurring considerable outlay.

This is a Mission Station, not organized as a Parish. Services and Sunday-Schools are maintained in four places, requiring a considerable amount of physical labor. The Missionary holds all the services of the Church at the Chapel of the House of the Good Shepherd, and also visits one or two outlying stations on each Sunday. Two Methodist congregations have requested to be taken under our care. To one of them I have given a bi-monthly Sunday afternoon, and to the other several evening services.

Besides the above mentioned, a Sunday-School is held in the woods, with felled trees for seats. It numbers sixty, of whom at a recent visitation I baptized seventeen, and as many more are awaiting baptism at my next visitation. We hope to have a log cabin covered in for the winter sessions. Many of the members of this School come barefooted, and in the most primitive garments. Mrs. Carey is devotedly visiting and instructing the poor mountain people. Two men could find plenty of work in this Mission, but thus far we lack funds to support one. Were it not for gifts gratefully acknowledged from personal friends, supplementing the $200 from the Missionary Committee, your one Missionary would have to abandon the field. The House of the Good Shepherd feeds, clothes and schools fifty orphan and destitute children, and, being without funds, depends on the gifts of the charitable for support.

When the Chapel Fund amounts to $5,000, the Church will be built and finished by special contract for that amount; about $1,800 have been contributed for this purpose.

The above report is for the past ten months. The Rector feels that although much has been done, not one-half has been done that ought to have been. My Parish covers nearly 500,000 acres, and a population of nearly 35,000 souls. I hold services monthly and semi-monthly, in seven places. There ought to be services in twenty. One man cannot begin to do the work. The only way to accomplish any thing here is to establish a Clergy House in Monticello, and go out to every hamlet in the County. I have appealed to the Church at large for help, and not in vain. A house has been offered. A school for boys has been started. Lay Readers are being trained. Three boys are looking forward to the sacred ministry. We are bound to do something. We cannot sit still and see souls lost. Will not every one who reads these lines think of and pray for a lonely priest in the most desolate region of the Diocese of New-York?

Besides the before mentioned, several services have been held during the Conventional year at Narrowsburg. The number of these services would have been increased but for the closing up of the only available building for repairs. At Long Eddy the services have been resumed, which for a period were necessarily suspended on account of comparative ill health, seemingly caused by over-exertion in walking, in order to meet appointments during the heat of the summer of 1877. Were the Missionary provided with a good horse, other and more remote points might be reached, which, with the present means of locomotion, are all but impossible. As a Missionary point, Callicoon Depot is situated in a corner of the Diocese, bordering on the respective Dioceses of Albany and Central Pennsylvania. The work at Callicoon is in a very satisfactory condition.

The improvements in the interior of the Church, which were in progress at the date of my last report, have been completed at the individual charge of Gen. Daniel Butterfield, as a memorial of his deceased wife and only child. The improvements include the embellishment of the walls in polychrome with appropriate devices and Scripture texts, new windows of stained glass, open seats, reredos, font, communion table, reading desk, pulpit and Chancel rail, all in native woods, together with furnace appliances for heating the Church.

Supplementary of the above, a few ladies of the congregation have furnished the Church and Chancel anew with carpets, hangings for the desk, pulpit and Communion table, candelabra, etc.

Thus our sanctuary of extreme plainness has been transformed into "a thing of beauty."

The general condition of the Parish remains as formerly reported, mainly composed of summer residents. The Church is closed from November till June, and such services as are rendered in the interim are held in my library, the attendance being very limited.

A new tin roof has been put on over the whole Church. A new tin roof and other repairs were executed on the Rectory. These repairs cost $848 36. The Church was also completely carpeted by one of the Parishioners, (whose name is not divulged,) as a gift to the Parish, at a cost of $271 15. These items are all included under the head of "Parish purposes."

Fifty prayer-books were given by the Bible and Common Prayer-Book Society for use in the Church, for which that most useful Society has our hearty thanks.

The Parish seems to be prospering nicely, both spiritually and financially. The people all give to the Church generously, according to their means, and thus we have been enabled to keep out of debt, pay our running expenses, and fulfil the hope expressed in my last report in regard to Canonical offerings. The Mission at Whiteport, west of the Parish, shows much activity, and the attendance upon and interest in the services are steadily increasing. Much of this is due to the untiring and self-denying exertions of Mr. Edward Doremus, of that place, in whom the Rector and the Church have an able supporter.

We are building a handsome Chapel in the northeast of the Parish, about $800 of the necessary expense having been already raised, through the faithful efforts of Mrs. Boyd and her son, of New-York, aided by Mr. Charles O. Livingston, of Charlie's Hope-on-Hudson. The remainder is promised, and we think all will be completed before January. We are stronger numerically, and, I think, spiritually, than we were last year at this time, and all things point, with God's blessing, to our making even better progress in the future.

The Church property is in good repair. The Church services have been well attended, and the people have shown a readiness to give, according to their ability. Ladies of the Parish met at the Rectory during the winter, and made garments for the inmates of St. Mary's Free Hospital in New-York. One of the most valuable of our members met a class of young people at her own house for instruction in Church History. Since Easter I have held an afternoon service in All Saints' Church, Milton. The membership there is small, but the few who are there prize the Church's heavenly ways, her sweet communion, solemn vows, her hymns of love and praise.

Soon after the coming of the present incumbent a Sunday-School was established, and during the past year a small increase has been observed in the number of those attending Divine worship.

The Church grounds have also been improved, and, through the liberality of two members of the Vestry, a shed has been erected for the convenience of those who are obliged to drive to Church. There is no debt upon the Parish, and there are some signs of more religious interest among those who live in its vicinity.

This Church has been greatly blessed during the past year. God's spirit has been poured upon His people. The results are, a large increase in the number of Communicants, a still larger number looking to the Communion of those confirmed, an increased attendance upon all the services and the congregation on the Lord's Day nearly doubled in size. In the midst of this encouraging state of things the Church building was discovered to be so decayed that it was dangerous to worship in it. The Rector, Vestry and congregation rose at once to meet the emergency. With united efforts, aided by kind and generous friends of Christ Church, Pelham, and St. Peter's Church, Westchester, we have now a better edifice than before. The Church has been furnished with new carpets and lamps, also a handsome pipe organ, the generous gift of Mr. William Belden, who, in addition, contributed a new set of hymnals and music books, and aided very largely in paying for the repairs on the Church.

The prospects of the Mission are more encouraging than they have been for the last three years; there appears among the members more interest than has been previously taken. We have to mourn the loss of one devoted friend; but what has been our loss has been her eternal gain.

The Sunday-School is well attended, the children are very regular in their attendance, and the teachers earnest and devoted. We have reason to thank God and take courage.

This Chapel is entirely free; no pews let. I wish to have it distinctly understood that the Missionary receives no aid or stipend from any Missionary organization whatever.

A debt of $3,000 burdens the Parish, requiring the utmost exertion upon the few earnest devoted workers to meet the interest, to which all the collection of funds in the Parish is appropriated.

I assumed charge of St. Mark's Church Nov. 21, 1878—the congregation very small and Church under enormous debt. We have just paid off our mortgage, with accumulated interest, amounting to $16,761; also had presented to us a claim against the Church, consisting of a note and mortgage of one thousand dollars with interest, all amounting to eighteen thousand dollars.

OTHER CLERICAL REPORTS.

THE Bishop of the Diocese has also received Reports, according to the Canon, from the following Clergymen of the Diocese, not having Parochial or Missionary charge:

The Rev. SAMUEL M. AKERLY, residing at Newburgh, N. Y., reports as follows:

During the past year I have had no official connection with any Parish, but have performed the services at St. Mark's Church, Carthage Landing, Dutchess County, since Palm-Sunday, during the ill health of the Rector, the Rev. Dr. F. W. Shelton, besides officiating previously to that date in other places. I have preached in all 33 times, and assisted at 13 additional services.

The Rev. CLARENCE BUEL reports as follows:

That, on the first of October, 1878, he commenced doing Pastoral duty in St. Mary's Church, Beechwood, town of Scarborough and County of Westchester, and that he has continued to discharge such duty until the present time.

The services have been as follows: on Sundays, morning and afternoon, with a sermon at each; also on Wednesdays and Fridays during Lent. Services have also been held on Thanksgiving Day, Ash-Wednesday, Good Friday and Ascension Day. The Holy Communion has been celebrated on the first Sunday in each month, and also on the greater festivals. A Sunday-School has been maintained during the whole of the period embraced in this report.

I have baptized two infants. Eleven candidates have been presented for confirmation. One marriage has been solemnized, and I have attended one funeral.

Collections have been taken up for all the objects required by Canon, and also for other Church purposes.

My period of duty in St. Mary's will terminate on the 30th of September, 1879.

The Rev. SAMUEL BUEL, D. D., Professor of Systematic Divinity and Dogmatic Theology in the General Theological Seminary, respectfully reports as follows:

That, during the past year he has discharged the duties of his Professorship in the General Theological Seminary, acting as Dean of the Seminary during the absence of the Bishop of Springfield in his Diocese; has usually officiated on Sundays in the Church of the Annunciation, as well as performed services in other Churches; has preached at different times, and administered the Communion to the sick, as he was called upon to perform this office.

The Rev. C. P. A. BURNETT reports as follows:

Until Easter Monday, 1879, I continued to perform duty as Diocesan Missionary in Highland and Clintondale, Ulster County, N. Y. While occupied in that capacity I preached, with few exceptions, twice every Sunday, and on one occasion, in absence of the Priest at Highland, performed a clinic baptism. I removed to New-York City in Easter week, but provided for clerical services in Highland and Clintondale until May 4th, inclusive.

Since the first Sunday after Easter I have been working in the German Mission of the St. John Baptist Foundation, in this City, under the Rev. Dr. Houghton, Warden. During that time have preached twenty-three sermons, and since my ordination to the priesthood, (on Trinity Sunday,) have celebrated the Holy Eucharist ninety-one (91) times; have baptized thirty-seven (37) persons, (2 adults, 35 infants,) of which three were conditional; have buried two persons.

The Rev. WILLIAM HENRY CAPERS reports:

That, during the past year, he has ministered as Pastor at St. John Land.

The Rev. EDWARD COWLEY reports as follows:

During the past Convention year I have devoted myself to the management of the Shepherd's Fold, with its school and its daily service for children. Of these I have baptized nine, (9,) who are elsewhere reported. I have officiated and preached in several Parishes; have disbursed in charity to children some $1,200, not otherwise reported, and have admitted 32 new children to the House of the Shepherd's Fold, making about sixty supported during the year.

It is not perhaps too much to say, that I have been enabled to restore this Institution, founded by me in 1863, to its former place among the active and useful charities of the Church in New-York, and that it seems to have before it an interesting and prosperous future. Thirty-five children are supported in its home.

The Rev. WILLIAM E. EIGENBRODT, D. D., Professor of Pastoral Theology in the General Theological Seminary, respectfully reports:

That, besides the regular discharge of his duties in the General Theological Seminary, he has continually officiated in various Parish Churches: by saying prayers, preaching, baptizing, performing the marriage and the burial offices, and administering the Holy Communion.

The Rev. J. C. FLEISCHHACKER reports as follows:

Having worked since May, 1878, at which date my official connection with St. George's Parish ceased as a Minister among the Germans, and since the 1st of June, 1879, as a Missionary of the Church Society for Promoting Christianity among the Jews, I take leave to send in my report of these combined works which I represent:

German services held during the months from April to October, 1878, 32; Average attendance of the same, 30; Communion celebrated three times, and numbers partaking of the same, 80; English services during October and November, 1878, 6.

Since December, 1878, having obtained, by the kindness of the Vestry of the Gustav Adolph Church, at Twenty-second-street, the use of their building for our services at 9 o'clock A. M., and 3½ o'clock P. M., we held services there 74 times; Celebrated Communion, 5 times; at which communicated 85 persons; Baptisms, since May, 1878, (ad. (Jews,) 4, inf. 100,) 104; Candidates for Confirmation, who were confirmed by Rt. Rev. Bishop H. Potter, D. D., at Calvary Chapel, June the 20th, 1879, 11; Marriages performed since May, 1878, 50; Funerals attended since May, 1878, 25.

The Rev. JOHN P. LUNDY, D. D., respectfully reports:

Celebrations of the Holy Eucharist, wholly or in part, 8. Sermons or addresses delivered, 31. Morning or evening prayer, read wholly or in part, 22 times. One visitation of the sick. Assisted in the Consecration service of the Church of St. Luke the Beloved Physician, Saranac Lake, Franklin County, New-York, July 10, 1879. Assisted at two burials.

The Rev. HENRY W. NANCREDE reports as follows:

As Chaplain of St. John Baptist Home, I would beg leave to report, that during the past year I have celebrated the Holy Communion 2'5 times, have baptized 62 infants or children and 1 adult—22 of these being conditional baptisms—and have delivered 117 sermons or addresses.

The Rev. CHARLES J. PALMER respectfully reports:

That, since his connection with the Diocese this spring, he has officiated a portion of the time as Assistant in St. Michael's Parish, New-York City, and afterwards in various places as occasion arose.

The Rev. NEWTON PERKINS respectfully reports:

That he resigned the charge of Emmanuel Church, in Islip, in the Diocese of Long Island, in November, 1878, and from that date until the first of July, 1879, he was Assistant Minister in St. Ann's Church, Brooklyn, L. I. His official acts are incorporated in the Parish records of that Church. On Trinity Sunday he was advanced to the Priesthood in the Church of the Transfiguration, and since July has been Assistant in St. George's Parish, New-York City, and Pastor of the Chapel of Free Grace.

The Rev. JOSEPH H. PRICE, D. D., respectfully reports:

That, including the Holy Communion as a distinct service, he has officiated at ninety-nine services. He has preached at eleven of these services. He has officiated at seven funerals. He has attended many meetings of Church Societies.

This year is marked by one, to him, solemn event. He has completed fifty years of his ministry. The treasure is as highly valued as ever, and the earthliness of the vessel as deeply lamented.

Another event recorded is, that for the first time in forty years he has been laid upon a bed of sickness, and thus deprived, for a while, of the privilege of public worship. It is good to be afflicted.

The Rev. JOHN J. ROBERTS, D. D., reports:

That, since the meeting of the last Convention, in addition to his professional duties at 148 Madison Avenue, and his duties as President of "The Society for the Destitute Blind," 219 West 14th-street, he has officiated on about fifty (50) occasions in the Dioceses of New-York and Long Island. He has also frequently administered Holy Communion, and baptized and buried several persons.

The Rev. J. RICE TAYLOR reports as follows:

That my engagement for a year as Minister of the Chapel of Free Grace, and Assistant of St. George's Parish, New-York, terminated on the first of May last, while I continued my services at the Chapel until the 12th of July. The results of my untiring labors in the Mission work of the Chapel, in the way of baptisms, confirmations, marriages, burials, &c., will doubtless be embodied in the general report of St. George's Church.

On the 12th of July I started, in accordance with previous arrangements, on a visit to Europe, returning on the 14th of the present month. I read service once and preached once on the outward voyage, and have assisted in one service since my return.

The Rev. A. C. TREADWAY, residing at Oswego, New-York, reports as follows:

As heretofore, so during the past year, being unable by reason of my age and increasing infirmities to hold a Parish, I have only been able to perform occasional services as the wants of my brethren in the ministry here, in Oswego, and in Washington City, where I spend my winters, have called for. I would gladly have it otherwise, but such it is by God's ordering, and I am submissive to His holy will and pleasure, till by the greatest of His mercies I may find a place at His feet in Paradise.

The Rev. BENJAMIN WEBB respectfully reports:

That, while continuing to perform his duties in connection with All Angel's Church and school, he has rendered a number of services elsewhere, having celebrated the Holy Eucharist one hundred and twenty-seven (127) times in the year just past, and in the year preceding, one hundred and four (104) times.

The Rev. C. T. WOODRUFF, Superintendent of the New-York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society, respectfully reports:

That, in addition to his duties as Superintendent, he has continued to fill the position of Chaplain of the Midnight Mission, 260 Greene-street, and also of the Infant Asylum, corner of Sixty-first-street and Tenth Avenue.

In the Midnight Mission he has officiated on 118 occasions; joined one couple in Holy matrimony; baptized 3 adults; admitted 10 to the Holy Communion; celebrated Holy Communion 18 times, and attended two funerals.

In the Infant Asylum he has officiated on 20 occasions; joined one couple in Holy matrimony; baptized 36 children, and attended four funerals.

Aside from these institutions, he has joined six couples in Holy matrimony; baptized 9 children; preached 66 times for his brethren; celebrated and assisted at the Holy Communion 19 times, and attended nine funerals.

Summary.—Marriages, 7. Baptisms, 48. New Communicants: admitted, 10. Celebrations of the Holy Communion, 37. Burials, 15. Preached 146 sermons, and delivered 45 addresses.

His office is at 306 Mulbery-street, New-York City.

NOTE.—In some instances, contributions sent to the Treasurer immediately after the Convention of 1878, but before the preparation of the Table for 1878–79, being included in that year's Table, are not repeated in the Table which is above. The fact of the contribution will, in such case, appear by reference to such items in the Parochial Reports of this Journal in 1879. In this Table appear some contributions handed to the Treasurer since their official Reports to the Convention. This will account for any seeming discrepancy in a few instances between this Table and Parochial Reports.

* This includes the apportionment for the Salary of the Bishop.

No. IV.

NOTE.—According to a Resolution recorded on page 94 of the Journal of 1866, there is included in the following List of Churches of this Diocese the date of the admission into its Convention of such Churches as are in union with the same. It is to be observed, that such date is not always that of the origin or incorporation of the Parish.

A. Of these Parishes, some existed under Royal Charter, or otherwise, prior to the first Convention of the Diocese in 1785. This class is denoted by the letter A, placed after the date of admission into union.

B. A few others seem to have been admitted by the Conventions, in which they respectively appeared for the first time by their delegates, although mention of the admission seems to have been omitted by the Journal. Such are designated by the letter B.

C. The few, incorporated under the law of April 13, 1854, are marked by the letter C.

There being no reports from 23 living and working Churches, including some of the largest on the List of this Diocese, these statistics do not present a complete view of the Diocese in these respects during the past year.

Difference in the dates of making the calculations severally will account for any discrepancy between the foregoing statement of the Contributions and those given in the preceding Table.

Some reports were also received after the printing of the statistics given by the Bishop in his address, and hence the statistics in this Table include from those reports numbers which may not precisely agree with those given in the address.

The Societies, which are incorporated under the General Act of 1848, are indicated by the words "Gen. Act," and the year when the Certificate of Incorporation was filed. I.

Institutions working within the Diocese of New-York.

The Bishop of the Diocese says:

"I do consider that our first and chief duty is to support "Church work and Church institutions within our own eccle- "siastical borders, and that for plain reasons—for reasons "analogous to the reasons which bind us to the making pro" vision for our own families before we go abroad to meet ex" terior calls upon our bounty. A feeble Diocese may hope for " assistance from abroad, and should receive it; but a Diocese

" like New-York will be expected to draw supplies for all the " needs of her Church work from her own resources.

" First, I place the *Missions of the Diocese. The usual " number of Missionaries employed in the Diocese is a little over " thirty. Each one is supported in part, and as far as they are " able, by the people to whom he ministers. They are not able " to provide the whole of the very moderate sum which he re" quires for his support. The remainder is supplied from the " Mission Fund of the Diocese—from one hundred and fifty to " three or four hundred dollars per annum, according to the " necessities of each case. And thus, for a gross sum of only
" some seven or eight thousand dollars, the ministrations of the " Church are maintained in upward of thirty localities, where,
" without such special aid from without, they could not exist.
" I may mention one case of a remote rural Parish, in which " upward of forty persons received the holy rite of Confirma" tion during the past year. Think of all that such a result im" plied—the amount of religious influence and instruction with " the young; filling a young life with blessing, and giving light
" and strength and health to all its future years. Think of the " ministrations to the sick and dying; think of the brightness
" and peace carried to many a dwelling which before had known
" only gloom and trouble; and let the Christian people of this " Diocese say whether they would like to hear of all those " blessings having been withdrawn, and that broad community
" left sitting in gloom and spiritual destitution for the lack of
" only the two hundred dollars which served to keep the Chris" tian Minister in his place. And the same question is applica" ble to each one of the more than thirty places in the Diocese,
" where a little help from the Mission Fund of the Diocese,
" added to the offerings of the people, enables the Minister of " Christ to remain and do his work. It is a kind of work which " makes little noise, but it is fruitful in blessings for time and
" for eternity beyond any estimate which is now in our power.

* The legal corporate title of the Board in charge of these Missions is "The Missionary Committee of the Diocese of New-York." (For it, see No. 1, p. 196.)

"The aggregate of good secured to the Diocese, secured to the "souls within its limits, from that central fund is something "which we can fully comprehend only in the light of another "and a better world.

"Does it sometimes happen to you, then, dear Brethren, that "you wish to make a thank-offering for a signal blessing you "have received from God? Make a donation to the Missionary "Fund of the Diocese. When you wish to do something useful "as a servant of God, as a member of Christ's Church, do that "which will contribute to aid His Ministers in their work, and "tend to diffuse blessings among your fellow-men. Are you "making your last will and testament? Leave a bequest to "the fund I have so much spoken of, and it may prove a "fountain of blessings which will send its streams far and wide, "and far down through coming years.

"I mention in the second place, as eminently deserving our "sympathy and support, the Fund for the Relief of the Aged "*and Infirm Clergy. The rule of the Diocese requires us to "make at least an annual contribution to that invaluable fund. "Few Clergymen in this country can hope to lay up any thing "from their salaries for the comfort of their old age, if they live "to see it, or for the comfort of their families after their death. "Here is another case for bequests. When a thoughtful Christian "man is making a final disposition of the goods which God "hath given him, it must be a comfort for him to add something "to a fund which is to endure age after age, ministering to the "relief of aged Ministers of Christ, who have worn themselves "out in faithful endeavors for the good of their fellow-men.

"I need hardly say that I am very far from wishing to recom-"mend that a parent, among the last acts of his life, should de-"prive his family of a needed provision in order to bestow his "property upon some exterior object, however meritorious that "object may be. There is a proportion in the obligations at-"taching to the different duties of life; and the funds I have "been pleading for may be abundantly sustained through be-"quests that interfere with no pressing private claims. I place,

* The legal corporate title of the Board in charge of this Fund is "The Trustees of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New-York." (For it, see p. 196, No. 2.)

" then, the Fund for the Relief of Aged and Infirm Clergymen " next after the Mission Fund of the Diocese in the list of ob- " jects entitled to our special sympathy and support."
